MIGHTY YALE FALLS.

Princeton Gives a Grand Surprise on Manhattan Field.

In a Well-Fought Football Contest at Cambridge.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.-Princeton's tiger is loose in the streets of New York. His claws are uncut, for yesterday on Manhattan field, in the presence of 40,000 spectators, Princeton defeated Yale by a score of 6 to 0 in the great Thanksgiving foot-

The gates at Manhattan field were thrown open at 11 o'clock, and by 11:30 several hundred persons were upon the grounds. An hour later people simply poured through the different entrances in solid, unbroken streams.

Nearly 30,000 gained entrance, paying about $40,000 for the privilege. Yale filled her section of the grand stand, and there was a liberal Yale overflow scattered about in the different stands, but the friends of the Tigers outnumbered them. The Columbia boys, who were numerous, were cheering for Princeton. Twelve thousand spectators saw the game from a bluff outside of the grounds, and the iron viaduct along One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street was black with people, so that altogether 50,000 persons viewed the game.

The Points. There was not a lover of good football on the side lines or in the audience that did not rejoice in the demonstration of the fact that the day of the long pass and the clever double pass has not yet gone by.

The features of the game were the brill-iant runs made by Princeton upon King's double pass and his long throw to the end and Ward's running at and over the tackle. The latter was, of course, productive of more repeated gains, because it could be played oftener, but the length of gain upon the other plays were such as to insure their being more thoroughly believed in, and such plays make football more attractive in every way to player and spectator alike.

One other feature that should be set by he side of these plays as a gain for the sport was the punting. Both sides did some excellent punting, well judged and well placed, but the longest and best was one of Butterworth's in the second half, when, standing behind his own goal line, with Princeton crowding Yale down to the last ditch, he drove the ball over King's head from the middle of the field. It was a splendid punt and came to his

It was a great game, and Yale had to take her medicine. The play was clean throughout, and Princeton put up a magnificent game, both in offense and defense. The Yale team was forced early in the play, and before the first half was over it was easy to see that there was more dash and snap in Princeton than in the Yale men, no matter how hard they set their The largest stock, comprising all the standard men, no matter teeth and tried.

Butterworth struck the line as of old, but the Princeton tacklers and fielders fought their way into the mass and against him with such force and strength that his gains were not frequent.

kind of work. The hero of the hour is Charlie Brewer, the crimson full-back. His playing was phenomenal and in general he did the best work on the Harvard side.

Brewer was hurt and finally had to lay

Every one saw it, and the crowds on the grand stands immediately began to hiss, but Captain Waters, out of respect for the visiting players, asked the people to stop. "V" Wedge Must Go. The game was made up entirely of kicks and good straight plays. Harvard only tried once the fancy side wedge which she sent bucking against Yale so often. Usually she sent her men for Newton and Reese, who offered the weakest spot. The Quakers used their own peculiar style of interference, but it was easily broken up. Both sides used the flying wedge to put the ball in play. The gains made by these were a feature of the game. This "De-land" wedge evidently has killed the old-

Then Reese was hurt and Wharton put in. Charlie Brewer now fell out of the lists and Gray was put in only to give way to Gonterman. A Woman Terribly Burned and Given No Relief.

NEW MILFORD, Conn., Dec. 1 .- A horrible discovery was made in a farmhouse six miles above here by the neighbors of Michael Hennessey, an old farmer, who has long been known as a quarrelsome fellow. Celebrate Thanksgiving Day In a Fitting Manner.

AMERICA HIGHLY PRAISED

By Mr. Runyon, Our Ambassador to Germany.

BERLIN, Dec. 1 .-- The large hall of the Kaiserhof was profusely decorated with flowers and plants, intermixed with American flags and other decorations, for the Thanksgiving banquet last night. Most prominent and most attractive of all the decorations was a handsome bust of Washington.

The hall was brilliantly illuminated. About 230 Americans sat down to the din-ner. Rev. Dr. Hachberg of Ohio, who preached in the American church here during the morning, said grace, after which the Americans enjoyed a feast of American turkey, American cranberries American sweet potatoes, etc., all ordered from the United States especially for this occasion. Between the courses American and college songs were sung and chorused with the utmost heartiness.

The United States ambassador, Hon. Theodore Bunyon, who, upon rising, was greeted with prolonged cheering, proposed the health of Emperor William, which proposition was followed by the German national anthem, played by the band in attendance. Mr. Bunyon referred to the friendly feeling granted him.

"These words had been preceded by deeds, and the participation of Europe in the World's fair was largely influenced by the lead taken by Germany on this greatest work of the century. Germany herself followed the wishes expressed often and strongly by the emperor."

The ambassador also dwelt upon the earnest efforts of the emperor to do all in the power of the government to help the working people, and in his endeavor to preserve peace. The toast was drunk with enthusiasm.

Praise For American Institutions. The ambassador then toasted the president. In the course of his remarks Mr.

"While we are thankful for our in numerable other blessings for our country and its unparalleled opportunities, we m be especially thankful for the blessing of good government, whereby not only is our ational honor upheld, but our equa rights as individuals, before the law, are maintained and the peaceful enjoyment of the produce of labor and enterprise is asscious in a room in the house without any sured to every man. The Thanksgiving Entertainment of Clan

Clan McGregor, O. S. C., was held Wednesday evening at Hancock hall and in spite of the cry of hard times every seat in the hall for the concert was taken.

The entertainment provided was by the Amateur Dramatic club of the clan who presented the musical drama, "Guy Mannering or the Gypsy's prophecy." The several characters in the drama were well sustained by James Marr, William Elrick, Peter Kerr, John Ross, Robert McKean, George Bownan, William Dickie Francis Morrison, Alex. D. Booth, Willie G. Esson, James Grant, James Copland, Miss Hattie Birnie, Miss Henrietta Esson, Miss B. Potterfield, Mrs. Lilly N. Ross, Miss Mabel Ellis and Miss Belle Smith.

Each of these took their several parts in a creditable manner, and it would be doing an injustice to say that one excelled the other, but the character of Meg Merrilies should receive special mention as it was

The stage was under the management of Mr. Robert Findlay and to him much of the success of the entertainment is due. At the close of the entertainment the floor was cleared of its seats and shortly before 11 o'clock the Merry Mount orchestra gave the signal for the march and circle which was to beg.n the ball. Once in motion the enjoyment was not been taken.

During intermission refreshments wer served in the lower hall.

Also to vote "Yes" or "No" in answer to the question, "Shall Licenses be granted for the sale of intovicating liquous in this city?"

Also to vote "Yes" or "No" in answer to the question, "Shall Chapter 401 of the Acts of the General Court of 1891 be accepted?" Said Act is as follows:

[CHAP. 401.]

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE CITY OF QUINCY TO INTRODUCE A PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The city of Quincy, for the purpose of supplying the said city and the inhabitants thereof with pure water for the extinguishment of fires and for domestic and other purposes, after the purchase of the franchise, corporate property, rights and privileges of the Quincy Water Company, as provided in section nine of chapter one hundred and sixty-two of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-three, may take, hold and convey into and through said city, the waters of Blue Hill river and of the tributaries thereof, excepting Braintree great pond and Houghton's pond in the town of Milton, at any point or points in said city of Quincy and the towns of Braintree, Randolph and Milton, with any water rights connected therewith, and may also take and hold by purchase or otherwise any land, rights of way, easements and real estate necessary for laying, constructing and maintaining pipes, aqueducts, water-courses, reservoirs, storage basins, dams, filter galleries and such other works as may be deemed necessary for collecting, purifying, storing, retaining, discharging, conducting and distributing said waters, or for preserving the purity of said waters, provided, however, that any lands taken for preserving the purity of said waters or water supply shall not be more than one thousand feet distant from the same.

Section 2. Said city shall, within sixty days after taking any lands, rights of way,

SECTION 2. Said city shall, within sixty days after taking any lands, rights of way water rights, water sources or easements aforesaid, otherwise than by purchase, for the purposes of this act, file and cause to be recorded in the registry of deeds for the county of Norfolk a description thereof sufficiently accurate for identification, with a statement of the purposes for which the same were taken, which statement shall be signed by

SECTION 3. Said city, for the purposes aforesaid, may construct aqueducts and main

Section 3. Said city, for the purposes aforesaid, may construct aqueducts and maintain the same; may construct and maintain dams, reservoirs, storage basins, filter galleries and other proper works; may erect buildings and machinery; may make and establish such public fountains and hydrants as may from time to time be deemed proper, and may change or discontinue the same; may regulate the use of water, and establish the rates to be paid therefor and collect the same by process of law. Said city may also, for the purposes aforesaid, carry any pipe, drain or aqueduct over or under any river, water-course, street, railroad, public way, highway or other way, in such manner as not unnecessarily to obstruct the same, and may enter upon and dig up such road, street or way for the purpose of laying down, maintaining or repairing any pipe, drain or aqueduct, and may do any other thing necessary and proper in executing the purposes of this act.

Section 4. If said city enters upon and digs up, for the purposes aforesaid, or by reason of anything authorized by this act injures any road, street or way which is outside the limits of said city, it shall be subject to such reasonable regulations as may be prescribed by the Selectmen of the town in which such road, street or way is located, and shall restore the same to as good order and condition as it was in when such digging commenced, or before such injury occurred; and shall forever maintain all railings which may be necessary on account of any alteration required to be made in the grade of any portion of any street by reason of anything done under the authority of this act; and the work shall be done and all repairs be made in such manner and with such care as not to render any road, street or way in which such pipes are laid, unsafe or unnecessarily inconvenient to the public travel thereon. Said city shall at all times indemnify and save harmless any such town which is liable to keep in repair any road, street or way aforesaid, against all damages and costs which may b or suit for such damages or injury and an opportunity to assume the defence thereof.

Section 5. Said city shall be liable to pay all damages sustained by any persons or corporations by the taking of or injury to any of their land, water, water rights, rights of way, easements or property, or by the constructing or repairing of any acqueduct, reservoir or other works for the purposes aforesaid. If any person sustaining damages as aforesaid does not agree with said city upon the amount of said damages he may within two years from such taking, and not afterwards, apply by petition for an assessment of the damages to the superior court in the county of Norfolk. Such petition may be filed in the clerk's office of said court in vacation or at any sitting, and the clerk shall thereupon issue a summons to the said city, returnable, if issued in vacation, at the next sitting of the court to be held after the expiration of fourteen days from the filing of the petition, and if at any sitting, returnable on such day as the court shall order, to appear and answer to the petition. The summons shall be served fourteen days at least before the sitting or day at which it is returnable, by leaving a copy thereof and of the petition, certified by the officer who serves the same, with the clerk of said city; and the court may, upon default or hearing given to said city, appoint three disinterested persons who shall after reasonable notice to the parties, assess the damages, if any, which such petitioner may have sustained as aforesaid; and the award of the a ties, assess the damages, if any, which such petitioner may have sustained as aforesaid; and the award of the persons so appointed, or a major part of them, being returned into and accepted by the court, shall be final and judgment shall be rendered and execution issued thereon for the prevailing party with costs, unless one of the parties claims a trial by jury as hereinefter provided.

Section 6. If either of the parties mentioned in the preceding section is dissatisfied with the amount of damages awarded as therein expressed, such party may at the sitting at with the amount of damages awarded as therein expressed, such party may at the sitting at which such award was accepted or the next sitting thereafter, claim in writing a trial in said court, and have a jury to hear and determine at the bar of said court all questions of fact relating to such damages, and to assess the amount thereof: and the verdict of the jury being accepted and recorded by the court, shall be final and conclusive, and judgment shall be rendered and execution issued thereon, and costs shail be recovered by the parties, respectively, in the same manner as is provided by law in regard to proceedings relating to the laying out of highways. the laying out of highways.

SECTION 7. No application shall be made to the court for the assessment of damages for the taking of any water rights, or for any injury thereto, until the water is actually withdrawn or diverted by said city under the authority of this act.

Section 8. In every case of a petition to the superior court for an assessment of damage, as provided in this act, the city may tender to the complainant or his attorney any sum, or may bring the same into court to be paid to the complainant for the damages by him sustained or claimed in his petition, or may in writing offer to be defaulted, and that damages may be awarded against it for the sum therein expressed, and if the complainant does not accept such sum with his costs up to that time, but proceeds in his suit, he shall be entitled to his costs up to the time of the tender of such payment into court or offer of award, and not afterwards, unless the complainant recovers greater damages than were s

Section 9. For the purpose of defraying the cost of such property, land, easements, water and water rights as may be purchased, taken or held for the purposes aforesaid, and of constructing the works authorized by this act, and paying all expenses incident thereto, the city of Quincy shall have the authority to issue notes, scrip or bonds, to be dominated on the face thereof Quincy Public Water Supply Loan, to an amount not exceeding four hundred thousand dollars, bearing in terest not exceeding five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, the principal to be payable at periods of not more than thirty years from the issuing of such notes, script or bonds respectively. Said city may sell the same, or any part thereof, from time to time, or pledge the same for any money borrowed for the above purposes; but the same shall not be sold or pledged for less than the par value thereof. Said city shall pay the interest as it accrues on said loan, and shall establish a sinking fund and shall contribute thereto annually a sum sufficient with its accumulations to pay the principal of said loan at maturity; and said sinking fund shall remain sacred and inviolate and pledged to the payment of said principal and shall be used for no other purpose. The provisions of sections ten and eleven of cha per twenty-nine of the Public Statutes shall so far as applicable apply to said sinking fund. as applicable apply to said sinking fund.

Section 10. The said city of Qui ncy instead of establishing a sinking fund may at the time of authorizing said loan provide for the payment thereof in such annual proportionate payments as will extinguish the same within the time prescribed in this act; and when such vote has been passed by the cit y council and approved by the mayor of said city, the amount required thereby shall without further vote be assessed by the assometric said city in each year thereafter, until the debt incurred by said loan shall be extinguished, in the same manner as other taxes are asses ssed under the provisions of section thirty-four of the public statutes. of chapter eleven of the Public Statutes.

Section 11. A board consisting of three commissioners, who shall be citizen's of said Section 11. A board consisting of three commissioners, who shall be citizens of said city, shall be appointed by the mayor, as soon as practicable after this act shall have been accepted by the citizens of said city as hereina fter provided; they shall hold their offices respectively until the expiration of one, two and three years from the first Monday of February next preceding their appointment and until their respective successors have been appointed and qualified, unless they shall been resign or be removed for cause as hereinafter provided; and thereafter in January in each succeeding municipal year one person shall be so appointed a member of said board, who shall hold office for three years from the first Monday of the February next ensuing and until his successor has been appointed and qualified, unless his duties are sooner term inated as hereinafter provided. Appointments to fill vacancies which may occur by deat h, resignation or otherwise shall be made without delay by the mayor, and he may remove any water commissioner from office for the causes and in the manner provided in section to tenty-seven of chapter three hundred forty-seven of the acts of the year eighteen hundred, and eighty-eight. Said commissioners shall have such office room and clerical assistance and shall receive such compensation as the city council from time to time may determine.

Section 12. The said commission ers shall superintend and direct the construction,

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys

llount's Course Is Declared to Be Un patriotic and Un-American and Doubts Expressed as to His Ability to Perform the Task Which Was Assigned Him-The Hawaiian Struggle Is Between Men of Intelligence and Morality and Men of Decidedly Opposite Character-Blount's Report Declared to Be Untruthful and Partial Throughout.

Boston, Dec. 1.-In a voluminous article ex-Minister Stevens replies to ex-Commissioner Blount relative to Hawaiian affairs. In this answer Mr. Stevens says

"A deep sense of obligation to my coun try and an American's duty to defend an insulted, threatened and struggling American colony, planted as righteously and firmly on the North Pacific isles as our Pilgrim Fathers established themselves on Plymouth Rock, demand that I shall make an answer to the astounding mis-representations and untruths of Commis-sioner Blount's report on Liauvaiian affairs. "So much as a necessary introduction to my consideration of Blount's report. Not wishing to be severe on a peoplyte in wishing to be severe on a neophyte in diplomacy, with little knowledge of the world's affairs outside of his own country sent on a very peculiar errand amid cur-rents and quicksands entirely unknown to him, he has been partly the victim of cir curnstances, having been caught in the meshes and snares adroitly prepared for him by the cunning advisers of the fallen Liliuokalani, and by the shrewd, sharp, long-experienced British diplomatic agent, whose aims and hopes Blount has served so well, and without the least suspicion that he was aiding ultra-British interests, even more than he was helping the Hawaiian monarchists and the justly de throned queen.

Charges Baseless and Unjust. "The charges, implications and insinua tions of Commissioner Blount against President Dole, Minister Thurston, and the other chief men of the provisional government, are as baseless and unjust as those against myself and Captain Wiltse, now sleeping in his honored grave. "But it is well for me to be more specific in meeting our opponent's recklessly par-tisan and ex-parte statements and arguments. Under the date of April 21 he says he disapproved of a request of the pro-visional government that the American forces be landed for drill. "I here affirm that the provisional gov-ernment never made such a request. The provisional government followed the exact course followed under the monarchy. Whenever the naval commander desired to drill his men on shore, in accordance with naval regulations, he so signified to the United States minister, who made the equest of the Hawaiian government through the minister of foreign affairs. "What Blount says about the Japanes man-of-war is equally ex-parte, absurd and egotistic." Mr. Stevens here states at length that he expressed to the Japanese Boston Branch commissioner the opinion that the United States would resist any encroachment on the soil or sovereignty of Hawaii, and that he (Mr. Stevens) would maintain that position until otherwise instructed by his

"In Blount's report, as given to the press, I find the following language: 'The two leading members of the committee, Messrs. Thurston and Smith, growing uneasy as to the safety of their persons, went to Minister Stevens to know if he would protect them in the event of their arrest by the authorities, to which he gave his

"It is enough to say that there is not a emblance of truth in this assertion of Blount, made by him without his ever having hinted it to me or made any inquiry of me on the subject.

"He says the response to the call of the committee of safety to land the men of the Boston does not appear in the files and the legation. The meaning of this insinuation is obvious. Enough to say, there never was any such document.

Treated Both Sides the Same

"Blount squarely asserts that I promised to aid the committee of safety by force. This is emphatically and categorically untrue. In reply to rival parties at different times, whether the representatives of the queen or her opponents, my answer was always the same, that the force would not land until danger should be plainly imminent, and then only to protect American life and property.
"One of the most striking evidences of Blount's prejudices, ex-parte and unwarranted statements, is the following: 'A meeting of the committee of safety was held that night, Jan. 16, at the house of Henry Waterhouse, next door to Minister Stevens' house, determined on the dethronement of the queen, and selected offi-

"Of this meeting at the house of Henry Waterhouse, specified by Blount, I had no hint or knowledge at the time it was held, knew not of who m the meeting was composed, nor what was its action, and my first information as to the persons assembled at that meeting I obtain from Blount's report."

A Few More Points. Mr. Stevens then takes up the point that for three years prior to the queen's coup d'etat he had kept himself as became the United States minister conversant with the plans of the Hawaiian factions. He quotes in full the queen's official document sent him, which contained the assurance that the island constitution would be upheld. Mr Stevens lays stress on the fact that this message was not sent until 20 hours after the men from the Boston had landed, the implication being that the queen and her supporters did not consider him or Commander Wiltse responsible for their overthrow. The ex-minister then reviews in detail the correspondence between himself and Captain Wiltse relative to the landing of troops Jan. 16, and alludes to the matter of shore quarters for the detachment substantially as has been published. "Touching a copy of the call of the com-

Mr. Stevens then considers the individual affidavits from Honolulu residents, reflecting upon the official bearing in the Hawalian matter, and leaves their authors in no very flattering light after he has gotten through with them. In brief, he alleges that they are all corruptionists and in full sympathy with the royalist move-ment, whereby an impartial rendering of facts is manifestly impossible. In this A Broad Distinction

"The testimony of handreds of such men quoted by Blount would not counterbalance the words of Minister Thurston, President Dole and Henry Waterhouse, among honest men who know the respec-tive parties. The New Tariff Bill Is Sure to

VOTE OF THE POPULISTS

Is Counted Upon In Aid of the Democrats.

Protests From Coal, Iron Ore and Wool Districts Are Coming In, but the Ways Driven From Their Purpose-Some Sento Satisfy Their Constituents, but Will Eventually Fall In Line and Vote For the Measure-Administration Influence Exerted In Its Favor.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.-The unfavorable omments on the tariff revision bill rather increases among conservative Democrats. The Republican opposition is natural. One of these Democrats in his criticism said that it was remarkable to him that a bill to provide needed revenue should make a reduction of $50,000,000 at a time when there already existed in the treasury a deficit of $50,000,000.

president and the secretary of the treasury may recommend to meet this exigency has not been disclosed; but it is very certain that a revenue bill such as has just been prepared is not calculated to swell the revenues of the government while it is

It is admitted in treasury circles that the proposed reduction of duties will have a depressing influence upon importations, and that, until a bill finally fixing the rates of duties shall have passed, there will be a decrease in customs receipts.

The duties during the past three months have shown the effects of the agitation of this question. They have fallen to but little over one-half what they should be.
The Democratic members of the commit tee are already hearing from the d stricts where the raw materials placed on the free list-chiefly coal, iron ore and wool-are produced. One of the Democratic leaders n West Virgin'a and another in Alabama informed a member of the committee that if coal and iron ore were retained on the free list it would destroy those important ustries in those states. The member of the committee repli d that he did not believe anything of the sort; that all the talk of destroying industries was nonsense, and the committee did not intend to be driven from their purpose by that sort of

Its Prospects. There has been much speculation as to what action the senate will be likely to take on the bill when it reaches that body. The belief has been general that the sen-ators from Maryland, West Virginia, Louisia a and in one or two other localities where these industries are important, would antagonize this free raw material feature of the bill and vote with the Republicans to defeat it. A prominent Democrat, who claims to have cavas ed this subject, says that it will be found, when the critical test comes on the passage of the bill in the senate, that these senators will stand in line for the bill. The measure was planned by the administration, was prepared under its personal supervision, and its passage will be de manded by the same influ nees. The sena-tors from the states where these industries are most important are champions of the president and his secretary of the treasury, and stood by them throughout that long and stubborn controversy on the silver

It is not considered probable that these enators will abandon the administration simply because there are certain industries in which their states are interested placed at a disadvantage by the new measure. They will make a show of opposition in debate, and thus endeavor to parry the hostility of the people of their states and their industries. Almost Sure of Passing. It is doubtful, however, whether the bill, as the Republicans are three short of their full strength on account of vacancies, their full strenges on account of vacancies, which would give the Populist senttors a controlling vote. The latter have declared their purpose to wipe out every vestige of protection in any form, and are particularly beautiful to the McViples bill particularly hostile to the McKinley bill. If the opponents of this bill are relying upon the senate to save them from its full force they may find themselves leaning upon a broken reed. The president and members of the administration have already commenced to exert themselves in behalf of the bill.

They are taking every opportunity to sound the Democratic senators and representatives upon their attitude on this farther time. The labor of estimating the revenue that would be derived under the new tariff bill is very great, but it has progressed far enough to warrant the statement that on the basis of the imports of 1892 the loss of Wenne raculting from the enactment of the new bil and the repeal of the Mc-Kinley has would be about $60,000,000 per

Of course this esti : ate is on the supposition that the imports under the new bill would be no greater than under the present law, a supposition which the Demo-erats by no means considered. It is the estimate of Chairman Wil-on and his Democratic associates that the loss of revenue, despite the radical rejuction of duties, will not be over $35,000,000. This deficit it is now proposed to make up by a tax on the incomes of co porations, a tax on successions, and by increasing the tax on cigarets, and perhaps whisky.

Said Act is as follows:

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE CITY OF QUINCY TO INTRODUCE A PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY. Be it enacted, etc., as follows

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The city of Quincy, for the purpose of supplying the said city and the inhabitants thereof with pure water for the extinguishment of fires and for domestic and other purposes, after the purchase of the franchise, corporate property, rights and privileges of the Quincy Water Company, as provided in section nine of chapter one hundred and sixty-two of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-thee, may take, hold and convey into and through said city, the waters of Blue Hill river and of the tributaries thereof, excepting Braintree great pond and Houghton's pond in the town of Milton, at any point or points in said city of Quincy and the towns of Braintree, Randolph and Milton, with any water rights connected therewith, and may also take and hold by purchase or otherwise any land, rights of way, easements and real estate necessary for laying, constructing and maintaining pipes, aqueducts, water-courses, reservoirs, storage basins, dams, filter galleries and such other works as may be deemed necessary for collecting, purifying, storing, retaining, discharging, conducting and distributing said waters, or for preserving the purity of said waters, provided, however, that any lands taken for preserving the purity of said waters or water supply shall not be more than one thousand feet distant from the same.

Section 2. Said city shall, within sixty days after taking any lands, rights of way,

Section 2. Said city shall, within sixty days after taking any lands, rights of way, water rights, water sources or easements aforesaid, otherwise than by purchase, for the purposes of this act, file and cause to be recorded in the registry of deeds for the county of Norfolk a description thereof sufficiently accurate for identification, with a statement of the purposes for which the same were taken, which statement shall be signed by the mayor.

Section 3. Said city, for the purposes aforesaid, may construct aqueducts and main tain the same; may construct and maintain dams, reservoirs, storage basins, filter gallerie tain the same; may construct and maintain dams, reservoirs, storage basins, filter galleries and other proper works; may erect buildings and machinery; may make and establish such public fountains and hydrants as may from time to time be deemed proper, and may change or discontinue the same; may regulate the use of water, and establish the rates to be paid therefor and collect the same by process of law. Said city may also, for the purposes aforesaid, carry any pipe, drain or aqueduct over or under any river, water-course, street, railroad, public way, highway or other way, in such manner as not unnecessarily to obstruct the same, and may enter upon and dig up such road, street or way for the purpose of laying down, maintaining or repairing any pipe, drain or aqueduct, and may do any other thing necessary and proper in executing the purposes of this act. any other thing necessary and proper in executing the purposes of this act.

Section 4. If said city enters upon and digs up, for the purposes aforesaid, or by reason of anything authorized by this act injures any road, street or way which is outside the limits of said city, it shall be subject to such reasonable regulations as may be prescribed by the Selectmen of the town in which such road, street or way is located, and shall restore the same to as good order and condition as it was in when such digging commenced, or before such injury occurred; and shall forever maintain all railings which may be necessary on account of any alteration required to be made in the grade of any portion of any street by reason of anything done under the authority of this act; and the work shall be done and all repairs be made in such manner and with such care as not to render any road, street or way in which such pipes are laid, unsafe or unnecessarily inconvenient to the public travel thereon. Said city shall at all times indemnify and save harmless any such town which is liable to keep in repair any road, street or way aforesaid, against all damages and costs which may be recovered against it, and shall reimburse to it all expense which it shall reasonably incur in the defence of suits or otherwise by reason of any defect or want of repair in such road, street or way, caused by the placing, maintenance, repairing or replacing of said pipes, or by reason of any injury to persons or property, caused by any or replacing of said pipes, or by reason of any injury to persons or property, caused by any defect or want of repair in any such pipes, provided that said city has notice of any claim or suit for such damages or injury and an opportunity to assume the defence thereof.

Section 5. Said city shall be liable to pay all damages sustained by any persons or corporations by the taking of or injury to any of their land, water, water rights, rights of way, easements or property, or by the constructing or repairing of any acqueduct, reservoir or other works for the purposes aforesaid. If any person sustaining damages as aforesaid does not agree with said city upon the amount of said damages he may within two years from such taking, and not afterwards, apply by petition for an assessment of the damages to the superior court in the county of Norfolk. Such petition may be filed in the clerk's office of said court in vacation or at any sitting, and the clerk shall thereupon issue a summons to the said city, returnable, if issued in vacation, at the next sitting of the court to be held after the expiration of fourteen days from the filing of the petition, and if at any sitmons to the said city, returnable, if issued in vacation, at the next sitting of the court to be held after the expiration of fourteen days from the filing of the petition, and if at any sitting, returnable on such day as the court shall order, to appear and answer to the petition. The summons shall be served fourteen days at least before the sitting or day at which it is returnable, by leaving a copy thereof and of the petition, certified by the officer who serves the same, with the clerk of said city; and the court may, upon default or hearing given to said city, appoint three disinterested persons who shall after reasonable notice to the parties, assess the damages, if any, which such petitioner may have sustained as aforesaid; and the award of the persons so appointed, or a major part of them, being returned into and accepted by the court, shall be final and judgment shall be rendered and execution issued thereon for the prevailing party with costs, unless one of the parties claims a trial by jury as hereinafter provided. jury as hereinafter provided.

Section 6. If either of the parties mentioned in the preceding section is dissatisfied with the amount of damages awarded as therein expressed, such party may at the sitting at which such award was accepted or the next sitting thereafter, claim in writing a trial in said court, and have a jury to hear and determine at the bar of said court all questions of fact relating to such damages, and to assess the amount thereof: and the verdict of the jury being accepted and recorded by the court, shall be final and conclusive, and judgment shall be rendered and execution issued thereon, and costs shall be recovered by the parties, respectively, in the same manner as is provided by law in regard to proceedings relating to the laying out of highways. the laying out of highways.

Section 7. No application shall be made to the court for the assessment of damages for the taking of any water rights, or for any injury thereto, until the water is actually withdrawn or diverted by said city under the authority of this act.

Section 8. In every case of a petition to the superior court for an assessment of damage, as provided in this act, the city may tender to the complainant or his attorney any sum, or may bring the same into court to be paid to the complainant for the damages by him sustained or claimed in his petition, or may in writing offer to be defaulted, and that damages may be awarded against it for the sum therein expressed, and if the complainant does not accept such sum with his costs up to that time, but proceeds in his suit, he shall be entitled to his costs up to the time of the tender of such payment into court or offer of award and not afterwards unless the complainant recovers greater damages than were so award, and not afterwards, unless the complainant recovers greater damages than were s

Section 9. For the purpose of defraying the cost of such property, land, easements, water and water rights as may be purchased, taken or held for the purposes aforesaid, and of constructing the works authorized by this act, and paying all expenses incident thereto, the city of Quincy shall have the authority to issue notes, scrip or bonds, to be dominated on the face thereof Quincy Public Water Supply Loan, to an amount not exceeding four hundred thousand dollars, bearing interest not exceeding five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, the principal to be payable at periods of not more than thirty years from the issuing of such notes, script or bonds respectively. Said city may sell the same, or any part thereof, from time to time, or pledge the same for any money borrowed for the above purposes; but the same shall not be sold or pledged for less than the par value thereof. Said city shall pay the interest as it accrues on said loan, and shall establish a sinking fund and shall contribute thereto annually a sum sufficient with its accumulations to pay the principal of said loan at maturity; and said sinking fund shall remain sacred and inviolate and pledged to the payment of said principal and shall be used for no other purpose. The provisions of sections ten and eleven of chaper twenty-nine of the Public Statutes shall so far as applicable apply to said sinking fund.

Section 10. The said city of Quincy instead of establishing a sinking fund may at the time of authorizing said loan provide for the payment thereof in such annual proportionate payments as will extinguish the same within the time prescribed in this act; and when such vote has been passed by the city council and approved by the mayor of said city, the amount required thereby shall without further vote be assessed by the assessors of said city in each year thereafter, until the debt incurred by said loan shall be extinguished, in the same manner as other taxes are assessed under the provisions of section thirty-four of chapter eleven of the Public Statutes. of chapter eleven of the Public Statutes.

of chapter eleven of the Public Statutes.

Section 11. A board consisting of three commissioners, who shall be citizens of said ty, shall be appointed by the mayor, as soon as practicable after this act shall have been accepted by the citizens of said city as hereinafter provided; they shall hold their offices respectively until the expiration of one, two and three years from the first Monday of February next preceding their appointment and until their respective successors have been appointed and qualified, unless they shall sooner resign or be removed for cause as hereinafter provided; and thereafter in January in each succeeding municipal year one person shall be so appointed a member of said board, who shall hold office for three years from the first Monday of the February next ensuing and until his successor has been appointed and qualified, unless his duties are sooner terminated as hereinafter provided. Appointments to fill vacancies which may occur by death, resignation or otherwise shall be made without delay by the mayor, and he may remove any water commissioner from office for the causes and in the manner provided in section twenty-seven of chapter three hundred forty-seven of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-eight. Said commissioners shall have such office room and clerical assistance and shall receive such compensation as the city council from time to time may determine.

Section 12. The said commissioners shall superintend and direct the construction,

Section 12. The said commissioners shall superintend and direct the construction, execution and performance of all the works, matters and things mentioned in the preceding sections. They shall be subject to such ordinances, rules and regulations in the execution of such duties as the city council may from time to time ordain and establish, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act and the laws of this Commonwealth: provided, however, that whenever a system of water works under the provisions of this act shall be substantially completed and put in successful operation, said commissioners, upon written request of the mayor, shall transfer the same to the commissioners of public works of said city, and thereupon the powers of said board of water commissioners shall cease and all of its powers shall be vested in and all of its duties imposed upon said commissioner of public works. Said water commissioners shall make all contracts for the above purposes in the name and behalf of the city, but no contract shall be made by them which involves the expenditure of money not already appropriated for the purpose by the city council of said expenditure of money not already appropriated for the purpose by the city council of said Quincy. A majority of said commissioners shall be a quorum for the exercise of the powers and the performance of the duties of the commission.

SECTION 13. The occupant of any tenement shall be liable for the payment of the rent for the use of the water in such tenement, and the owner shall also be liable, in case of non-payment by the occupant, for all sums due for the use of water under this act, to be collected in an action of contract in the name of the city of Quincy.

Section 14. Whoever wantonly or maliciously diverts the water, or any part thereof, taken or held by said city pursuant to the provisions of this act, or corrupts the same, or renders it impure, or destroys or injures any dam, aqueduct, pipe, conduit, hydrant, machinery, or other works or property held, owned, or used by said city under the authority and for the purposes of this act, shall forfeit and pay to said city three times the amount of the damages assessed therefor to be recovered in an action of tort; and on conviction of either of the wanton or malicious acts aforesaid, may also be punished by fine not exceeding three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year in the house of

Section 15. So much of chapter three hundred and forty-seven of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-eight and acts in amendment thereof as is inconsistent with the provisions of this act is hereby repealed.

SECTION 16. This act shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the city of Quincy for its acceptance, and shall be void unless such voters, voting in their respective wards or precincts, at a legal meeting called by order of the City Council in the same manner as meetings for municipal elections are called, shall within three years from the passage of this act determine by ballot by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting to accept the acceptance to the legal voters of said city shall take effect upon its passage, but it shall not take further effect unless and until accepted, so herein before provided, by the qualified voters of said city, and the number of meetings called for the purpose of its acceptance shall not exceed three in any one year - [Approved June 11, 1891.

REFORMERS

Think the New Bill Is About the Right Thing.

SPEECH BY MR. HARTER

In Which He Predicts Prosperity For Manufacturers.

Boston, Dec. 2.-The New England Tariff Reform league had its monthly dinner at the United States hotel last evening. Fully 200 members were present. After the elaborate menu provided for the occasion had been disposed of and cigars had been reached, President Pierce congratulated the league upon the brigh outlook for tariff reform promised by the Wilson bill, and introduced the principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Michael D. Harter of Ohio.

After some introductory words, used to express his feeling that "the present situation" was one of hopefulness and promise, Mr. Harter said in part: Harter's Address.

"The situation requires of us unswerv ing support of tariff reform. The condition of the agricultural class, making up as it does 40 per cent of our population and furnishing the basis of all our prosperity, is as bad, yes, worse than it was in "The great consuming masses, who may be said to embrace the entire nation, were never in more need of relief than now. Labor, in all our history, has never been so poorly provided with employment, while manufacturers, having outgrown the conditions placed upon our shops and factories, have reached a point where without substantial reductions in tariff taxation, profitable continuance of operation by many is impossible.

"From every side comes the call to con gress for relief through reduced taxation. This call is louder and in tones more elo quent and commanding than ever before. The monopolist press cries to us, and the high tariff leaders demand of us that we allow the existing high taxes to remain. Suppose we heed this demand, in what way is prosperity to flow upon and among the manufacturing industries of the coun

"Can they not see that under our present system of taxation our power to produce is far greater than our ability to consume, and that a continuance of our presen policy means stagnation and starvation? Do they not understand that by a wise revision and reduction of the tariff nearly all our industries can be promptly placed upon their feet? New Tariff Defended.

"They ought to see clearly that a reduction in the raw materials of the factory will result in an enlarged demand for its goods, because of the lower price it can afford to sell them at, and that this demand will come not only from our own people, but from abroad. The man who cannot see this is blind, indeed.
"Take up the government's report of our exports for the past eight months, and you will read there that we have been able to export nearly all classes of manufac tured goods; goods of which the raw material was iron, steel, cotton, lumber, cop-per, paper and even wool. "Such goods we have shipped abroad by the millions. In this fact we ought to read the very plain lesson that the tariff bill which the present congress will pass will give to American manufacturers such prosperity, such an increase in trade, such an enlargement in profits as to throw into the shade any apparent prosperity which we have been acquainted with in recent years. Why, then, this howl and opposi-

"Protection a Curse." "I believe so-called protection has always been a curse to our people and a weight upon our manufacturers, but even those who disagree with me in this will find it impossible to deny that for many years, at least, protection has simply operated to give to Europe and to protect her in the possession of vast markets which other-wise would have been controlled by American manufacturers. With the passage of the ways and means bill all this will be changed, and the American manufacturer and his employes will come to their own. "The two things which make up the cost of a manufactured article are, first, material, and, second, labor. After the passage of the ways and means bill the American manufacturer will have his material as cheap, or cheaper, than his foreign competitor. He already has, as you have seen (measured by its productiveness), the lowest cost labor in the world. "Now, unless you credit the American manufacturer with less capacity than his foreign competitor possesses, we can see that, after the bill becomes law, the prosperity of the American manufacturer will eclipse that of any other manufacturer in the world, and his productions will girdle the earth and fill its mar s. You w Il then find goods made in American fac tories by American workmen on all the shelves and in every great warehouse on the globe.

A Rap at McKinley. "It is said that a man is rash who makes predictions, but I am quite willing to assume the risk, and tonight, when my good friend, Governor McKinley, is dismally foretelling ruin and croaking about the future, I dec'are it to be my convic ion that every effect and result of the reduction of tariff taxation now about to be made will prove advantageous to the country, and that these advantages will be so conspicuous that from this time on the demand will not be for the restoration of high taxes, but that congress will be urged o make more reductions in number and larger ones in amount."

Resolutions were adopted declaring that the New England Tariff Reform league approved of the tariff bill prepared by the ways and means committee of the national house of representatives as a decided step in advance in the direction of freer trade, and, to that extent, embodying the princi-ples which the league was organized to

Hon. John E. Russell made a short speech comparing the tariffs of '42, '46, '57, '60 with that of the present, giving personal recollections of each, and pointing out the fact that up to 1860 the manufac-turing interests of New England were wholly in favor of a low tariff.

The Tariff Promises to Be the Most Interesting Feature of the Session-Debate Not Expected to End Until Late In January-The Hawaiian Matter May Cut an Important Figure-Blair Likely to Have a New Free Coinage Scheme For Consideration - Chinese Question and Other Interesting Items Will Be

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 .- A great crowd asembled at the Capitol today to witness the opening of the houses of congress. The scene on the floor of the house was very mimated. Many of the desks were decorated with floral offerings. Members who and not seen each each other since the adjournment exchanged salutations, and ongratulations and condolences, particularly the latter, were the order of the day. It was a cheerful assemblage, and while members indulged in pleasantries toward the defeated, no bad temper was displayed.

On the senate side more than a quorum of senators were present, and the scenes incident to the assembling of congress were enacted accordingly. After the rollcall in the house, members-elect were Extra Session Bills Alive.

Legislation does not die with a session as nominations do, so that all the bills incroduced at the extra session are still alive, and all those reported from commitees are pending before the two houses. The bankruptcy bill has the right of way the house, followed by the naturalizaion bill, but both are likely to be side racked for the sariff bill, although the friends of the bankruptcy bill are still hopeful that they may get it through the house before the tar if bill is taken up. All sensible men in the silver ranks recognize the fact that the free coinage measure cannot become a law as long as Mr. Cleveland is in the White House unless they can command a two-thirds majority in each house, and this is admitted to be out of the coverling. to be out of the question.

The bill making more stringent the naturalization laws, which were discussed three days during the extra session, is also pending and is considered among the measures that will surely pass both

Although the extra session succeeded in getting the Chinese question out of the way for six months at least, by extending the period of registration for that length of time, it, too, promises to bob up again. It is broadly hinted that the Chinese do not intend to register now any more than before the extension of the law. The fail ure of the Chinese to register is attributed to the fact that they have been informed either by the Chinese minister or by the Chinese Six companies or by somebody else in whom they have confidence ignore the law under which they can legally remain within the limits of the United States.

Our Foreign Relations. While our foreign relations have not at all imes during the past year been entirely free from perplex ty. no embarrassing situation remains that will not yield to the spirit of airness and love of justice, which, joined with consistent firmness, characterize a truly American foreign policy.

My predecessor, having accepted the office of arbitrator of the long standing missions the insurrection. The convention between our governmen and Chili, having for its object the settlement and adjustment of the demands of the two countries against each other, has been ma effective by the organization of the claim commission provided for. The two govern as provided in the treaty, and the selection of the Swiss representative in this country t complete the organization, was gratifyin

The vexatious question of so-called legation asylum for offenders against the state and its laws was presented anew in Chili by the unauthorized action of the late United States ainister in receiving into his official residence two persons who had just failed in an attempt at revolution and against whom crimina charges were pending, growing out of a former abortive disturbance.

The doctrine of asylum as applied to thi has not been finally settled, it is the opinion of members of the committee that a tax on the net receipts of corporations, an the representatives of this government be per mitted under the ill-defined fiction-of extra territoriality to interrupt the administration of the outcome.

The world's fair award bill, which passed The World's fair award bill, which passed both houses in the closing hours of the session, but which was not signed either by Speaker Crisp or Vice President Stevenson, can become a law as soon as it receives their signatures and the presidential approval.

In addition to the tariff, many other matters will crowd forward at the earliest possible moment for consideration. Chairman Springer of the bauking and currency committee has under consideration a bill to repeal the 10 per cent on state banks and revise the national banking system. He has not yet worked out all of the details, but he and his friends seek to find some other basis of bank circulation than national bonds.

State, county and municipal bonds will be missionaries at Sung-Pu. This question is of vital interest to all countries whose citizens engage in missionary work in the interior. Extradition.

Costa Rica has lately testified its friendlicurrency. The bill will probably be introduced at an early date.

years ago. years ago.
Our relations with the French republic continue to be intimate and cordial. I sincerely hope that the extradition treaty with that country, as amended by the senate, will soon be operative.

While occasional questions affecting our paturalized citizens returning to the land of their birth have arisen in our intercourse with Germany, our relations with that country continue satisfactory.

Friendly With Great Britain. The questions affecting our relations with Great Britain have been treated in a spirit of friendliness. Negotiations are in progress be-tween the two governments with a view to such concurrent action as will make the award and regulations agreed upon by the Behring sea tribunal of arbitration practically effective, and it is not doubted that Great Britain will co-operate freely with this country for the accomplishment of that purpose.

Redress Was Prompt. Redress Was Prompt.

Upon receiving authentic information of the firing upon an American mail steamer touching at Amapala, because her captain refused to deliver up a passenger in transit from Nicaragua to Guatemala upon demand of the military authorities of Honduras, our minister to that country under instructions protested against the wanton act and demanded Satisfaceon. The government of Honduras Satisfaction. The government of Honduras, actuated by a sense of justice and in a spirit of friendship, disavowed the illegal conduct of the officers and expressed sincere regret for the occurrence.

It is confidently anticipated that a satisfactory adjustment will soon be reached of the a westions arising out of the seizure and use of American vessels by insurgents in Honduras and the subsequent denial by the successful government of commercial privileges to those vessels on that account.

Liberia.

A notable part of the southeasterly coast of Liberia, between the Cavally and San Pedro rivers, which for nearly half a century has been generally recognized as belonging to that republic by cession and purchase, has been claimed to be under the protectorate of France in virtue of agreements entered into by the native tribes over whom Liberia's control has not been well maintained. More recently, negotiations between the Liberian rep resentative and the French government resulted in the signature at Paris of a treaty whereby as an adjustment certain Liberian territory is ceded to France. This convention, at last advices, had not been ratified by the Liberian legislature and executive.

Feeling a sympathetic interest in the fortunes of the little commonwealth, the establishment and development of which were

The Samoan Squabble. Led by a desire to compass differences and contribute to the restoration of order in Samoa, which for some years previous had been the scene of conflicting foreign preten-sions and native strife, the United States, departing from its policy consecrated by a century of observance, entered four years ago into the treaty of Berlin, thereby becoming jointly bound with England and Germany to establish and maintain Malistoa as king of Samoa. The treaty provided for a foreign court of justice, a municipal council for the district of Apia, with a foreign president thereof, authorized to advise the king; a tri-

Early in the life of this triple protectorate, the native dissensions it was designed to quell revived. Rivals defied the authority of the new king, refusing to pay taxes and demanding the election of a ruler by native suffrage. Ma taafa, an aspirant to the throne, and a large number of his rative adherents, were in open rebellion on one of the islands. Quite lately, arrived the threatened conflict was precipitated by King Malietoa's attack upon the insurgent camp. Mataafa was defeated and a number of his men killed. The British and German naval vessels present subsequently secured the surrender of Mataafa and his adherent. Whe defeated, chief and 10 of his herents. The defeated chief and 10 of his principal supporters were deported to a Ger-man island of the Marshall group, where they are held as prisoners under the joint responsi-bility and cost of the three powers. This incident and the events leading up to it signally illustrates the impolicy of entangling alliances with foreign powers.

Spain Is Friendly. More than 15 years ago this government preferred a claim against Spain in behalf of one of our citizens, for property seized and confiscated in Cuba. In 1886 the claim was adjusted, Spain agreeing to pay, unconditionally, as a fair indemnity, $1,500,000. A respectful but earnest note was recently addressed to the Spanish government, insisting upon prompt fulfillment of its long neglected obligation. adjusted, Spain agreeing to pay, unconditio

NO LICENSE RALLIES.

Meetings Held Sunday in all the Wards of the City.

The campaign against License has been fought very quietly this year, and many did not know that meetings were to be held, or when or where, as no newspaper notice was given. Of course the weather was also against a large attendance.

The mass meeting for men at 3 P. M. at the Presbyterian church was far from being a crowded house. It was presided over by Mr. O. C. Colton, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and was opened with a praise service which was led by T. D. Emery.

Mr. Colton spoke briefly urging the young men to vote "No" on the license question and get their friends to do the

Mr. Theophilus King was then introduced and spoke in his usual vigorous manner on the temperance question. Rev. Mr. Deetz who was announced to address the meeting was not present. The meeting Sunday evening at Faxon hall was largely attended, in spite of the weather, and the audience was a very enthusiastic one.

Councilman Charles H. Johnson presided and addressed the meeting briefly, afterwards introducing the several speakers who were William H. Fay, Edward South worth, T. H. Wason and Rev. H. Savory of Boston. 'There was general singing by the audience.

Even if the often disproved assertion could be made good, that a lower rate of wages would result from free raw materials and low tariff duties, the intelligence of our working-men leads them quickly to discover that their steady employment, permitted by free raw materials, is the most important factor in their relation to tariff legislation.

A measure has been prepared by the congressional committee embodying tariff reform on the lines herein suggested, which will be promptly submitted for legislative action. It is the result of much patriotic and unselfish work, and I believe it deals with its subject consistently and as thoroughly as existing conditions permit.

I am satisfied that the reduced tariff duties provided for in the proposed legislation, added to existing internal revenue taxation, will, in the near future, though perhaps not immedi-ately, produce sufficient revenue to meet the needs of the government.

The committee, after full consideration, and to provide against a temporary deficiency which may exist before the business of the country adjusts itself to the new tariff sched ule, have wisely embraced in their plan a few additional internal revenue taxes, including a small tax upon incomes derived from certain corporate investments. These new assessments are not only abs

In my great desire for the success of this measure I cannot restrain the suggestion that its success can only be attained by means of unselfish counsel on the part of the friends of tariff reform and as a result of their willing-ness to subordinate personal desires and am-bitions to the general good.

The local interests affected by the proposed reform are so numerous and so varied that if all are insisted upon the legislation embody-ing the reform must inevitably fail.

In conclusion, my intense feeling of responsibility impels me to invoke for the manifold interests of a generous and confiding people the most scrupulous care, and to pledge my

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiv-ing the remedy to overcome existing dising the remedy to overcome existing dis-crepancies. Too great care cannot be exer-cised in choosing a competent and akilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appli-cation for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable in-stances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice appli-cable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Also to vote "Yes" or "No" in answer to the question, "Shall Licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this city?"

Also to vote "Yes" or "No" in answer to the question, "Shall Chapter 401 of the Acts of the General Court of 1891 be accepted?"

Said Act is as follows:

[CHAP. 401.]

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE CITY OF QUINCY TO INTRODUCE A PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY. Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The city of Quincy, for the purpose of supplying the said city and the inhabitants thereof with pure water for the extinguishment of fires and for domestic and other purposes, after the purchase of the franchise, corporate property, rights and privileges of the Quincy Water Company, as provided in section nine of chapter one hundred and sixty-two of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-thee, may take, hold and convey into and through said city, the waters of Blue Hill river and of the tributaries thereof, excepting Braintree great pond and Houghton's pond in the town of Milton, at any point or points in said city of Quincy and the towns of Braintree, Randolph and Milton, with any water rights connected therewith, and may also take and hold by purphase or otherwise any land, rights of way easements and real estate necessary for Milton, with any water rights connected therewith, and may also take and noted by purchase or otherwise any land, rights of way, easements and real estate necessary for laying, constructing and maintaining pipes, aqueducts, water-courses, reservoirs, storage basins, dams, filter galleries and such other works as may be deemed necessary for collecting, purifying, storing, retaining, discharging, conducting and distributing said waters, or for preserving the purity of said waters, provided, however, that any lands taken for preserving the purity of said waters or water supply shall not be more than one thousand feet distant from the same

Section 2. Said city shall, within sixty days after taking any lands, rights of way, water rights, water sources or easements aforesaid, otherwise than by purchase, for the purposes of this act, file and cause to be recorded in the registry of deeds for the county of Norfolk a description thereof sufficiently accurate for identification, with a statement of the purposes for which the same were taken, which statement shall be signed by the mayor.

Section 3. Said city, for the purposes aforesaid, may construct aqueducts and maintain the same; may construct and maintain dams, reservoirs, storage basins, filter galleries and other proper works; may erect buildings and machinery; may make and establish such public fountains and hydrants as may from time to time be deemed proper, and may change or discontinue the same; may regulate the use of water, and establish the rates to be paid therefor and collect the same by process of law. Said city may also, for the purposes aforesaid, carry any pipe, drain or aqueduct over or under any river, water-course, street, railroad, public way, highway or other way, in such manner as not unnecessarily to obstruct the same, and may enter upon and dig up such road, street or way for the purpose of laying down, maintaining or repairing any pipe, drain or aqueduct, and may do any other thing necessary and proper in executing the purposes of this act.

Section 4. If said city enters upon and digs up, for the purposes aforesaid, or by SECTION 3. Said city, for the purposes aforesaid, may construct aqueducts and main

Section 4. If said city enters upon and digs up, for the purposes aforesaid, or by reason of anything authorized by this act injures any road, street or way which is outside the limits of said city, it shall be subject to such reasonable regulations as may be prescribed by the Selectmen of the town in which such road, street or way is located, and shall restore the same to as good order and condition as it was in when such digging commenced, or before such injury occurred; and shall forever maintain all railings which may be necessary on account of any alteration required to be made in the grade of any portion of any street by reason of anything done under the authority of this act; and the work of any street by reason of anything done under the authority of this act; and the work shall be done and all repairs be made in such manner and with such care as not to render any road, street or way in which such pipes are laid, unsafe or unnecessarily inconvenient to the public travel thereon. Said city shall at all times indemnify and save harmless any such town which is liable to keep in repair any road, street or way aforesaid, against all damages and costs which may be recovered against it, and shall reimburse to it all expense which it shall reasonably incur in the defence of suits or otherwise by reason of any defect or want of repair in such road, street or way, caused by the placing, maintenance, repairing or replain of said pipes or by reason of any injury to persons or property, caused by any or replacing of said pipes, or by reason of any injury to persons or property, caused by any defect or want of repair in any such pipes, provided that said city has notice of any claim or suit for such damages or injury and an opportunity to assume the defence thereof.

SECTION 5. Said city shall be liable to pay all damages sustained by any persons of Section 5. Said city shall be liable to pay all damages sustained by any persons or corporations by the taking of or injury to any of their land, water, water rights, rights of way, easements or property, or by the constructing or repairing of any acqueduct, reservoir or other works for the purposes aforesaid. If any person sustaining damages as aforesaid does not agree with said city upon the amount of said damages he may within two years from such taking, and not afterwards, apply by petition for an assessment of the damages to the superior court in the county of Norfolk. Such petition may be filed in the clerk's office of said court in vacation or at any sitting, and the clerk shall thereupon issue a summons to the said city, returnable, if issued in vacation, at the next sitting of the court to be held after the expiration of fourteen days from the filing of the petition, and if at any sitting, returnable on such day as the court shall order, to appear and answer to the petition. The summons shall be served fourteen days at least before the sitting or day at which it is all he served fourteen days at least before the sitting or day at which it is returnable, by leaving a copy thereof and of the petition, certified by the officer who serves the same, with the clerk of said city; and the court may, upon default or hearing given to said city appoint three disinterested persons who shall after reasonable notice to the parties, assess the damages, if any, which such petitioner may have sustained as aforesaid; and the award of the persons so appointed, or a major part of them, being returned into and accepted by the court, shall be final and judgment shall be rendered and execution issued thereon for the previaling party with costs, unless one of the parties claims a trial by Section 6. If either of the parties mentioned in the preceding section is dissatisfied with the amount of damages awarded as therein expressed, such party may at the sitting at which such award was accepted or the next sitting thereafter, claim in writing a trial in said court, and have a jury to hear and determine at the bar of said court all questions of fact relating to such damages, and to assess the amount thereof: and the verdict of the jury being accepted and recorded by the court, shall be final and conclusive, and judgment shall be rendered and execution issued thereon, and costs shall be recovered by the parties, respectively, in the same manner as is provided by law in regard to proceedings relating to the laying out of highways.

Section 7. No application shall be made to the court for the assessment of damages for the taking of any water rights, or for any injury thereto, until the water is actually withdrawn or diverted by said city under the authority of this act.

Section 8. In every case of a petition to the superior court for an assessment of damage, as provided in this act, the city may tender to the complainant or his attorney any sum, or may bring the same into court to be paid to the complainant for the damages by him sustained or claimed in his petition, or may in writing offer to be defaulted, and that damages may be awarded against it for the sum therein expressed, and if the complainant does not accept such sum with his costs up to that time, but proceeds in his suit, he shall be entitled to his costs up to the time of the tender of such payment into court or offer of award, and not afterwards, unless the complainant recovers greater damages than were so

Section 9. For the purpose of defraying the cost of such property, land, easements. water and water rights as may be purchased, taken or held for the purposes aforesaid, and of constructing the works authorized by this act, and paying all expenses incident thereto, the city of Quincy shall have the authority to issue notes, scrip or bonds, to be dominated the city of Quincy shall have the authority to issue notes, scrip or bonds, to be dominated on the face thereof Quincy Public Water Supply Loan, to an amount not exceeding four hundred thousand dollars, bearing interest not exceeding five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, the principal to be payable at periods of not more than thirty years from the issuing of such notes, script or bonds respectively. Said city may sell the same, or any part thereof, from time to time, or pledge the same for any money borrowed for the above purposes; but the same shall not be sold or pledged for less than the par value thereof. Said city shall pay the interest as it accrues on said loan, and shall establish a sinking fund and shall contribute thereto annually a sum sufficient with its accumulations to pay the principal of said loan at maturity; and said sinking fund shall remain sacred and inviolate and cipal of said loan at maturity; and said sinking fund shall remain sacred and inviolate and pledged to the payment of said principal and shall be used for no other purpose. The provisions of sections ten and eleven of chaper twenty-nine of the Public Statutes shall so far as applicable apply to said sinking fund.

Section 10. The said city of Quincy instead of establishing a sinking fund may at the time of authorizing said loan provide for the payment thereof in such annual proportionate payments as will extinguish the same within the time prescribed in this act; and when such vote has been passed by the city council and approved by the mayor of said city, the amount required thereby shall without further vote be assessed by the assessors of said city in each year thereafter, until the debt incurred by said loan shall be extinguished, in the same manner as other taxes are assessed under the provisions of section thirty-four of chapter eleven of the Public Statutes.

of chapter eleven of the Public Statutes. SECTION 11. A board consisting of three commissioners, who shall be citizens of said ty, shall be appointed by the mayor, as soon as practicable after this act shall have been ty, shall be appointed by the mayor, as soon as practicable after this act shall have been accepted by the citizens of said city as hereinafter provided; they shall hold their offices respectively until the expiration of one, two and three years from the first Monday of February next preceding their appointment and until their respective successors have been appointed and qualified, unless they shall sooner resign or be removed for cause as hereinafter provided; and thereafter in January in each succeeding municipal year one person shall be so appointed a member of said board, who shall hold office for three years from the first Monday of the February next ensuing and until his successor has been appointed and qualified, unless his duties are sooner terminated as hereinafter provided. Appointments to fill vacancies which may occur by death, resignation or otherwise shall be made without delay by the mayor, and he may remove any water commissioner from office for the causes and in the manner provided in section twenty-seven of chapter three hundred forty-seven and in the manner provided in section twenty-seven of chapter three hundred forty-seven of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-eight. Said commissioners shall have such office room and clerical assistance and shall receive such compensation as the city council from time to time may determine.

Section 12. The said commissioners shall superintend and direct the construction, execution and performance of all the works, matters and things mentioned in the preceding sections. They shall be subject to such ordinances, rules and regulations in the execution of such duties as the city council may from time to time ordain and establish, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act and the laws of this Commonwealth: provided, however, that whenever a system of water works under the provisions of this act shall be substantially completed and until superception said completed and until superception said comparisons. tially completed and put in successful operation, said commissioners, upon written request of the mayor, shall transfer the same to the commissioners of public works of said city, and thereupon the powers of said board of water commissioners shall cease and all of its powers shall be vested in and all of its duties imposed upon said commissioner of public works. Said water commissioners shall make all contracts for the above purposes in the name and behalf of the city, but no contract shall be made by them which involves the expenditure of money not already appropriated for the purpose by the city council of said Quincy. A majority of said commissioners shall be a quorum for the exercise of the powers and the performance of the duties of the commission.

SECTION 13. The occupant of any tenement shall be liable for the payment of the rent for the use of the water in such tenement, and the owner shall also be liable, in case of non-payment by the occupant, for all sums due for the use of water under this act, to be collected in an action of contract in the name of the city of Quincy.

SECTION 14. Whoever wantonly or maliciously diverts the water, or any part thereof, taken or held by said city pursuant to the provisions of this act, or corrupts the same, or renders it impure, or destroys or injures any dam, aqueduct, pipe, conduit, hydrant, machinery, or other works or property held, owned, or used by said city under the authority and for the purposes of this act, shall forfeit and pay to said city three times the amount of the damages assessed therefor to be recovered in an action of tort; and on conviction of either of the wanton or malicious acts aforesaid, may also be punished by fine not exceeding three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year in the house of

SECTION 15. So much of chapter three hundred and forty-seven of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-eight and acts in amendment thereof as is inconsistent the provisions of this act is hereby repealed.

SECTION 16. This act shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the city of Quincy for its acceptance, and shall be void unless such voters, voting in their respective wards or precincts, at a legal meeting called by order of the City Council in the same manner as meetings for municipal elections are called, shall within three years from the passage of this act determine by ballot by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting to accept the Section 17. So much of this act as authorizes the submission of the question of its acceptance to the legal voters of said city shall take effect upon its passage, but it shall not take further effect unless and until accepted, as herein before provided, by the qualified voters of said city, and the number of meetings called for the purpose of its acceptance shall not exceed three in any one year — [Approved June 11, 1891.

Trouble With Turkey.

Important matters have demanded attention in our relations with the Ottoman Porte. The firing and partial destruction by an unre-strained mob of one of the school buildings of Anatolia college, established by citizens of the United States at Marsovan, and the apparent indifference of the Turkish government to the outrage, notwithstanding the complicity of some of its officials, called for earnest remonstrance, which was followed by promises of reparation and punishment of the of-

Indemnity for the injury to the buildings has already been paid, permission to rebuild given, registration of the school property in the name of the American owners secured, and efficient protection guaranteed. The Hawaiian Question,

It is hardly necessary for me to state that the questions arising from our relations with Hawaii have caused serious embarrassment. Just prior to the installation of the present administration the existing government had been suddenly overthrown.

A treaty of annexation had been negotiated between the provisional government of the islands and the United States and submitted to the senate for ratification. This treaty I withdrew for examination, and dispatched Hon. James H. Blount of Georgia to Honolulu as a special commissioner to make an impar-tial investigation of the circumstances attending the change of government and of all the nditions bearing upon the subject of the

After a thorough and exhaustive examination, Mr. Blount submitted to me his report, showing beyond all question that the constitutional government of Hawaii had been subverted with the active aid of our representative to that government and through the intimidation caused by the presence of an armed naval force of the United States, which was landed for that purpose at the instance of our minister. Upon the facts developed it seems to me the only honorable course for our government to pursue was to undue the wrong that had been done by those representing us, and to restore as far as practicable the status existing at the time of our forcible interven-

the Honolulus of the standard of t at Honolulu has received appropriate instructions to that end. Thus far no informa-tion of the accomplishment of any definite results have been received from him. Additional advices are soon expected. When received they will be promptly sent to the congress, together with all other information at hand, accompanied by a special executive message fully detailing all the facts necessary to a complete understanding of the case, and presenting a history of all the material events leading up to the present situation.

Arbitration Where Diplomacy Fails. By a concurrent resolution passed by the senate Feb. 14, 1890, and by the house on April 3 following, the president was requested 'to invite, from time to time, as fit occasions may arise, negotiations with any government with which the United States has or may have diplomatic relations, to the end that any differences or disputes arising between the two governments which cannot be adjusted by diplomatic agency may be referred to arbitration and be peaceably adjusted by such

Our Ambassador

Since the passage of the act of March 3, 1893, authorizing the president to raise the grade of our envoys to correspond with the rank in which foreign countries accredit their agents here, Great Britain, France Italy and Germany have conferred upon their representatives at this capital the title of ambassador, and I have responded by accrediting the agents of the United States in those countries with the same title.

A like elevation of mission is announced by Russia, and when made will be similarly met. This step fittingly comports with the

During my former administration I took occasion to recommend a recast of the laws re-lating to the consular service, in order that it might become a more efficient agency in the promotion of the interest it was intended to subserve. The duties and powers of gonsuls have been expanded with the growing require-ments of our foreign trade. Discharging important duties affecting our commerce and American citizens abroad, and in certain countries exercising judicial functions, these officers should be men of character, intelli-

The total tax collected on distilled spirits was $94,720,260.55. On manufactured tobacco $31,889,711.74, and on fermented liquors $32, 548.983.07. We exported merchandise d the year amounting to $847,665,194, a decrea of $182,612,954 from the preceding year. The amount of gold exported was larger than any previous year in the history of the government, amounting to $108,680,604, and exceed ing the amount exported during the pre-ceding year by $58,485,517. The sum paid from the treasury for sugar bounty was $9,-375,130.88, an increase over the preceding year of $2,033,053,19.

It is estimated upon the basis of present revenue laws that the receipts of the government for the year endig June 3, 1894, will be $430,121,365.38, and its expenditures $458,121,-365.38, resulting in a deficiency of $28,000,000. On the first day of November, 1893, the amount of money of all kinds in circulation, or not included in treasury holdings, was $1,718,544,682, an increase for the year of $112,404,947. Estimating our population at 60,426,000 at the time mentioned, the per capita circulation was $25.49. On the ame date there was in the treasury gold bullion amounting to $96,657,273 and silver bullion which was purchased at a cost of $126,231,553.

Dealings In Silver.

The purchases of silver under the law of chased from the time that law became opera-tive until the repeal of its purchasing clause on the first day of November, 1883, was 168,-674,590.46 fine ounces, which cost $155,930,940.94. Between March 1, 1873, and Nov. 1, 1893, the government purchased, under all laws, 503,003,-717 fine ounces of silver at a cost of $516,617,555. The silver dollars that have been coined under the act of July 14, 1890, number 36,087,285. The seigniorage arising from such coinage was tablishment. $6,977,098.39, leaving on hand in the mints 140,699,760 fine ounces of silver, which cost $126,758,218.

Repeal of the Sherman Law.

The recent repeal of the provision of law regarding the purchase of silver bullion by the government as a feature of our monetary schems has made an entire change in the complexion of our currency affairs, I do not doubt that the ultimate result of this action will be most salutary and far-reaching.

In the nature of things, however, it is impossible to know at this time precisely what conditions will be brought about by the change, or what, if any, supplementary legislation may, in the light of such conditions, appear to be essential or expedient. Of course, after the recent financial perturbation, time is necessary for the re-establishment of business confidence. When, however, through this restored confidence, the money which has been frightened into hoarding places is re-turned to trade and enterprise, a survey of the situation will probably disclose a safe path leading to a permanently sound currency, Government : o ds.

I desire also to earnestly suggest the wisdom of amending the existing statutes in regard to the issuance of government bonds. The authority now vested in the secretary of the treasury to issue bonds is not as clear as it should be, and the bonds authorized are disadvantageous to the government, both as the time of their maturity and rate of interest.

of contagious diseases. The admonition of the last two years touching our public health and the demonstrated danger of the introduc-tion of contagious diseases from foreign ports has invested the subject of national quarantine with increased interest. A more general and harmonious system than now exists, acting promptly and constantly operating by preventive means to shield our country from the invasion of disease, and at the same time having due regard to the rights and duties of local agencies, would, I believe, add greatly to the safety of

The work on the projected Chickamauga Revenue Figures.

The secretary of the treasury reports that the receipts of the government from all sources during the fiscal year ended June 20, 1893, amounted to $451, 716,531.94, and its expenditures to $459,374,674.20. I heartily join the attorney general in rec-ommending legislation fixing degrees of the crime of murder within federal jurisdiction, as has been done in many of the states; authorizing writs of error on behalf of the government in cases where final judgment is rendered against the sufficiency of an indict-dictment or against the government upon any other question arising before actual trial; limiting the r ght of review in cases of felony punishable only by fine and imprisonment to the circuit court of appeals, and making speedy provision for the construction of such prisons and reformatories as may be necessary for the confinement of United States convicts. The Postal Service.

The report of the postmaster general contains a detailed statement of the operations of the postoffice during the last fiscal year and much interesting information touching this important branch of the public service. The business of the mails indicates with absolute certainity the condition of the business of the country and depression in financial affairs inevitably and quickly reduces the postal reven-

At the same time, and under the influence of like antici-pations, estimates were made for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, which exhibited a surplus of revenue over expenditures of $872,245.71; but now, in view of the actual receipts and expenditures during that part of the current fiscal year already expired, the present postmaster general estimates that at its close, instead of a surplus, there will be a

the promptness of mail delivery at all offices, but it is the especial instrumentality which puts the smaller and way places in the service on an equality in that regard with the larger and terminal offices.

The Navy. Boston Store, 63 Pearl St.

The report of the secretary of the navy contains a history of the operations of his de partment during the past year, and exhibit most gratifying condition of the personnel of our navy. He presents a satisfactory account of the progress which has been made in the construction of vessels, and makes a number of recommendations to which attention is e pecially invited.

During the past six months the demands for ruising vessels have been many and argent. sels to protect American interests in Nicar sets to protect American interests in Nicar-agua, Guatemala, Costa Rica, Honduras, Ar-gentine and Brazil, while the condition of affairs in Honolulu has required the con-stant presence of one or more ships. has not been as rapid as was anticipated. There have been delays in the completion of inarmored vessels, but for the most part they have been such as as constantly occurring even in countries having the largest experience in naval shipbuilding. The most serious delays, however, have been in the work upon armored ships. The trouble has been the failure of contractors to deliver armor as agreed. The difficulties seem now, however, to have been all overcome, and armor is being delivered with satisfactory

While I am distinctly in favor of consistently pursuing the policy we have inaugurated of building up a thorough and efficient nav, I cannot refrain from the suggestion that the congress should earefully take into account the number of unfinished vessels on our hands and the depleted condition of our treasury in considering the propriety of an appropriation at this time to begin new work.

Pensions, The secretary of the interior has the super vision of so many important subjects that his report is of especial value and interest. On June 30, 1893, there were on the pension rolls 956,012 names, an increase of 89,914 over the number on the rolls June 30, 1892.
Of these there were 1; widows and daugh-

The number added to the rolls during the year was 123,634, and the number dropped was 23,69). The first payments on pensions allowed during the year amounted to $38,756,549,93. This includes arrears, or the accumulation between the time from which the allowance of pension dates and the time of ac-tually granting the certificate.

This has had the effect of limiting the operation of the law to its intended purpose.

I am unable to understand why frauds in the pension rolls should not be exposed and corrected with thoroughness and vigor. Every name fraudulently put upon these rolls is a wicked imposition upon the kindly sentiment in which pensions have their origin.

The sum expended on account of pensions for the year ending. June 30, 1893, was $156,740.

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney. With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys,

First Day's Session of the Senate Was a Busy One.

HOUSE WAS DISAPPOINTED

At Cleveland's Treatment of Hawaiian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.-The reading of the president's message was concluded at 3 o'clock, having occupied approximately one hour and a half in the senate.

Mr. Dolph (Rep., Or.) immediately crose and said there had been distributed in the senate printed copies of what purported to be the message of the president in which, on page 9, he found a part of a page devoted to Hawaii, and he did not ear that portion read from the desk. He desired to know, and thought the reached, the members crowded about the clerk's desk. The utterance relative to the duty of congress on the tariff question and the hearty indorsement given to the Wilson bill seemed to please the Democratic members greatly, but much surprise was evident when that section of the nessage was read stating that the ways and means committee had embraced in its plan several additional internal revenue taxes and a small tax on the incomes of certain corporations. As it was understood the internal rev enue features and the income tax had not been absolutely decided upon the president's announcement came in the nature of a surprise. A roar of applause greeted the conclusion of the reading of the mes-

He spoke feelingly of the de-ceased gentlemen and paid appropriate resolutions, which were passed. A committee was appointed to attend the funeral of Mr. Lilley, and at 3 p. m., as a further mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, the house adjourned.

Senate Was Busy. Quite a number of measures of import ance were introduced in the senate. One presented by Senator Platt establishes "A bureau of public health within the treasury department of the United States.' The bill provides that the states and terri tories shall be divided into nine districts to be known as "The sanitary districts of the United States." The bureau is to consist of a commission of 15. The commis-sion shall be made up as follows: One commissioner from each district, One commissioner from each district, two at large, the surgeon general of the navy, the surgeon general of the army, the supervising surgeon general of the marine hospital service and an officer learned in the law, detailed by the attorney general from the department of justice. The commissioners with the commissioners with the commissioners. tice. The commissioners, with the exception of the latter four, shall receive $10 per day for their services.

Senator Peffer presented a memorial and resolutions signed by Sarah E. V. Emery, national superintendent of the department of the Women's Christian Temperance association, asking that senators abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors during the present session. The resolution explains the necessity of clear minds in handling the many important subjects of legislation.

Senator Peffer introduced a bill which provides "That no person who was not born in the United States, or whose parents were not at the time of his or her citizen under and by virtue of the laws of found the load too heavy. the United States, shall be entitled to vote at any national or state election."

Numerous petitions were presented and many bills introduced and referred to appropriate committees. A joint resolution permitting Colonel Anson Mills, U. S. A., to serve as engineer on the commission to survey and fix the boundary between the

It is understood that this committe will be expected to take charge of all strictly party questions in the senate and to act in many respects as a steering com-mittee. The committee has not yet been chosen, but it is said that it will be named in a few days. Senator Sherman presided as chairman of the caucus, and Senator Dubois was elected secretary.

Reached No Agreement. The ways and means committee of the house of representatives yesterday dis-cussed in a general way the method of procedure upon the new tariff bill. The Republicans asked for time to look over the comparisons with the present law, and to offer amendments, or at least to see whether they will want to offer amend-ments or submit a general report against the bill. FRANCE'S POLICY.

Outline of Plans to Be Carried Out by the New Ministry.

PARIS, Dec. 5 .- M. Cassimir-Perier, in his announcement of the new ministry's policy, said that the government would consider the creation of a workman's provident fund, as well as other measures to regulate the relations between the state and the Banque de France. The government would undertake nothing which might tend towards the separation of thurch and state unless the country de manded it, and would reject all proposals for a revision of the constitution. The foreign policy of the government will be in harmony with the wishes of the nation, which was powerful enough to proclaim her sincere desire for peace and to defend her rights and the interests of her comnerce and industry.

The chamber of deputies, after a warm discussion of a motion for general amnesty, voted 257 to 225 against discussing the clauses of the motion. During the debate M. Crousset spoke warmly in favor of the exiled Boulangists. Many persons guiltier than they, he said, were now sitting in the house. He appealed to the government to forgive the miners and others who had been condemned during excitable strike periods.

M. Raynal, minister of the interior, spoke in opposition. The government, he said, had not come to pass a sponge over the crime of treason to the father-At this time M. Mery, socialist, sprang

He then added that as the char permitted him to make this explanation, he would withdraw the epithet "Miserable

HAS A BAD RECORD.

"Old Sport" Is Missing From Boston's Chinatown.

And a Charge of Murder Hangs Over Him.

BOSTON, Dec. 5.-Chin Ching, alias Old Sport," one of the most interesting characters about Chinatown, has suddenly disappeared from Harrison avenue. His disappearance was not reported until yesterday morning, and he was last seen about his usual haunts on Saturday.

"Old Sport" is a much-wanted individual by his countrymen, while his presence will never be missed by local and United States officials, to whom he has given considerable trouble the past three years. For the past five years he has occupied a store at 15 Harrison avenue, and during that time has given the impression to people that he carried on a lucrative business.

In rooms behind the store "Old Sport" made his living by running an opium and a gambling joint, besides conducting other illegal business outside of the estab-

He used the store for another purpose At one time he claimed to have 60 members in his firm, which gave each one the privilege of returning to his native land and back again, on the ground that they were merchants. The men who claimed to be the partners were laundrymen, and were rated in the firm as representing $400 each. The contents of the store were val ued at about $100.

Laid Low For a While. About a year ago the special agents became aware that large numbers of the Chinese certificates were being produced at the port of entry on the border, all giving the same address, and they were or-dered to investigate. Suspicion was at once directed to Chin Ching, and after an investigation it was confirmed. The issuinvestigation it was confirmed. The issuing of certificates to any Chinaman purporting to be a member of the firm was immediately suppressed, and no further omplaints were heard.

About the middle of last summer the agents were again informed that the illegal transportation of Chinamen was being carried on near the border. After weeks of investigation they came to the conclusion that Chin Ching knew considerable about the underground railway scheme They were unable to secure suffi-cient evidence against him to convict, but succeeded in running down the others, and all have come to grief and are now languishing in jail. Among them was a brother of "Old Sport," who, after his arrest, furnished bonds to the amount of $1500. He is also among the missing.

Caught a Bank. It is alleged he has left many unre ceipted bills after him, among them being his rent for some months, and various amounts of money which he borrowed Boulangists were traitors. M ry denied from his countrymen, and about $600 from a Boston bank. A keeper was place in his store last Wednesday by one of hicreditors, who supposed that the tea and other boxes on the shelves were filled with the choicest tea and other valuabl Chinese articles, but such contained dust. A story which is told by certain Chinamen and United States officials, and which has never been denied by Chin Ching, is that the Chinese woman he has lived with the past four years is one that eloped with him from Chicago while he was on a visit to that city, where she lived with her husband. She was one of the few Chinese women in Boston, and has taken her departure with Ching.

He was also charged with a murder c mmitted in San Franc'sco five years ago.

It is said that the cause that led up to the murder was a young Chinese girl, with whom he was keeping company, and who was caught by him with another Chinaman on the street. He shot him and then left the city. A reward was offered by the authorities, but he was never located by

Death of Actor Howard. Boston, Dec. 5 .- George W. Howard, the veteran actor, died here yesterday. He was born in England in 1850, and was brought to this country when 3 years old He made his debut in 1868. For six years without a break he played the part of the miller in Dixey's "Adonis," but oroke down in 1891, and soon after lost his eye-sight. A benefit in Boston a short time ago netted a sum which kept him in comfort until his death.

Treachery. Washington, Dec. 5.—Much comment has been caused here by the revelation that the president's message, through omebody's breach of faith, was printed in the afternoon papers in London before it had been released on this side. The important points regarding bond issue, the tariff, etc., were then cabled back to Wall street brokers. There seems to be no present suspicion as to who was guilty of the treachery.

Destroyer's Departure Delayed. NEW YORK, Dec. 5 .- The Destroyer, which was expected to sail for Brazil yesterday, was seized by Deputy United States Marshals Cheshire and Evarts at the instigation of John H. Robbins, lessee of the Boston dry dock, who claims in-demnity to the amount of $6400 for alleged breach of contract.

estimate. The action of Wood, Harmon & Co., a Boston concern, in openly meddling with the politics in this ward is severely condemned by both Republicans and Democrats. Such a proceeding has never before been heard of in this city, and in the state for that matter, and will be repudiated by voters of both parties. The indignation at such an attempt at what borders on coercion knows no bounds. Tonight's figures will show how much influence they have in that section. The Park has 80 names on the voting list. Captain Snow of the Park feels the position keenly in which Wood, Harmon & Co., have placed him, and is doing his best to save the Park vote for Thompson.

Mr. Waterhouse and Councilman Baker, the Republican and Democratic candidates for councilman-at-large, and Dr. George B. Rice, the Republicann candidate for school committee-at-large will all run ahead of the party tickets in this ward.

A WAR STORY.

Attack Italy, ROME, Dec. 5.-The Riforma publishes a letter signed "Bell" which affirms positively that there are 40,000 French troops entrenched between Nice and Barcelonatte with large advanced posts within a few yards of the Italian frontier. Along the same line and distributed over a breadth of country 150 kilometers in extent the French forces are being gradually advanced towards the frontier. There are immense quantities of war material at their disposal, and they appear to be prepared for a sudden attack. The writer of the article calls the attention of the Italian govern-

On the Hawaiian question we are left as much in sweat glands per square inch of the the dark as ever, and must await the news of the next steamer just as we have been waiting so long. That part of the message which relates to the tariff is most sur-prising. It asserts that the house committee in charge of that subject has formulated plans and devised methods of taxation which, as a member, I have not even heard proposed.

"In reference to Hawaii, the president takes the only course which is consistent with international honor and comity. > When for this purpose simple rice powder is used, the only damage caused is that of blocking up for a time the 550 skin's surface. This of course still further deteriorates the complexion and aids to dry up and spoil the skin; so that in the morning, when all is wiped off, the unfortunate woman finds herself uglier than ever. Hence the instinctive aversion to washing of the face, and if the face seems dirty the dirt is in preference covered with an extra layer of rice powder. For this purpose nost women carry small powder boxes with them. But many are not satisfied with simply using cold cream and rice powder. This is shown by the enormous sale of cosmetics of every description. The injury done is then much greater, for the pores of the skin are not only blocked up and prevented from fulfilling their function, but they are filled up with very virulent and injurious poisons.

Also many of the well known cosmetics may be used with advantage where there is irritation or redness due to inflammation. They serve as medicaments to cure a slight skin complaint. Thus, for instance, the Lait Antephelique, as described by Professor A. Hardy, which consists of corrosive sublimate, oxide of lead and sulphuric acid—or vitrol—or the famous Lait de Ninon, which is an emulsion of oxide of lead and subnitrate of bismuth or the Eau de Lys, which ow, we will have demonstrated our good has for a base protochloride of mercury, might be used with advantage for irritations, etc., of the skin. But they are not used for this purpose, they are used to whiten skins that are in a healthy condition. Then we have the Eau Magique, which is prepared with oxide of lead and hyposulphite of soda, and the Eau Royal de Windsor, which also contains oxide of lead. The Eau de Castille, as a variation, is made of acetate of lead. M. Girard, the analytical chemist of the Paris municipal laboratory, states that the Poudre Epilatoire de Lorlorest consists of 60 parts of mercury, 30 parts of arsenic, 30 parts of litharge (protoxide of lead) and 30 parts starch

With the exception of the starch, all the arsenic are especially virulent poisons. What wonder that health fails when such things are daily applied to the skin! What wonder that teeth decay and fall out when mercury is constantly employed! Nor is even the simple rice powder always quite so innocent as it seems. Some manufacturers, to improve the effect of their rice powder, have been found to add 900 grams of carbonate of lead to 1,000 grams of rice. Rice powder and potato powder will not injure the skin very much, and for the very excellent reason that they do not resist the effect of heat, for when the glands begin to act the perspiration drives away the powder, and nature, unchecked, performs its function. Instead of being delighted that the powder has not interfered with the due performance of those functions so essential to the preservation of health, the ladies are in despair because the powder goes and the defects of their complexions are no longer concealed. Hence there is always a demand for powder that will adhere to the skin in spite of the heat, and to secure this end it often happens that rice powder is mixed with talc, or with chalk or

A Study In Scarlet.

For a long time it has been believed that bright scarlet could only be combined successfully with dark blue or black, but the artist in colors has shown this year the possibility of the combination of bright scarlet and golden brown. A very pretty bonnet showing these colors is of bright scarlet felt, rather oval in shape and fitting the head almost like a toque. Just in front the brim is split up to the crown. The edges are all outlined with a narrow cut and turned up there is placed a mink's head, which looks out with composure from under its strange surroundings. About the crown is a twist of golden brown satin, and just in front is a crescent of gold set with rhinestones.-Ladies' Home Journal.

Silk Again In Favor.

An Unconscious Memory. I have lived before. Where? That I cannot tell, Nor how, nor when. Of those forgotten years Only vague echoes from the darkness swell, Bringing familiar murmurs to my ears.

The ghostly image of that misty past Enfolds me like a shadow, and my sense Strives all in vain to grasp and hold it fast Only in me is memory's evidence.

All human language feeble is and cold, To paint the fleeting visions that arise, Beguiling me with memories of old, Of other lives passed under other skies.

And still the echoes ring; the voices call In wild confusion, like a crowd of dreams. Then twilight shadows, dark and darker, fall, Till not a ray through the dense blackness

But still again a vague, melodious song, With scattered, broken measures fills the air, And shadowy forms, in shadowy distance, throng, Wrapt in the sable mantle of despair. My soul mounts upward into loftier spheres,

Where, beyond boundaries of time and space, I lived and loved before these earthly years

I see, in fleeting rays of heavenly light, The glory of a distant paradise.

Then all is overwhelmed by starless night;

VAN ALEN DECLINES.

Does Not Want to Be Ambassador to Italy.

TEXT OF CORRESPONDENCE

Covering a Subject Which Was original research in physical science. Widely Discussed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. - The following correspondence between Hon. J. J. Van Alen and the president and department of state is made public and is self explanatory; NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 20, 1893. To the Hon. Walter Q. Gresham, Secretary of SIR-I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 28th of October, in which you officially notify me that the president, by and with the consent of the senate, has appointed me ambassador to Italy. I have given the matter my most serious and careful attention, and, as the result of my reflections, have concluded to ask you to express to the president my decision not to accept the office tendered me.

I must beg that you will not infer from this action any lack of appreciation on my part of the honor conferred. On the contrary, I fully comprehend the dignity, importance and responsibility of the position, and, having this realization, I may frankly add that the nomination was extremely gratifying to me—not in a personal sense merely, but more particu larly because of the opportunity afforded me of representing my country in such a manner as I hoped might be satisfactory to the Amer ican people and creditable to the administra cratic national campaign fund. While my nomination was in the senate it did not seem fitting and proper for me to offer more than an explicit denial. Now, however, when my action cannot be fairly attributed to purely selfish motives, it seems to me that a repeti-tion of that denial, which I make without qualification, should be sufficient for any honorable man.

I have never denied, and do not now deny, that I contributed to the campaign fund—not $50,000, but yet a considerable sum of money. I did not do so until I had made myself familiar with the methods of the campaign, as conducted by the national Democratic committee. I visited the Democratic headquarters and was shown the great work being committee and a vast amount of literature wine. It is one in was being distributed free to awaken the tained his friends. public mind on the questions pending in the campaign. The Democratic party had no rely on individuals for necessary financial assistance. Hence my contribution.

I frankly admit that, until after the appointment had been made, it never once occurred to my mind that my contribution could be used arguments which have been advanced, I cannot even now perceive that it is any less creditable or patriotic for one to aid with his means a cause in which he believes than with false position with reference to this office and appointment. It therefore seems to me suffi-cient to add that self-respect compels me to adopt the only alternative, and to decline the high office to which I have been appointed. I have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant, J. J. VAN ALEN. Cleveland's Reply. EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.

Hon. J. J. Van Alen: MY DEAR SIR—The secretary of state has submitted to me your letter in which you tenler your resignation as ambassador to Italy. der your resignation as amoassador to many. I hasten to express my earnest wish that you will reconsider your conclusion. The sentiments contained in your letter do credit to your conscience and Americanism, but you conscience and Americanism, but you State senator." He wanted to know if he state senator. He wanted to know if he must allow me to dissent from their application in this case.

I did not select you for nomination to the Italian mission without satisfying myself of your entire fitness for the place; I am now better convinced of your fitness than ever.

Many larger and Larger than ever. You know, and I know, that all the malignant criticism that has been indulged in regarding the appointment has no justification, and that the decent people who have doubted its propriety have been misled, or have missed the actual considerations upon which it rests. We shall not yield to the noise and clamor which have arisen from those conditions. My personal preference should enter slightly into your final determination; but so far as I are associated Judges Sherman and Feshave such preference it is emphatical that you accept the honorable office conferred upon you and vindicate by the discharge of its duties the wisdom and propriety of your selections.

Awaiting your early reply, I am, Yours sincerely. GROVER CLEVELAND.

Van Alen's Final Answer. NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 25, 1893.

SIR-I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22d inst. In reply, allow me to thank you most sincerely and heartily for the very kind and flattering sen-timents you express. For the reasons I have already stated in my letter to the secretary of was decreed that he was guilty of intioffice to which I have been appointed.

My only regret in this decision, which I must beg you to consider as final, is that it is contrary to the personal preference which you so kindly express. But I cannot think it would be advisable for me to invite further nisrepresentation by taking advantage of Again thanking you for your most gracious words, and with an earnest hope for the con-tinuance for the successes which have already marked your second administration, I beg to remain, sir, With much respect,

NOTICE TO INVENTORS. THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for in sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the continual acce the appurtances and implements of each order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing de ficiences, does not permit the affairs of gov ernment to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing dis-crepancies. Too great care cannot be exe crepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and kilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.-The state department was informed of the news received from Honolulu by way of Port Townsend, Wash., so far as it conveyed the intention of Minister Willis to take no further steps toward carrying out his instructions unless he should hear further from the department. So far as it conveyed the public utterances in Honolulu by the minister of his intentions it was news to the de partment, to the president and to the cabi-

There were indications to show that it was not agreeable news and the impres sion was conveyed that the administration is rather disappointed at the manner in which Minister Willis has thus far conducted his mission. It is evident that the state department received by the last steamer (the A'ameda) the news that Minister Willis had determined to defer the carrying out of his instructions until he had heard further from his govern-ment. It is a fair presumption that the revenue cutter Corwin carries to him the further instructions for which he asks. The paragraph in the president's message referring to Hawaii was written after the additional instructions to Minister Willis had been dispatched. The paragraph may be taken to reflect the spirit of the instructions.

By referring to this it will be clearly een that what doubts or apprehensions Minister Willis may have expressed of the accuracy or good foundation of the Plount report, President Cleveland has not lest any of his absolute faith in the Blount investigation and the justice of his conclusions. It is highly probable, therefore, that the new instructions are a repetition of the old.

It is learned from a reliable source an intimation of the nature of the policy intended to be pursued in Hawaii. The extent of the active influence intended to be employed in behalf of reseating Liliuoka-lani on the throne has probably been exaggerated. The purpose of the adminis tration is believed to be rather to act as an arbitrator as between two parties in dispute, and endeavor to prevail on them to agree between themselves.

This was contingent upon the confident belief, based on the explicit assertion con-tained in the last letter of Mr. Blount, that the provisional government would fall to pieces when notified that annexa-tion was impracticable, leaving an open dispute between the ex-queen and the pro-Washington, Dec. 6.--Forecast for New England: Clearing; north gales, decreasing and becoming variable; slightly gained since his arrival in Honolulu, to make it certain that he does not agree with Minister Blount in this at least. PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Dec. 6.-In an interview Captain Cutler of the barkentine Klickitat, which arrived from Honolulu, said: "Minister Willis told me he was surprised to meet so many broadminded, law-abiding and thoroughly intelligent people in Hawaii. Willis is re ligiously inclined to a considerable extent, associated with the missionary elements in the island, and came in contac with the ablest men in Honolulu, all of whom are strongly opposed to the restoration of the monarchy, and especially the

His name was Samuel Evans. According to his story, as soon as the officers saw that all hope was gone the crew were ordered to the rigging. Evans was clinging to the lee rail when she struck, but before he could reach a place of safety in the rigging he was swept away. At 10:30 p. m. one of the ship's masts went by the board, and it was believed that she was breaking up.

The life-savers, after several unsuccessful attempts, succeeded in shooting a life-line over the doomed ship, but the sailors, who are believed to be in the rigging, did not seem to be able to secure it. The sea is now thick and the night so

The Ward Five Vote.

At exactly 7.40 last evening Warde White declared Ward Five's vote. Last year the number of votes cast fo Mayor in this ward was 400 and this year 401, but the result was surprising. Th vote for 1892 and 1893 was as follows:

1892 76 Fairbanks 324 Thompson -

Whether this remarkable falling off in the Republican vote was owing to Wood Harmon & Co., the snow storm or desire for a change is hard to tell.

Of course Mayor Fairbank's personal popularity in Wollaston accounts for the large vote which he received and which Mr. Thompson or any other Republican candidate could not get. Mr. Thompson LOST

A SUBSTITUTE'S PENSION

A Novel Case Involving an Intricate Point of Law Sprung In Texas. A queer case involving an intricate point of law will have to be decided by the chancellor of this chancery division. Peyton Fenelon of Lake county did not ander Moberbly as a substitute. At the 300 battle of Chickamauga, Moberbly was wounded in the left leg by a minie ball 144 and made a cripple for life. As a compensation for his wound he applied for a pension, and though it has been pending into low, white capped ridges, while for years his case has just been decided along the shore the foam lay like flat 1 in his favor, and a few days ago he re- banks of new fallen snow. No New Parliament. It is significant news that the governing board of the Imperial Federation league voted to dissolve at the end of the year. The great scheme of bringing the that it was impossible to stand against British colonies, especially Canada and Australia, into closer relations with the 177 empire has been abandoned as unpopular and impracticable. The idea was to organize a new imperial house of parliament, in which the colonies should be represented, but public opinion in the colonies themselves was either indifferent 139 or opposed to the idea. Prominent men in both parties, including Rosebery and 76 Salisbury, favored the scheme. Persistent agitation and a flood of pamphlets, however, have failed to create any colonial sentiment in favor of closer intimacy with the mother country. The colored people who live in Kentucky, as well as the colored people who have occasion to visit or to pass through the state, are agitated somewhat over the workings of the law passed by the last legislature, which obliges every railroad in the state to provide a separate coach for the exclusive use of colored passengers on every passenger train that runs. The law also provides that no colored passenger must be allowed in any of bad habits. # YALE AND HARVARD

Discuss the Election of United States Senators.

THE POPULAR VOTE PLAN

Favored by Harvard and Negatived by Yale.

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 6 .- Owing to a blinding snowstorm the Yale-Harvard debate before the Unity club attracted but a small audience. It was, however, select and made up of the wealthiest and most prominent residents of the city. The sublect discussed by the debaters was: "Shall United States senators be elected by a popular vote in the states." T. H. Wait and A. S. Apsey of Harvard supported the affirmative side of the question, while W. E. Thoms and L. A. Welis of Yale upheld the negative.

Mr. Wait took the place of Mr. Parsons, who was unable to participa'e because of illness. He opened the debate, apologizing for the short space of time given for preparation. The question, he said, was one that should appeal to all who take an interest in popular government. When the constitution was framed the makers thought they had filled all the requirements, but one defect that they failed to see was that by its provisions the people were not allowed to elect senators directly. The problem has been satisfactorily solved that the popular election is the right way to choose senators, who compose a body of ordinary mortals.

The first fault of the present system is that the senate is not made up of men of ability. He cited Murphy, Hill and Quay as instances to prove this assertion, calling them political wire pullers and claiming that they were not elected by popular vote. Another objectionable class was that of moneyed men, whose only excuse for election was their wealth. Freaks, he claimed, had no right in the senate to lead the counsels of the country. The men mentioned have shown that they are unable to guide the people, and the senate of today is the weakest this country has ever seen. The only reme y is to let the people nominate their men in an open caucus and then let them come before the people for choice. He contended that the only claim Murphy had to election was that he was a strong Tammany man. Yale's Side.

Thoms of Yale replied first for the negative. He said the safest way was not to be ready to depart from old principles until sure we are right in new ideas. The senate does not reflect public opinion, and will not until public opinion has been thoroughly crystallized; however corrupt it is claimed to be, the senate is composed of the most intelligent of men. He said that the constitutions of states could be changed much easier than that of the United Sta'es, and only a few states cling to the system. Just think what the senate has been. Its walls have echoed to some of the grandest state men. Were these men subject to wire pulling?

We should not allow this change until we are sure something is to be gained. Public sentiment runs high against the senate, but if we take up such a system who shall point out the stopping place. In closing, he said there was a time when men of greatest ability sought for office, but for the last 20 or 30 years there has be filled with any but good men and hon orable statesmen.

Apsey's Argument.

Mr. Apsey of Harvard congratulated his predecessor upon the success of his remarks. He declared his rhetoric beautiful, his oratory fine, but thought it a pity that he did not have a sounder basis, and was surprised at his lack of facts. He called the electoral college a machine to carry out the will of the people, and that 999 out of 1000 legislators have acted as machines. Legislatures are composed of merely human beings, containing but few gods. The proposition to change the system is not new, but, although introduced into congress, it has never been passed. Senators have been elected by state legislatures that would have stood no show if they had went before the people. Judge Maynard would have been elected if a legislature had the decision, but now he must retire from public life.

He said that the men recently elected Washington, Dec. 6.—The ways and did not know how they were elected and did not want to know. He took as an ilmeans committee's estimates show that | lustration the famous campaign of Lincoln the Wilson bill will create a deficiency the and Douglass. He maintained that the senate is, has always been and always will should be elected by the people. Those in its body otherwise elected have always the board of police commissioners 13 of the police captains were transfers, it is various disrics. The transfers, it is been corrupt. He claimed that the only alleged, are the indirect result of Dr. people think divine, is something terrible. Parkhurst's an advagant twice and the But the change will come for the cause of good and pure government. Wells' Conclusions The closing remarks were made by Mr Wells of Yale. He said that the senate was to put a check on the house. Public opinion is often wrong. He said the argument that absolute Democracy is a success implies wide id as. Have we arrived abuses of liberty than abus s of power. As the house often represents fickle sentiment, so the sena'e does the wise public views of the people. He called attention to the poor government of the sta es who cary on elections under the proposed popular rounds.

vote system, throwing open all offices to the vote of the people. The character of the senate is the grandest of any such body in the world. He be-lieved that the affirmative considered Murphy, Hill and Quay in the wrong light, each having been elected by the people to office in their states. speaker challenged any country to place better men in the halls of legislation than many now there. In closing, he said it would be exceedingly dangerous to do violence to the constitution which has given us the best of government. The

No Improvement In the Labor Situation

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 6.—The driving storm yesterday made the situation doubly dreary in the strikers' district. The mil bells rung and the whistles blew at 6:30 in the morning, but only one mill received its full corps of hands, that being the Saxon, where a satisfactory settlement was reached Saturday. At the Weybosset Saranac, Riverside and the Providence National worsted mills the strikers refused to return to work at the schedule of prices presented by the mill owners. A guard of 40 officers were on duty at the mills to

The operatives declare they will remain out all winter if necessary to carry their point, while the mill owners say that no further concessions will be made to the operatives. The mills will be opened each morning, and the places of the strikers who do not see fit to return to work will be filled by outside help. There is much suffering among the families of the strikers.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing de ficiences, does not permit the affairs of gov-ernment to deter him from quickly conceivernment to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and kilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. BRAVERY OF LIFE-SAVERS

In Facing the Wild and Death Dealing Tempest.

Their Dreary Vigil Results In the Saving of One of the Crew of the lil-Fated Ship, Which Had Met With Disaster Previously to the One Which Sent Her to the Bottom of the Sea-Story of the Wreck of the Ship Solarie and the Awful Suffering of Her Crew-Unknown Vessel Wrecked Off the Coast

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Dec. 7. - The ardy crew of the Pamet River Lifeaving station didn't get out of their oilclothes or sea boots for a brief moment all lay yesterday. A blinding snowstorm on the wings of an E. S. E. gale, drove about their little cabin.

The wind whistled and whined and the lone patrolman pulled his heavy sou'wester down over his face and turned his back to the shricking blast that penetrated to

Now and then he braced himself for a gaze to windward and shielded his eyes from the piercing darts of the storm. Suddenly a dark outline sprang up before him seaward. It was without form at first, but the blinding snowstorm for a moment tossing ship.

Then he saw men in the ship's rigging working apparently with the ragged rem-nants of the sails, and after that other ails were loosed. She was struggling to ive into that gale and save herself from destruction.

He quickly started for the life-saving abin and arouset his comrades. They started down the beach. They strained their very bodies in the attempt to pierce the gathering gloom, but it was a useless effort. So they settled down and shivered in the awfully frigid air at the point from which the ship was last seen. And night ettled down thus. As midnight hour approached a broken ar was hurled at the feet of the anxious, reezing group. Then another and another plintered fragment came in on the snowy crests of mighty billows and the men looked at each other in silence.

It was as they feared. The ship had given up her gallant fight for life. The that wild storm. Death awaited the crew who dared to challenge. Then the lifeboat crews from Highland light and Cahoon's Hollow came rushing down the beach. They had heard a ship had gone ashore and they had come with their lives in their hands to throw them away if necessary in the effort to save the hipwrecked crew. They sent off men in each direction to watch for boats that might come ashore with the crew, and they burned great flashlights in the hope that they might be

Then a splintered spar with the remnants of a sail dripping with the spray rolled up the beach, and there, clinging to the fragments of the ice-covered cloth, they saw a boy.

His eyes were closed, and they thought him dead, but two or three of the party seized him in their arms and ran for the ittle shanty which housed the lifeboat ew. The worked over the boy for half an our, and then he opened his eyes.

The men wrapped him in warm blankets and put him into a cot. They dosed him with brandy and he slept, and while he slept the crew of the lifeboats ran up and down the beach and dashed into the surf after every piece of wreckage and hauled it high up on the beach and looked for more clinging unfortunates, but no more

Then the first gray streaks of dawn appeared, and with them the storm abated. Slowly daylight appeared, and there, not 200 yards from the beach where the little group had spent a fearful night, the broken hull of a mighty ship was seen.

Every inch of what remained above water was scrutinized a dozen times by a dozen pairs of eyes. But not a human body was visible. Like the good ship Jason, they had given up the struggle in the surf of Cape Cod. Twenty-four souls had found their graves in those icy shoals, and the hospitable ship which had been their home was now their tomb. Evans' Story.

The man saved was Samuel Evans. He said: "Our vessel is the British ship Jason, Captain McMillan, from Calcutta for Boston, with a cargo of jute. We made the land off Cape Cod at 3 o'clock this afternoon during a blinding snowstorm, but when we saw it we were so near we could not weather the point, and were lost. While clinging to the lee rail after the ship had struck, a great sea swept me overboard with full 20 of my comrades. I never saw any of them again. How I reached the shore God only knows; but

It is the one-year loans against which our remarks were directed. There were too many of these made in previous years. Among those of 1892 falling due in 1893 might be mentioned: Crossing and gutters, $5,000; gravel bank, $2,200; curbed sidewalks, $2,000; additional land for Wollaston school house, $2,000; culvert on Hancock street, $1,200; paved gutters, $3,000; Common street, $1,200; centennial celebration, $2000; Quincy avenue, $3,000; H. Had those of $2,000 or more been divided so that but $1,000 would fall due in any year, the tax rate would have been $15 per $1,000 or less, instead of $15.80. ### FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is crat. that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the

THE WILSON TARIFF BILL

Not Likely to Be Obstructed by Republicans.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. - The senate finance committee yesterday talked over several important financial measures referred to them during the recess. The bill which was agreed to, on the recommendation of Secretary Carlisle, authorizing the national banks to issue circulation up to the par value of their bonds deposited as a guarantee in the treasury, was intended at the time to give relief to the then existing stringency in the money market. As there is now no immediate necessity for such legislation, the committee does not seem to be in any haste to bring forward this bill. The chairman, Senator Voorhees, said that he favored some general banking system which would extend to the states and give them additional banking facilities. The present system of banking, he thought, was satisfactory on general principles, but it is a close corporation and very arbitrary in its methods. He favors the repeal of the 10 per cent tax on bank circulation, provided there is incorporated provision which will compel state banks to comply with certain restrictions in order to protect the holders of their notes. The senator expressed a hope that the house would bring forth some measure which would meet the monetary wants of the country in localities where the national system does not prevail. The Democratic party, he said, in their platforn demanded the repeal of this 10 per cent tax. Several tills to that end have al-ready been proposed, but the senator doubted very much whether a majority could be had in either house to repeal that law without some restrictive provisions. Considered a Fair Bill.

Chairman Voorhees, among the matters talked over, called attention to the house tariff revision bill, which had been agreed to by the ways and means committee. He had only given the measure a casual examination, but from what he had seen of it he regarded it as a rather fair bill. He suggested to the members of the commit tee that as soon as their bill is entirely completed, with all its provisions, including internal revenue, copi s should be furnished to the finance committee, upon which the latter should proceed at once to consider its provisions.

By this course the chairman though that by the time the bill passed the house hospital, cut a heart out of a man's leg | the finance committee would be ready to report it back to the senate, and by this means secure early consideration and its speedy passage in that body. The chair man, and also all the members of the committee, agreed that this plan should be carried out so that the bill, for the as large as the one usually found inside benefit of the interests affected, should be The chairman informed the committee

"ANNEX" NO LONGER.

Girls' Banch of Harvard Will Be Known as Radcliffe College. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 7 .- A long and protracted meeting, with a liberal accompaniment of discussion, was expected for the lot of the Harvard overseers yesterday. The admittance of the Harvard annex to the full privileges of the university, and the conferring of degrees upon its graduates was the principal business in hand, and it was thought that there would be a considerable difference of opinion upon the subject. On the contrary, however, there was but little said.

During the meeting President Eliot told the interesting story of the origin of the name of Radcliffe with which it is proposed to christen the college. It appears that way back before 1640, one Dame Moulson of England, whose maiden name was Anne Radcliffe, took a live in-terest in the college which had been founded in the New World, and sent out £100 from across the sea for its benefit. This legacy was overlooked until recently when a search was being made to ascertain the name of the first woman to encourage the college work with a gift of

SLIGHT CONCESSIONS

Will Result In the Termination of the Olneyville Strike.

PROVIDENCE. Dec. 7.—The strike in the woolen mill district has assumed a new phase, which it is believed may result in a satisfactory settlement between the mill owners and operatives. In view of the fact that the operatives at all the mills ex-cept the Saxon have refused to accept of the daily offer of the mill owners permit ting them to go to work, the manufac-turers have become disgusted, and yesterday afternoon announced that the mill bells would not be rung again for some time. They stated that as outside laborers were practically afraid to venture to accept positions they would close the mills for the remainder of the winter.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history reflects was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of manking in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtences and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political changes in the administration of political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing de-ficiences, does not permit the affairs of gov-ernment to deter him from quickly conceiv-ing the remedy to observe existing dis-crepancies. Too great care cannot be exer-cised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appli-cation for patent. we are deprived of the benefits through the efforts of local would-be bosses, how much longer must we submit? A VOTER.

The extension of the free delivery is wholly in the hands of the postal department at Washington, and there are at least two reasons why more territory is not covered in Quincy. One, because the appropriation for the department would not admit, and the other because of opposition at Wollaston and indifference at Atlantic. There are other sections of the city much more thickly settled than Wollaston Park and Norfolk Downs which are without free delivery, namely: most of

POLICE PUZZLED

By the Strange Disappearance of Photoge rapher Swan of Norway, Me.

Boston, Dec. 8.-John Wesley Swan, a photographer of Norway, Me., came to Boston about a month ago, remained in this city four days, and then dropped out of sight. It is one of the most mysterious cases with which the police have had to deal with for some time.

The story of the events leading up to the time of the disappearance is very simple.

Just before the winter holiday season of every year Swan made it a practice to come to Boston and secure a supply of goods. and the trip which he recently made was for that purpose. He arrived in Boston on Nov. 14 and registered at the Quinc House. The next four days he spent in the city.

And Still Growing.

At first the movement for woman suffrage was regarded as a mere crotchet, if not a craze. As it grew, there used to be floods and torrents of ridicule poured over it. But there never was a movement worth thinking of or worth striving for in this world that had not to take its baptism of fire in the way of ridicule and sarcasm.

Some of our ancestors, as Julius Cæsar tells us, had a way of flinging their newborn children into cold streams and rivers, under the impression that those who did not survive were not worth the bringing up, and so we may say of movements like this-if they cannot survive their immersion in the cold waters of contempt or the heated geyser streams of ridicule and sarcasm, main entrance is a handsome porch, from which you enter a spacious hall, which is up. Women on the Jury.

A recent number of the New Zealand Mirror relates that at the petty sessions courts several persons were summoned to show why they should not have their certificates allowing them the control of domestic animals canceled. These cases, which have not been heard from for many years, have this year cropped up in considerable numbers, much to the regret of the better class of people. The possession of these certificates has very properly been refused to those who have shown the old aptness for cruelty, now supposed to have been eradicated by long culture of the young in better sentiments. The jury was impaneled in the usual manner in such cases, half of men and half of women, all of whom were known to be clear of any charge of ill treating animals. It is an excel-

Sweet Joys of Childhood.

I long and pine with a yearning intense For the joy of a day that is fled; I steep ev'ry feeling, I merge ev'ry sense In a wish for old pleasures now dead.

With sorrow unfeigned I dream of a time When care was a stranger to me, When life was filled full of a quiet sublime, My spirit was tranquil and free.

With passionate longing I think on the days, Untouched by the rude hand of ills, When youth was nutroubled by blame or by feeting the tills.

Thieves Relieve an Indiana Bank of Fif teen Thousand Dollars.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 8.-The South most sound banks in northern Indiana, was robbed of over $13,000 yesterday in broad daylight while hundreds of people were on the street, and the robbers succeeded in getting away with their rich booty without leaving the slightest clue.

Cashier Campbell left everything in the usual shape at the noon recess yesterday. It was 12:15 o'clock when he left. At 12:50 he returned, entering by the front door.

Ten minutes later Teller Brown arrived. It was then that the men found a rear window open, the back door unlocked and the door between the directors' room and the counting room mutilated. The door of the vault was as Campbell left it. They swung it back and examined the safe within. A glance showed that money had been taken, but they could not tell how much.

No particular effort was made to deterbalances were made up, when it developed that the robbers secured $13,900.

The bank is located on North Michigan currency are always in plain sight from across the street. One can see clear through the entire room and all over the counting room, the vault doors being in plain view.

At the time of the robbery every portion of the large counting room was fully exposed, with a stream of people continually passing on either side of the street. The raid was well planned, as is shown by the fact that the robbers touched no money that would be at once missed. On top of the safe was a tray containing $5000. Not a dollar of this was touched. MAINE'S WILD MAN

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history $$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$ of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurt nees and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and kilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" ystem. ## CHANGES IN ORDER.

Experts at Work on the Wilson Tariff Bill.

INTERNAL REVENUE PLANS

Have Led to Great Difference of Opinion.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Chairman Wilson and his Democratic associates thought that they had formulated a thoroughly practicable tariff revision bill, and submitted most of it to the full committee. In the meantime experts from the treasury department and statistical bureau who had given the measure a partial examination discovered that the bill was full of errors and needed a large amount of pruning and revision in order to carry out the administrative features.

The Republican minority has not yet been able to give the bill a thorough consideration, but is outlining its report, which will be ready in a few days. While the tariff bill is being whipped into shape, the Democrats of the committee are en-gaged night and day on the internal revenue branch. They are again talking of making this a separate bill. Up to date they have not agreed upon the items of taxation. The items which were at first selected, it was discovered, would not bring in the amount of revenue required. sources in order to realize the amount re-

Representative McMillin, chairman of the sub-committee, said that the commit-tee had not entirely abandoned the tax on individual incomes. He strongly favored it, but was only defeated by one majority, two of the Democratic members being He may attempt it again when they find that they cannot make up the amount from any other source.

Two Propositions. There are two propositions which the Democratic members of the house would ccept outside of the income tax: an additional tax on whisky and the reimposi-

On the moring of the 17th, the day after the Alameda left, President Dole called upon Minister Willis to learn how far the United States was expected to act in case of an emergency. It is understood that President Dole very clearly informed the minister that the provisional government commanded the situation, and would require no aid from the United States until t was called. The president assured the minister that any breach of peace which might occur would be speedily dealt with by the Hawaiian government The provisional government received assurances on the points mentioned which were perfectly satisfactory. It is under-stood that Minister Willis said that he would stand back of the present government until the present difficulty was set-tled. Minister Willis stated he made the public statement that "nothing immedi ate would be done" to ease matters down, and he believed a crisis was approaching.

Relief Was Only Temporary. His remedy worked for a few hours, but t now appears he has divulged enough to stimulate speculation, and both sides interpret his expression favorably, which in the end will doubtless add fuel to the political fire.

When the attention of the United States minister was called to the fact that the provisional government would aid him in keeping the peace, he replied that he did not expect trouble unless it came from irresponsible persons on either side. An interview with members of the provisional government develops a determination to stand on the defensive and take othing on trust until the United States government is officially heard either di rectly or through Minister Willis. # PATENTS

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of govficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceive ing the remedy to overcome existing dis-crepancies. Too great care cannot be exer-cised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appli-cation for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice appli-cable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Slashes Two of His Customers In Frightful Manner.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Dec. 9.-A terrible fight took place in an Italian barber shop on Third street, Elizabethport, last evening. James O'Hara and Andrew Donohue were badly slashed by the barber. O'Hara, while seated, was asked to pay a bill. He refus d, when the barber drew his razor across his throat, making a gaping wound from under the chin to the ear and another deep wound several inches long on his forehead. O'Hara sprang from the chair with the blood spurting from his throat, but fell to the floor. Donahue rushed at the barber and a terrible battle followed. Donahue received two long and deep razor wounds in the back and a terrible gash in the face. Before the battle ended the shop was wrecked. Passers by rushed in and held the crazed barber until the police came, when he was locked up. The injured men's wounds may prove fatal.

NATIONAL MILLS YIELD.

Riverside Mill Owners Refuse to Accede to Terms.

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 9.-There was great night when it was made known by the executive committee of the strikers that sword against military despotism and will the strike which was started Oct. 1 was practically at an end, and that Charles Fletcher, who controls the Providence Na tional mills, which employ nearly 2000 hands, had come to satisfactory terms.

The executive committee had another conference with the mill owners yesterday afternoon. Mr. Fletcher submitted a proposition which was nearly the same as offered the operatives at the Saxon mills. This was satisfactory to the exopinion of the nation, and I therefore consider it advisable to appeal to the counpopular vote of the striking operatives. The new scale offered and which is regarded as honorable is as follows: "In departments where cut of about 15 per cent had been made the reduction was lowered to 10 per cent. In one where the pay was cut from $1.50 per day to $1.25, the committee obtained an agreement that the wages shall be fixed at $1.40 per day. Girl operatives who earned $1 a day before the cutdown and whose wages were re duced by 61-4 to 81-4 per cent had the re duction lowered to 51-3 per cent, so that they will receive $5.68 per week instead of $6. It was agreed that small help who were paid $3.50 per week and had been cut about 10 per cent shall not suffer a reduction of more than 5 per cent."

Riverside Mills Dissent. The schedule presented by the Providence National mills is satisfactory to the other mill owners interested in the strike excepting the owners of the Riverside mills. The owners of these mills, which employ 1600 hands, have not taken an active part in the adjustment of the diffi-culty, and yesterday afternoon Superin-tendent King of the Riverside caused a notice to be posted in the mills expressing regret that the operatives do not understand the present situation and accept such work as the mills are able to give.

It states that work can be given only for a portion of the time; that the mills have only a few orders; that they will remain open for such as desire work, and the situations of the old help will be held till Monday, after which their work will be given to any who apply, and that those who first come in will be given the preference in permanent work.

Charles Farwell, one of the principal mill owners interested in the strike, stated that the pay which the operatives will receive by the new schedule is better than is paid elsewhere.

At the big mills of B. B. & R. Knight at Natick 100 of the weavers went out yesterday, but a satisfactory settlement was promptly reached.

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to

MUCH WORK AHEAD.

This Week Will Be a Busy One in Congress.

WILSON TALKS OF THE TARIFF.

A Letter From Congressman McCall on the Subject.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 .- The sudden collapse of the bankruptcy bill in the house last Friday has somewhat disorganized week. As it is, the house begun the week with no definite work in view. The tariff will not come up for debate until the 18th at the earliest, although if the present intention of the Democratic members of he ways and means committee holds, the bill—that is, the custom features of the bill—will be reported on Wednesday.

The bill for the admission of Utah will again come up at once. On Tuesday the Mr. Bailey's bill for an establishment for a voluntary system of bankruptcy.

A favorable report upon the bill to refund the cotton tax collected during the period between 1863 and 1868, amounting to $68,072,388, has been ordered by the judiciary committee, and it is the desire of the southern members that it receive consideration this week. It is not improbable that the Hawaiian affair may reach the arena of debate in the house in some form before the week closes.

The senate will in all probability plunge into a political discussion at the beginning of the week upon the motion which Senator Hall has given notice that he will make today to have the senate take up his bill of the repeal of the federal election law.

Senator Hill's motion was antagonized by a counter motion from Senator Hoar to refer the bill to the committee of privi-leges and elections, which will be offered as a substitute. There is a possibility that Hoar's motion may carry.

The program for the week also promise speech from Senator Morrill on the financial features of the president's message. The chances are that the Hawaiian question will again during the week receive the attention of the senate. It is understood on all hands that the president will send his reply to the senate reso lution of inquiry early in the week, giving in detail his instructions to Minister

More About the Tariff Bill.

Chairman Wilson of the committee on ways and means stated last night that the had taken no action whatever upon the matter of changing the tax on whisky. Disclaiming any intention to intimate that the committee might not determine to make a change in the whisky tax, Mr. Wilson called attention to the fact that such change would necessitate a revision of those schedules of the customs duties affecting articles containing alcohol. These had been arranged upon the basis of the present tax, and an increase of the sum would entail a revision of the rates on importations, if the general proportion between the two parts of the bill were to be maintained. Mr. Wilson was asked as to the probabilities of the discussion upon the bill. "Not more than two or three days will be required to pass the bill through the committee," he answered. "Then there will be the preparation of the reports to

"It will take pretty rapid work to insure a beginning of the debate before the holidays. Then the announcement that the committee had decided to report the bill to the house on the 13th inst., and that the debate should begin on the 18th, was not founded upon any action by the committee," the reporter suggested.
"No," replied Mr. Wilson, "nothing definite has been determined in that re-

McCall's Protest. Representative McCall of Massachusetts, who inaugurated the movement to have the date at which the new tariff bill should go into effect, not being satisfied with the present aspect of affairs on this point, has addressed a letter to Chairman Wilson of the ways and means committee in which he expresses the hope that the time fixed for the bill to take effect may be changed to a date at least six months

Mr. McCall argues that the element of uncertainty should be done away with, and that it is wise and just that some notice should be given to the business interests of the country, in order that they may be adapted to the schedules of the new tariff. Mr. McCall says: "It is provided in the bill that it shall go into op-86- Ib. dinary if the bill should have both houses at so early a date, still more extraordinary that it should pass without material amendments.

time as March or April. If a device were upon our business men, and notifying them to restrict as far as possible all their operations, no more ingenious a scheme could be devised than is presented by this feature of the published bill.

"To thus needlessly intensify the horror of the situation in the midst of winter, when cold will add to the pangs of hunger, involves a responsibility such as few tesmen would care to assume."

POOR SHOW FOR CRANKS. Waited States Senators Not Likely to Be-

come Innocent Targets. WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 .- The officials of the United States senate are taking every For Latest Local and Vicinity that body to prevent an attack from the galleries similar to that made in the galleries similar to that made in the French chamber of deputies. No person is permitted to enter the galleries when the senate is in session carrying any sort of extra package, and suspicious look ing characters are closely scrutinized when about the senate chamber or in the

The order against the admission of men to the galleries with handbags, umbrellas or miscellaneous bundles was proclaimed immediately after the attack upon Russell Sage a year or two ago and has been in force ever since. The senators have never seemed to feel any apprehension on this score, but the sergeant-at-arms argues that it would be a very easy matter for a crank with a fancied grievance to enter the galleries and toss a shell into the chamber below, and the temptation, with so many men of public note within reach, might be more than some of the species might be able to resist.

DEADLY CHLOROFORM.

Should Not Be Handled by Those Not Accustomed to It.

STILLWATER, Me., Dec. 11. - Coroner Lancaster has given a verdict of accidental death in the case of Mrs. Allie Spencer, who was found choloformed at her home Saturday. Previous to her death Mrs. Spencer visited her mother in Old Town, and said she had decided to chloroform her pet cat. The last time she was seen alive was early Thursday evening at James Andrews' residence when she re-turned from Old Town. She had a bottle, but concealed it as well as possible. She left Andrews' house in her usual pleasant

The solution of the mysterious death as given by Coroner Lancaster is that in leaning over the box in which the cat was being killed, and being unaccustomed to the use of chloroform, she was overcome and fell headforemost on the saturated sponges. She had been suffering from heart trouble. Mrs. Spencer was about 32 years old.

THE BASEMENT ABLAZE.

Big Fire In a Church While Services Were In Progress.

STAMFORD, Conn., Dec. 11.-While the services were in progress in the Methodist Episcopal church last evening a fire was discovered in the basement. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Downey, was interrupted while delivering his sermon and dismissed the congregation. Before the church was cleared clouds of smoke began rolling out of the staircase leading to the basement. Confusion followed and several ladies fainted. After the fire was extinguished a second blaze was discovered in another distant part of the church. It was extinguished by the organist. A strange man was seen in the room where the second fire was discovered, but he disappeared. The church was damaged to the extent of $2000. It is believed that the fire was set by some lunatic.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Dec. 11.-Wrecker Scott has brought the brig W. R. Hutchins of New York into port in tow of tug Alert. The Hutchins has been ashore on Cornfield shoal for nine days. Her keel is gone and she is full of water, but is kept afloat with the aid of barrels which were placed in her, between decks, and by taking out part of the cargo of beef, pork and flour. A diver will patch her bottom up and then she will be pumped out and repairs made upon her. She was bound for Demarara.

About the Marblehead.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Dec. 11.-It is understood that the board which will have charge of the deep sea trial of the cruiser New York will be here tonight. The Marblehead's safety valves are out of order. It is claimed that the valves were not in order during her trial trip on Thursday, and that but for this she would have made better time. The steam escaped rapidly from them and much power was lost.

A Plucky Woman.

SELMA, Ala., Dec. 11 .- Mrs. W. T. Smith of Richmond killed a negro who had entered her bedroom. The fellow attacked her with a knife when she made an outcry, but she secured her husband's revolver from under the pillow and killed him. It is said the negro had three accomplices, who have been arrested. Unless they prove their innocence they will doubtless be lynched.

Good News. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 11.-All the collieries of the Lehigh Coal company and all the individual collieries tributary to the Lehigh Valley railroad resumed operations on full time today. TOLD TO LEAVE BOSTON AT ONCE.

He Gives an Interesting Account of Himself.

Boston, Dec. 11 .- Howard W. Ream, whose only claim to fame lies in the fact that he attempted to build a $150,000 pleasure yacht out of a vagrant's revenue, tried and finally succeeded in convincing Judge Hardy in the second session of the municipal court that he played no part in the larceny of W. J. Clark's gold watch. George A. Reines, his companion. did not fare so well, for he was sent to the Massachusetts reformatory.

Ream was also sentenced, but taking exceptions to the decision of the court, was held in $300 for the grand jury. Before being removed from the dock Judge Hardy reconsidered his decision and discharged Ream with the expressed understanding that the man of yachting fame would light out for New York as soon as he could get a train. Howard promised, and with the air of a conqueror brushed a few imaginary cobwebs off his silk tile as he bowed his farewell to the court.

In appearance Ream would pass anywhere as a personage of abundant means. Since he has been in limbo awaiting trial he has succeeded in raising a beard of such a growth that his identity migh have been said to have been left behind him within the gloomy walls of the

"No, I don't claim to be a son of No man L. Ream of Chicago. He is a relative of my father, but I never used his name. That was one of Wolfe's schemes. He gave it out in New York that I was Norman Ream's son, and he wanted me to make out notes and give them to him He wanted to collect money on them, that's what he wanted to do. But he didn't get me to go into any scheme like that. Well, I guess not.

"How did I get into Chicago society? Why, I was a moneyed man then, and I spent money. I was a member of the board of trade. I was a banker and broker, you know. I didn't have to use

Editorial Comment.

THERE IS some good material among the new members of the next City Council-Israel Waterhouse, Walter T. Babcock, William H. Sullivan, Alexander Clark, John P. Bigelow, Thomas J. Lamb, John M. O'Brien, Ephriam A. Snow, Frederick

E. Litchfield and Edward J. McKeon. Mr. Litchfield is an ex-Councilman, serving in 1892 on the Committee on Fire Department and Police, and also Health, Poor and Bonds. He often took part in debates and his arguments carried weight. Mr. Waterhouse has had experience in the Board of Assessors, and is a man of good judgment. Mr. Babcock and Mr. Bigelow from their acquaintance with finances would make good men for the Committee on Finance. Mr. Sullivan is a popular resident of Ward Two, without experience in city affairs. He is a laboring man and sympathizes with wage earners, and will be neard in their interests.

Messrs. Clark and Lamb are successful usiness men and well known in their wards. Capt. Snow was widely advertised ecause of the Wood, Harmon & Co. ontroversy and his locality expects much rom him. Messrs. O'Brien and McKeon are good citizens and should make good representatives for their wards. There are New Rule of the Manufacturers' Associaewer new members than in the Council of 1893, and it should be a good working body.

OUR CONTEMPORARY attributes to the of interest : DAILY LEDGER a desire to defeat Presilent Bass of the Council for a reelection, when the item in this paper was published as news in the news columns and was free from editorial opinion. It is for just such misrepresentations that we today place a heading over this column, and announce that editorials appear in this column, and this column only. We agree that President Bass has been fair in his decisions, and would not make "one or two exceptions." Further the LEDGER nor the eitizens do not desire a man for president ecause he is a rank and radical partisan. With regard to Mr. Moxon it might be a mistake on the part of the Republicans to remove from the floor one of its most prominent members. At the same time he would make a good presiding officer.

ELECTIONS ARE over and if workman of politics should not be raised. Over 700 granite workers in this city have signed a ject to being thrown out of employment as seems inevitable. of contemporaneous activity for THE FORUM. Every great subject is taken up by The Forum when it naturally comes into public attention and is treated by the best authorities, without regard to parties or creeds. It will keep any thoughtful reader informed on the tasks and problems

The foremost men of the world write the literature

To many thoughtful people, the price of The Forum has hitherto been prohibitory; indeed all the great Reviews have been too high in price for the masses of intelligent readers. But now the number of readers of thoughtful literature -men and women who wish really to know what is going on in the world outside the narrow limits of particular sects and parties-is great enough in the United States to warrant so revolutionary a reduction in price. The Forum discusses important subjects, but it is not dull. The literature of contemporaneous activity is, in fact, the most interesting of all literature. American citizenship implies that a man shall know the opinions of the foremost men and the latest great achievements in every direction of activity.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing de-ficiences, does not permit the affairs of gov-ernment to deter him from quickly conceiv-ing the remedy to overcome existing dis-crepancies. Too great care cannot be exercrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the pa ent is never considered in view of a onick endeavor to get an allowance and obof the pa ent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said Company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable patent business entrusted to it for reasonable patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applications generally, including mechanical inventions, design patents, trade marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives especial attention to rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter into competition with any firm in securin foreign patents. foreign paten's.

A RUNAWAY TRAIN.

A Terrible Race on the Union Pacific to Save a Trainload of Passengers. The Union Pacific fast mail had a narrow escape one night recently on the Wyoming division from being crashed into by a runaway freight. The fast mail was booming along near Simpson and following it was a heavy freight train in charge of Engineer Sadowsky. Striking a heavy grade there the freight gave a lurch forward and Sadowsky, who is a new engineer, lost control of the engine. In a few minutes he saw the lights of the rear of the mail and fearing a collision jumped from the engine, followed by the fireman. The conductor and brakemen, realizing that something was wrong, began applying the brakes. The operator at a small station, when the two trains dashed by, saw that the engine was running away and telegraphed the fact to Medicine Bow. When the fast mail stopped there to register, the operator rushed out and told of the runaway train.

Engineer Wright, with great presence of mind, sprang for his engine and opened the throttle wide, and there ensued a mad race, which for a time threatened to end in a frightful tragedy. Conductor Rapp of the freight finally managed to crawl over into the engine and soon brought the runaway to a stop, and by his prompt action prevented what would have been an awful wreck.

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the Professor Hazen's. He will carry a

I want the tornado's secret, its agent, and God helping people, Vaillant replied, defiantly: me I shall have it. If electricity, then we may be able to dissipate Jove's most awful wrath and relieve our great cities of their worst nightmare, their most it sidious and most implacable foes."

The man who made this bold and strik ing remark is Professor Henry Allen Hazen, expert meteorologist of the United States weather bureau, who has nearly completed arrangements for a series of not less than 1,000 high altitude balloon ascensions, to be made as often as three times a day, under a new and original principle of gas conservation, with new scientific instruments made in England expressly for the purpose. The proposition is now before the board of advisers, who may be expected to report on the application as soon as Professor Langley, secretary of the Smithsonian, shall return to his post. Professor Langley himself is much interested in the subject of free air observation, especially in an idea he has of to the highest possible altitudes without risking the presence of a human being in a balloon. Professor Hazen, however, regards this method as only supplementary to the work of personal obserwation and instrument readings which he has in view. Aerial transit across the Atlantic ocean is the ultimate object toward which Professor Hazen's plans are tending. He states unreservedly that he will make the trip if he lives. He is already looking forward to the constructing of a balloon basket in the form of a completely equipped open boat with airtight compartments. In this vehicle,

The only apparent difficulty that has ever beset the problem has been the inability of the aeronauts to keep the balloon on a steady horizontal plane. The rising and the falling of the balloon can ter drawn from the ocean will constitute the necessary ballast whenever his balloon seems to get more buoyant. The water will be poured out again when the balloon needs buoyancy.—Philadelphia

ANARCHIST VAILLANT'S BRAVADO.

McGovern Bros.' Periodical Store, Han- Admits Throwing a Bomb In the French Chamber.

> Paris, Dec. 11.-After a day of great excitement, following the explosion of a bomb in the chamber of deputies, the authorities have announced that they have the bomb-thrower in custody; the miscreant is named Vaillant, alias Marchal; he is an anarchist, and has made a full Marchal, it appears, was among the injured persons taken to the Hotel Dieu. Under the suspicious of the authorities and pressed by the prefect of police he made a full confession.

the persons questioned by the police was was attended by the physicians sum-moned to the chamber after the explosion, was taken to the Hotel Dieu after being examined by the prefect of police.

At the hospital mentioned the suspect was carefully watched by four detectives, and it was noticed he gave the name of Marchal when his "pedigree" was taken upon entering the Hotel Dieu. This was ing the wounded man, and several detec tives were immediately started out with instructions to spend the night in establishing the identity of Vaillant or Marchal, and to furnish a complete report of the man and his surroundings.

Prompt Work of Police. This was done: the detectives worked quickly and cleverly on the case, and the prefect of police was soon in possession of several police reports concerning the suspect, which upon being joined together and condensed made it clear to be authorities that the man in the Hotel Dieu was a dangerous anarchist named Vaillant, who was born at Mezieres, a strongly fortified town of about 5000 population in the Department of Ardennes.

Vaillant is 32 years of age, and has lived a roving life. During this roving Vaillant passed several years in Buenos Ayres, and in 1887 he returned to France and married He now has two children. Vaillant, how ever, soon deserted his wife.

Still, according to the police reports since 1884 Vaillant has been identified with the extreme branch of the socialists and with the regular anarchist groups. He made himself prominent by the incendiary nature of his speeches and by his bitter denunciations of the bourgeoisie, and eventually became a member of the revolutionists' socialist group of the 18th arrondissement of Paris. This, in brief, is the cream of the report of the detectives who worked up the case.

Dupuy the president of the chamber of deputie I glory in the act, and I only regret that my hand swerved and that the bomb did not explode near the mark.'

How the Bomb Was Made. Vaillant, in appearance, is a big blonde man with a heavy blonde mustache and a hardened expression of countenance, which seemed to light up with a strange fire as he described, with much gusto and whipped one of her pupils. As she was in great detail, how the bomb was

Vaillant said that the bomb he used was a little iron sauce-pan which he bought at a bazaar near the Hotel de Ville quite recently. The bomb sauce-pan when traded contained, he said, a number of the nails. Inside the sauce-par was a tube with a compressed center. In the tube were picric acid and prussiat soda, these being separated at the point where the tube was compressed by small ball of cotton saturated with sulsending up self registering instruments | phuric acid, which, at a given moraent would be consumed by the sulphuric acid thus allowing the picric acid and prus siate to mix and cause an explosion."

The anarchist then described, in detail a variety of objects which, he said, would be found in his lodgings at the Hotel de L'Union, 70 Rue Daguerre, where Vailla at lived under the name of Marchal.

"But," Vaillant added, "If you are go ing to search my room, you had better be careful in disturbing things unless you want to be blown to pieces.

Coffin Lid Was Lifted and Miss Lena

BUFFALO, Dec. 11.-Coroner Ransom was called to the house of A. R. Knox, who lives on Delaware avenue, to remove a dead person to the morgue. He went there with a coffin. The body was that of one of the servant girls, who, it was said, had died suddenly. The body was loaded into the coffin and taken to the morgue, but for some reason was not placed in the refrigerator. Ten hours later when Morguekeeper Mc Shane lifted the lid from the box previous to placing the body in the ice box he found the girl alive. He took hold of the arms of the supposed corpse when he felt it drawing away from him and a moment later the young woman sat upright in the coffin and gazed about her.

The morguekeeper ran into the street and told a policeman. They returned to the morgue and found the supposed corpse sitting on the stairs. Her name is Lena Di Napoli Chose the Latter and Fled to the Land of the Free.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Several days ago there landed at Ellis island a dapper little Italian named Gabrielli di Napoli, aged The discovery of the anarchist fiend was 84. He bore evidence of refinement and made in the following manner: Among said he was going to Boston to work as a baker. The admission clerk placed him a man whose nose was almost blown off on the list as contract laborer, and he was by the explosion of the bomb in the chamber of deputies. The suspect gave the name of Vaillant, and says that he lives at Choisy-la-Roi. This man, who in him. Di Napoli said he was a govern ment clerk in Italy. He fell in love with a girl of good family and the result was that a demand was made upon him to marry her. He refused to do so and the girl, to hide her shame, came to this country and went to reside with a brother in Boston. The parents of the girl, whose name is Augusta Birmorti, told Di Napol that unless he fled to America and married reported to the authorities, and confirmed their daughter his life would be the the suspicions already entertained regardyesterday and went to Boston.

A Rock Their Refuge.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Dec. 11.—Captain C. D. Dykeman and a crew of four men of the English schooner Lucerne, which was wrecked off Baker's island last week, arrived here Saturday. The Lucerne was fast breaking up when the captain and crew left her in the lifeboat. After being tossed about in a nasty sea for 24 hours they were driven on Mt. Desert rock, 30 miles out to sea. They were unable t communicate with the shore or attract attention and remained on the rock for a Further Reductions.

LOWELL, Mass., Dec. 11.-A reduction of from 10 to 25 per cent in wages of operatives at the Shaw Stocking com-pany's factories is announced, to take effect immediately. About half of the employes are affected by the 10 per cent reduction and most of the others by the 25 per cent reduction. When the mill started this fall, after being closed all summer, a reduction of 25 per cent was made in the pay of some of the operatives.

His Hawaiian Policy Vigorously Attacked by Hoar.

Strikers In the Face.

Will Wait For Competitors to Come to Terms.

PROVIDENCE, Dec 12.-- Not only the 4000 strikers but the many business men of the Olneyville district where the big strike has been in progress since Oct. 1 strike has been in progress since Oct. 1 were given an unlooked-for setback last evening. For a number of days the business men have been hard at work endeavoring to bring about an amicable settlement between the mill owners and operatives. Twice last week it looked favorable for a settlement, but at the last moment the operatives were found unwilling to accept the offers of the manufacturers.

In the meantime the mill owners tried to start their mills, but owing to the interference of the strikers were unable t secure the necessary help. At Fletcher's Providence National mills the attempt to start was abandoned Saturday, while at the Riverside and Weybosset mills it was necessary to have a strong guard of police on hand morning, noon and night to pro tect those who ventured to accept situations. The operatives of the Providence National and Saranac mills met yester day afternoon, and when it was made known that they voted to accept a new list presented by the manufacturers there was great rejoicing

The reduction at the Fletcher mills on weaving averaged 19 per cent. Dresser tenders were cut from $2 to $1.85, a cut of 71-2 per cent; loom fixers from $2.25 to $2 a cut, a cut of 10 1-8 per cent, and on other help the cut averaged about 10 per cent The settlement made yesterday provide for a rebate to the weavers, which make their reduction about 10 1-2 per cent. The dresser tenders will be paid $1.90, making their cut 5 per cent; the loom fixers wil be paid $2.10, making their cut 7 per cent A slight concession has also been made t the drawing in help, the proposed cut in their pay to 17 cents per 1000 threads have ing been changed to give an average of 17 1-2 cents.

The list is practically the same as the which prevails at the Saxon Worsted company, which resumed last week affording employment to 800 strikers. The new list differs from the manufacturers compromise, which was rejected by the strikers, in that it makes no distinction between piece dye work and fancy weaving, nor does it make any mention of fast

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for in of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appliance. cised in choosing a competent and skilling attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said Company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applications, design patents, trade marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives especial attention to rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter into competition with any firm in securin foreign patents.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the

Two Days In Committee. Chairman Wilson does not believe that more than two days will be devoted to a consideration of the bill in committee He said that it ought to be ready to report to the house by Wednesday of this week, but that it was doubtful when the majority report would be finished. From present appearances the report will not be ready before the last of the week. A number of changes are made in the china schedule, but are more in the nature of readjustments of classification than changes of rates. The schedule now reads as follows: Common yellow and brown earthenware, plain or embossed, common stone ware, and crucibles, not decorated in any manner, 20 per centum advalorem. #### IVES WON

In the First Night's Contest For the Billiard Championship.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.-The big three cornered billiard tournament between Jacob Schaefer, George Slosson and Frank C. Ives for a stake of $1500 and a one, two, three division of the gate receipts, was begun in the concert hall of Madison Square Garden last night. The hall was crowded with an audience critical and enthusiastic opening game between Slosson and Ives, because, notwithstanding the fact that the betting for the first night's place was ! to 60 in Ives' favor, it was generally expected that the cool-headed Slosson would SQUASH, spring a surprise upon his young rival. Slosson won the bank and selected the ASPARAGUS, white balls. He was noticeably nervous at the outset, and there was an apparent lack of confidence in the open table play which he launched out on. Ives was at ease when he took up his cue and began open play with great rapidity. Ives secured a good lead and held it well through Etc., Etc. the evening's play, winning the game by a score of 600 to 500.

"The Greatest of all our Periodicals."

The foremost men of the world write the literature of contemporaneous activity for THE FORUM.

Every great subject is taken up by The Forum when it naturally comes into public attention and is treated by the best authorities, without regard to parties or creeds. It will keep any thoughtful reader informed on the tasks and problems of the time, as no other periodical does.

To many thoughtful people, the price of The Forum has hitherto been prohibitory; indeed all the great Reviews have been too high in price for the masses of intelligent readers. But now the number of readers of thoughtful literature -men and women who wish really to know what is going on in the world outside the narrow limits of particular sects and parties-is great enough in the United States to warrant so revolutionary a reduction in price. The Forum discusses important subjects, but it is not dull. The literature of contemporaneous activity is, in fact, the most interesting of all literature. American citizenship implies that a man shall know the opinions of the foremost men and the latest great achievements in every direction of activity.

Lawyer Hatch Expresses Their Sentiment In a Powerful and Significant Speech-The United States Said to Have Had an Understanding With England Regarding Co-operation In the Effort to Restore the Queen-Batch of Interesting News From the Disturbed Islands.

Honolulu, Dec. 4, via Victoria, B. C., Dec. 13.-Since the arrival of the steamer Warrimoo on Nov. 24, political events have followed each other with startling rapidity. Previous dispatches have not fully anticipated the serious condition Hawaii is now passing through. When dogs and had put herself beyond the pale the Warrimoo arrived with President and protection of laws. To ignore, and to jubilant and the annexationists at once began to carry out their previous plans recognized the power of this community for forcible resistance in case the steamer five minutes too soon or not, was not in China, which arrived three days later, brought instructions to Minister Willis for the restoration of the monarchy, with the aid of the United States troops from the warships Adams and Philadelphia. Within 24 hours after the news which was brought by the Warrimoo was received 1600 annexationists had assembled on short notice at the drill shed of the barracks, behind the executive building. The spirit of 1776 prevailed, and those wh heard the cheers which welcomed the speeches of President Hatch of the Annex club and the presentation of the resolution knew that monarchy, even though restored by the superior forces of the United States, would be short-lived.

Since the mass meeting the spirit of enthusiasm which at first prevailed among the royalists has been in a state of fluctuation, and some of their clearest-headed leaders admit that the success of the res toration policy, in the present or in the future, depends on the armed protection of monarchy by the United States. The following are the resolutions adopted by to give the provisional government the mass meeting on Nov. 25: Resolved, That we have read with surprise TIME TABLES and regret the recommendation of the secretary of state of the United States to the president to restore the monarchy lately existing in Hawaii.

Resolved. That we condemn the assumption of the secretary of state that the right of the provisional government to exist was terminated by his refusal to re-submit to the senate the treaty of union pending between the two countries, and also his assumption that the provisional government had, at that time, submitted the question of its continued existence to the arbitrament of the president or any other power. Resolved, That we support, to the best of our ability, the pro isional government in resist-ing any attack upon it which may be contrary to the usage of nations.

The Situation Explained. The adoption of the resolutions was preceded by speeches of many leading citizens, chief of which was that of F. M

Hatch, the leading lawyer in Hawaii and president of the Annex club. there has been an arbitration of such a nature, could it be possible when the government of the United States had a treaty pending before it between it and a power which, it is charged, was submitting its right to exist to the decision of one man? "I challenge the right of the chief executive of the United States of his own motion to undo the act of any of his predecessors. Congress may do it. Congres has the full power, but Grover Cleveland had no more right, legally or morally, to undo the act of Benjamin Harrison than he had to undo any act of Abraham

BROCKTON HAS handled the question of finding work for the unemployed in good shape, as will be seen by the following dispatch to the Herald. The work will be similar to that provided in Quincy:

Lon Weston, president of the Associated is a native Plymouth Rocker, well known Charities, and Officers of the Central Labor to all our readers as "Lyman," and very Union represented the urgent need of work popular in the 5th ward of the Granite City and wages for the unemployed of the city where he resides. We expect a Christmas and an order was passed providing for a gift of 100 feet of nice stone curbing on loan for $5000, the proceeds to be expended account of this notice. in building and repairing streets during and residents of the city only shall be em ployed in such work; that two gangs shall be employed on each job, each working 4 1-2 hours daily, with wages at $1 per each

The order further provides that preference shall be given to married men in

The order was passed with the understanding that, as the new board of city government will come in on Jan. 1, another loan may then be authorized if necessary defined. It makes no direct impression to caryr the work through the winter.

Federal Election Law Repeal Spoken Against by Senator Cullom

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 .- The resolution offered by Mr. Hoar, Rep., Mass., calling on the president for information as to the appointment of Mr. Blount as paramount commissioner to Hawaii, was not presented to the senate in the morning hour, but went over to a later hour, in order to permit Mr. Cullom of Illinois to address the senate in opposition to the bill to re-peal the federal election laws, and Mr. Cullom began his argument.

Mr. Geary of California reported to the house that the conference committee on the New York and New Jersey bridge bill had failed to agree.

Mr. Bailey of Texas reported from the judiciary committee a bill providing for a uniform system of voluntary bankruptcy. Mr. Myers of Louisana called up the resolution providing for a joint commis sion to investigate the rank, pay and other matters relating to the personnel of the navy. This resolution has on several ted with one of our Councilmen, and does previous occasions proven a bone of contention, and its reading brought Messrs. Kilgore, Sayers and others who have achieved more or less reputation as objectors, to their feet.

The first step in a good-natured filibuster was an inquiry concerning the parliamentary status of the resolution which was decided to be on the union calendar. A motion to go into committee board of aldermen, Tuesday evening, Mr. seat in the city government. Mr. Robbins of the whole was defeated by a viva voce vote, but carried on a division, when Mr. Hall. Kilgore of Texas raised the point of no quorum, and tellers were appointed. The object was to kill time until the morning church commence tonight. Rev. John G. hour should expire.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 .- It is said by those in position to know that definite results may come of the Chinese negotiations within a comparatively short time Besides trade relations the negotiations include: First, the settlement of vexed question of Chinese immigrat second, the treatment and protectio. be accorded the Chinese citizens alre: in the country or who may herea. en legally come here; third, the protect in and privileges to be extended by China to American citizens residing in China Aside from these main questions, h negotiations are said to have been of so broad a character as to take in all of he causes of friction which from time to time have developed between this country and China. At the Chinese legation there is much reticence in regard to the subject It was intimated that the minister was hopeful of material changes at an early day in the present treaty, yet he was not disposed to prematurely anticipate them. ### HOLDEN WILL CASE.

Opened This Morning at the Probate Court in This City.

A hearing was given in the contested will case of Submit D. Holden late of Quincy, at the probate court today.

Warren G. Comey, one of the witnesses to the signing of the will, testified as to his signature; that he signed the paper in the presence of Dr. Welch, Rev. Edward Norton, Mr. Howland and Mrs. Holden. This was 11 years ago and he did not at that time know what he was signing. He did not remember much about the occasion or who asked him to sign the paper.

Dr. Welch and Rev Mr. Norton were not present at the hearing. Mr. West, Miss witnesses to the codicil made in 1891, were examined.

Mr. West, testified that he was asked by Mr. Howland and Mrs. Holden to sign the paper. All of the witnesses were present when it was signed.

Miss Hersey testified that Mr. Howland came to the office where she was employed strung up to the same limb and their and invited her to come to Mrs. Holden's. Mr. Howland asked her to witness Mrs. Miss Anderson was at that time a do-question she was up stairs when Mrs. the men threw himself in the way, while Holden called her down stairs. When she came down they were all in the sitting then retreated. A posse was organized sign a paper. Miss Hersey was signing

NOTICE TO INVENTORS. THERE Was never a time in the history

The fire was never a time in the instory ventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurt-nees and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and 'kilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" ystem. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. is guilty, of course, but we always weep when we see a man drawn into a threshing machine. The judge has blood in his eye. He will avenge the outrage on our poultry interest or perish at the bar.

Another juryman thinks the rooster is inside the prisoner, and wants to open him, asked politely, gazing at the note; "stop- Pinto!" but this sort of evidence will be ruled out ping the train and liable, sir, to get into as incompetent and mussy.

DENTAL SONG-A PARODY.

Drill, drill, drill,
With thy dental machine, said she;
And I would it were seemly to utter The groans that arise in me.

Oh, well for the laughing maid Whose teeth are pearly and sound!
Oh, well for the youth in whose molars
No cavities deep are found! And they pass the dentist's office

Without a thought of fear; But, oh, that my name need nevermore In his little blank book appear! With thy cold, gray steel, said she; But the tender nerve of a tooth that is dead Will never come back to me.

MILLS WILL ALL SHUT DOWN.

Labor Fight Has Turned Into

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 13.-The great strike in the wool mill district is a thing of the past. Its managers have been outgeneralled by the millionaire manufacturers, its back has been broken, and the situation is now changed from a strike on the part of the operatives to a general lockout on the part of mill owners.

The woolen mill district of Providence never experienced a day similar to yesterday. Workmen were disheartened, mill owners were relentless and women and children wept in the streets of Olneyville, wept from hunger and from cold. The situation is one that has no equal in this city since the panic of 1857.

Six thousand people have been out 13 weeks on a strike for a return of their old schedule of wages. Dependent upon the earnings of this number of operatives are, it is estimated, 15,000 people. The strikers are without resources, and financial aid rolls in slowly. In arrears in their rents and store bills, with the thermometer near zero, and with little or no fuel on hand, the operatives now, that they are shut out from returning to work, have, as a rule, but one course left, and that is to apply at the city poorhouse for aid. Such is the condition among the strikers that the chief of police has reason to anticipate trouble, as the operatives are becoming desperate and every available officer has been summoned to his station to be ready for a special call in case any attempt is made to injure the property of the mill

The strikers held meetings yesterday, but were at sea as to the best course to pursue. The executive committee voted to do business with the manufacturers as a combine, but when they started out to visit them they were again disappointed. Business Men Draw Out.

Charles Fletcher of the Providence National mills did not appear, and it was found that Treasurer King of the River-side mills was in Boston. Nothing could then be done but await the return of the two leading manufacturers. The business men met and voted to take no further part in the directing or bringing about of a settlement unless requested to do so by the parties interested.

Superintendent Farwell of the Saranac mills said: "It is a lockout now and must no longer be called a strike. Had the operatives at the meetings held Friday and Saturday last voted to return to work and not have tried to toy with the mill owners this action would not have been taken. The idea of closing their mills was not decided upon until Monday, because up to that time all negotiations had been conducted with the idea of resuming work, and it was expected that the resumption would occur Monday morning. The delay in accepting the terms on the part of the strikers gave the manufacturers an opportunity of learning to aid those who were to stay out from the others," he said. "With such an organ ization as that it was evident that ther was going to be trouble, and the mill could not undertake to fight them indi-

Therefore it was necessary for the manufacturers to stand together, and on learn. facturers to stand together, and on learning of the determination of the strikers to resume work at our mills and contin the fight at the others, the mill owners agreed to keep together.' Mr. Farwell stated that no settlement would now be made except a general setthe manufacturers to stand together." The strikers through their executive committee will issue an appeal to the public.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 .- The trial of Dr. Meyer for the murder by poison of Ludwig Brandt was resumed yesterday. Daniel G. Gillette, manager of the department of revision of the Mutual Life Insurance company, was called. Mr. Gillette said that when Meyer was arrested the witness was aware that Wimmers or Muller had furnished information against Meyer. The foremost men of the world write the literature of contemporanecus activity for THE FORUM.

The Grealest of all our Periodicals."

Every great subject is taken up by The Forum when it naturally comes into public attention and is treated by the best authorities, without regard to parties or creeds. It will keep any thoughtful reader informed on the tasks and problems of the time, as no other periodical does.

To many thoughtful people, the price of The Forum has hitherto been prolaibitory; indeed all the great Reviews have been too high in price for the masses of intelligent readers. But now the number of readers of thoughtful literature -men and women who wish really to know what is going on in the world outside the marrow limits of particular sects and parties—is great enough in the United States to warrant so revolutionary a reduction in price. The Forum discusses important subjects, but it is not dull. The literature of contemporaneous activity is, in fact, the most interesting of all literature. American citizenship implies that a man shall know the opinions of the foremost men and the latest great achievements in every direction of activity.

MESSAGE WITH

Hawaiian Correspondence to Be Given to the Senate.

PRESIDENT'S MIND UNCHANGED.

Says He Has Not Exceeded Executive Authority.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.-The president having received the advices he had been waiting for as to the situation of affairs in Hawaii, has directed that all the correspondence called for under the Hoar resolution shall be sent to the senate at the earliest moment. The correspondence will be accompanied by a message, in which the president will set forth all the facts upon which he based his action.

The president will introduce certain in formation which has not yet been made public, including letters from Minister Stevens to Secretary of State Foster some months before the January movement, which resulted in the establishment of the provisional government.

These letters will be used to show that the American minister was in connivance with parties on the island and elsewhere looking to the deposition of the queen and the establishment of a new government. This information, together with what transpired at the time of the outbreak, made it clear to the president's mind that Minister Stevens did interfere to bring about the events of January and cause the landing of the United States marines and hoisting of the American flag.

The president intends to show in his message that the policy which he has been pursuing was not one of aggression, but simply to undo a wrong, and to restore the condition of affairs as they existed before the revolution took place, as far as was practicable through executive au-

No Force.

It can be stated with authority that there has been nothing in the instructions to Minister Willis looking to the use of force in carrying out the purposes of the president. His instructions comprehended only a peaceable solution by negotiations, which the minister has attempted to carry out. The provisional government of Hawaii, however, it appears, refuses to com-ply with the purposes of this government. It also has since appeared that the queen was not willing to be restored unless assured that she should be protected by the authority of the United States. With this request the minister had no power to comply. As a consequence the status, as it has existed from the beginning, has not been changed, further than the announcement by the minister that there would be no interference on the part of the United States except to preserve the peace and protect American property. In the meantime he has been awaiting additional instructions to guide his future action. Has Not Exceeded Authority. The president, in conversation with the Democratic members of both foreign committees, has satisfied them that he has not, in any instance, exceeded his authority in dealing with the Hawaiian complication and they are also disposed to accept his version of the appointment of Blount as not exceeding legitimate executive au-

Representative McCreary, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, reported from his committee the Hitt resolution, calling for Hawaiian correspondoccasion in doing so to submit some remarks in which he defended the course of the administration in its policy on the Hawaiian complication. He has been put wires were again chopped down and the wires were all twisted up. Hawaiian complication. He has been put in possessi on of all the correspondence on the subject, extending back to the Harrison administration. His speech led to an interesting debate in which Hitt and other Republican members of the foreign affairs committee took a hand. Those Missing Dispatches. The statement of a Democratic member of the house foreign affairs committee decided not to take out their money, but they had their books balanced. The bank the example of other ministers in ordering that two important dispatches from Sec-

It is ascertained at the department that the story probably originated from infortary had for some time foreshadowed a probable outbreak at Honolulu. One in November, 1892, detailed the manner in mation given to a congressman that let-ters from Minister Stevens to the secrewhich the outbreak would probably occur and foretold the character of the revolution in a way which was verified by the event of January, it is said, in minute par-

To all this information from Minister of the department, and has not been at It was voted to give it to the poor in this any time. The inference to be made is that Minister Stevens understood what was desired for him to do, and did not need further written instructions from the department. It is claimed also that these dispatches from Stevens are to be relied upon to show that he had an understanding with the leaders of the provisional government as to the action they were going to take many months before the revolution. The particular dispatch from Stevens referred to was addressed to Secretary Foster under date of Nov. 20, 1892, and was transmitted to the senate by President Harrison with the annexation treaty and printed in a public document. Many Olneyville Families Are Without PROVIDENCE, Dec. 14.—The situation among the locked-out mill operatives is particularly distressing, there being great suffering owing to the fact that families are without fuel. Some of the clergymen visited the homes of strikers and the discoveries made caused them to call upon some homes they found the families without fire, the children having been kept in bed to keep warm and there was scarcel-food enough to supply a meal. An entire family in Oak street presen a sad sight, with faces and hands swollen by dogwood poisoning, sustained by going into the swamp to get fagots to burn in the kitchen stove. They were too poor to se-cure a physician. In many cases members

The weavers of the Riverside and Weybossett mills claim that as the fight depends upon them the funds for maintaining the struggle should be applied to maintain the courage of those whose who must be supported if they are to stay out. Therefore they favor the cutting off of all disbursements from the strike fund to others than the weavers, and urge the suspension of further drafts from the funds for the benefit of the operatives of the Fletcher mills. This plan will undoubtedly be adopted and then the Fletcher mill operatives demand assistance from the authoris on the ground that they are not strik and that they are willing to work, cannot do so because the mill gates a closed against them, not to be open until others settle their troubles with

Elect Officers and Discuss Matters of Interest to Farmers. Worcester, Mass., Dec. 14. - Yester day's session of the Massachusetts State grange was given up chiefly to the election of officers and the reception of reports. The election of officers resulted as follows: Master, Elwyn D. Howe, Marlboro; overseer, A. C. Stoddard, North Brookfield; lecturer, J. W. Stockwell, Sutton; steward, E. A. Emerson, Haverhill; assistant steward, W. N. Howard, South Easton; chaplain, Rev. C. S. Walker, Amherst; treasurer, Hon. F. A. Harrington, Worcester; secretary, Warren C. Jewett, Worcester; gate geeper, C. H. Deming, Lanesboro; Pomona, Mrs. Elbridge Cush man, Lakeville; Flora, Mrs. Huntington, Amesbury; Ceres, Mrs. E. Eaton, Fitch-

Williams, Douglass.

The committee from the state experiment station reported that their experiments show that there is no profit in fat-tening steers for the market in Massachusetts and that sheep do not show a margin of profit, but swine show more satisfactory results. The committee on unequal taxation reported at length and urged the granges to start a movement that will remedy the evils of the present tax sys-

the authorities for assistance to prevent women and children from freezing. At NEW YORK, Dec. 14.-The pretty, charming adventuress, Zella Nicolaus, who has >btained fame at the cost of a reputation, is now on the big blue deep, bound for Naples. She found the metropolis quite innospitable, and said she was glad to leave it. Perhaps she did not figure that she would get too much notoriety when she started in by suing George Gould for of families were found sick and without $40,000.

She has gone, but the mystery has been left behind, and the public is at a loss to understand it. Did George Gould, after all, compromise with a big round sum, or was there a scheme on foot to indict he by the grand jury for blackmail? No re sponse is offered.

It certainly looks as if there was som thing in the Gould affair after all. This young but very rapid person has been a victim of the financial depression. But before she left she went shopping, and the trip surely cost her a couple of thousand Where did she get this money?

"Had an Understanding." She said to a reporter, who found her on the steamer Normannia 15 minutes be fore sailing, in answer to a query about the suit:

"That's all been arranged, and we've had an understanding with Mr. Gould. Duck, Geese, Chickens and Game, The suit will be dropped."

"What kind of an arrangement did you "Well, it was a satisfactory one; that's all I can say.' Now that looks rather suspicious after all Gould has said in denial of her story. In fact, it looks as if some one has been badly bitten, and that person was not Mrs. Nicolaus of Wabash, Ind., the "innocent," demure girl of 19. Zella came aboard the big ocean liner just 15 minutes before sailing, with Al Ruhman and Lawyer Hummel. They disappeared for 10 minutes, and the re porter on the deck lost track of them Five minutes before the gangplank was lowered the lawyer left, and then the alert newsgatherer found the precious pair in stateroom No. 2 on the upper deck, one of the choicest on the steamer's list.

Sailed as "Mrs. Harris," When the reporter announced his busi ness they were dumfounded. He said in burg; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Jennie a few words that he would like to know why she was leaving for Europe, if she intended to prosecute the Gould suit, and why they were leaving under the assume name of "Mr. and Mrs. Harris" and oc cupying one stateroom, as man and wife It took her breath away, but she answered "I am going to Italy for my health."

"How long do you expect to be away?" "I don't know; probably quite a while. "Why are you sailing under the name of Harris, and how is it that your so called guardian is travelling as your husband?

"I haven't anything to say about it at all, and I won't answer any more questions. I'm leaving New York and I'm glad of it; that's all." No Signs of Poverty. Mrs. Nicolaus wore a sealskin cloak trimmed with Russian sable, for which she paid $415 the day before; a natty little hat of the same, with a muff to match She also purchased $130 worth of hats and bonnets and laid out $40 in shoes. Three new trunks came aboard, together with the two which she had redeemed from the Sturtevant House by paying up her board

These things were a mere bagatelle to the money she put out on her shopping

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

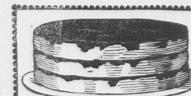

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and ciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay", ystem. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the parent is never considered in view of a of the parent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. A pretty deer is dear to me, A hare with downy hair; I love a hart with all my heart,

But barely bear a bear.
Tis plain that no one takes a plane

To pare a pair of pears;
A rake, though, often takes a rake
To tear away the tares. All rays raise thyme, time razes all;
And through the whole hole wears.
A writ in writing "right" may write
It "wright," and still be wrong—
For "write" and "rite" are neither "right,"

And don't to write belong.

He thinks no more of dyeing. A son of Mars mars many a sun, All deys must have their days, And every knight should pray each night
To him who weighs his ways.
Tis meet that man should mete out meat

To feed misfortune's son; The fair should fare on love alone, Else one cannot be won. A lass, alas! is something false; Of faults a maid is made; Her waist is but a barren waste-

FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

STRIKES FORCED BY CAPITALISTS.

Sovereign Talks on Slavery of Wage Earners.

Boston, Dec. 14.-A reception was tendered General Master Workman James R. Sovereign and Thomas B. Maguire of New York, C. E. French of arlboro and Henry B. Martin of Minnesota, the newly elected members of the general executive board of the Knights of Labor, in Faneuil hall last night by the members of the order in this city. The attendance was very small.

General Master Workman Sovereign was the first speaker. He said that it was a pleasure to him to be privileged to speak in the hall made memorable by the long line of Americans who had fought for the freedom of chattel slaves, but, while we are all proud and jubilant over the victory that resulted from the movement these men were engaged in, yet we should not forget that there was at present as great a need for the abolition of the white wage slave as ever there was for their colored brothers.

In America, the garden of the world, with its vast and varied industries, we see things that are appalling. According to the press reports, there are in Chicago alone 117,000 enforced idlers, and a movement has been started to raise $1,000,000 for their relief. One of our brightest writers, when speaking on the raising of this fund, said that he would to God that the millionaires of Chicago would spend one night with these out-of-work people, and that in the morning there would be no difficulty in raising the fund.

Discrimination In Law. Why is this distress? No people have been so industrious as the American people. By reason of our industry and ingenuity we have caused the attention of the entire world, but with all our indus try we have not shortened the hours of labor nor increased the comforts of life There is a wheel loose somewhere in our social machinery, and the rich are grow ing richer and the poor poorer, and there is rank discrimination in the law against the poor in favor of the rich. During the past 25 years we have raised two distinct classes of society—the tramp and vagrant and the dude and dudelet. The tramp is a cross between crime and poverty, and the dude is a cross between no one and nothing, but history has shown that every nation that allows the rich to grow richer and the poor poorer has always gone down, and our country will also go down if this con-tinues. Society is now being shaken from stem to stern by the labor troubles of the present day. We are opposed to strikes, but in nine cases out of 10 they are forced upon us by the hostilities of the capitalis tic class.

The Power of Votes.

We believe that our freedom can be obtained through the ballot box. Many people are in favor of using bullets, but I say t is a shame and disgrace to talk about working man with his wife and children provided with the necessaries of life is a very harmless fellow, but when his wife and children are starving, then is the time to watch that man, for he is liable to do it easy for the people to do right and hard for them to do wrong. In order to obtain amelioration from these dreadful conditions under which the working people are living they must organize and educate themselves as to their rights, and this can be done through the Knights of Labor. Other Speakers.

Henry B. Martin of Minnesota was the next speaker. He advised the working people to organize and discuss the vital questions which would benefit themselves There is a wheel loose in our social structure, as can be seen when so many thousands are out of work. There is a grave emergency before the people of this country and their welfare is threatened. The mental power is the motor for hu-man progress and the working people must educate themselves so that they may know what their rights are. How is the thing to be accomplished? By joining the Knights of Labor and learning that the men who produce the wealth of the world should get a large portion of what they produce.

Thomas B. Maguire of New York spoke at length on the land question, and, in the course of his remarks, caused much amusement by an attack on the silver and tariff questions.

Against Boss McKane.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 14.-Judge Barnard's decision in the contempt proeedings caused by the trouble on election day at Coney Island, leading lawyers here say, is against McKane. In finding against McKane the judge concludes that he is guilty of contempt of court. It was shown that he did not obey the supreme court crier giving the Gaynor men permission to see the election rolls.

Fast Young Man Kills Himself and Shoots

DENVER, Dec. 14.-Ed Hanfield, a fast young man about town, shot his mistress, Ida Hall, a Central theater actress, and then fired a bullet into his own brain yesterday afternoon. Hanfield died instantly. The woman is lying in the hospital with a bullet wound through her left breast, just above her heart, and she will die. Hanfield came here from Ashfield, Mass., a few months ago, and at once entered upon a dissipated career. He fell in love with Ida Hall, and soon gained her consent to marry him. His father learned of his son's acts and refused to send him any more money, and in order to secure funds to pay for the marriage ceremony Hanfield stole a quantity of goods from the room of a friend and pawned them. For this he was arrested about an hour before the time set for his marriage and was given a term in jail. He was released yesterday and immediately renewed his suit for the hand of the girl, but her love had evidently cooled. It is supposed he invited her to his room, and as she refused to marry him he shot her and himself.

A CHEMIST'S TESTIMONY

Introduced to Aid In the Conviction of

Poisoner Meyer. NEW YORK, Dec. 14.-The cross examination of Professor Doremus was taken up by Dr. O'Sullivan in the Meyer trial yesterday. District Attorney Nicoll asked as to whether the chemist was able to determine in what form the poisons were taken by Brandt. Professor Doremus said he was unable to determine and said that the quantities and the quality of the antimony and its wide distribution through the system indicated that that poison was taken in the form of tartar emetic and preceding the taking of the arsenic. In reply to a question from Dr. O'Sullivan the witness said he was unable to state whether the arsenic found in Brandt's body was administered before death or got there through an embalming process after death. The professor said that the arsenic he had found was in the innermost tissue of the body; that had it come from another grave it would have shown its effects on the outside; whereas Brandt's outer box, coffin, clothing and skin were dry.

DEATH WILL RESULT.

Two Boston Men Had a Dispute Over

the A. P. A. Boston, Dec. 14.-A fight which will probably end fatally occurred in East Boston last evening. William H. Hughes, 23 years old, and James H. Lewis, were in the barroom of Charles De Arcey in Central square, and got into a dispute over the merits of the A. P. A. Lewis left the barroom and was followed by Hughes and a companion, and when on the sidewalk Hughes struck Lewis a blow which felled him, causing his head to strike the curb

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the ir patents. The foremost men of the world write the literature of contemporaneous activity for THE FORUM.

Every great subject is taken up by The Forum when it naturally comes into public attention and is treated by the best authorities, without regard to parties or creeds. It will keep any thoughtful reader informed on the tasks and problems of the time, as no other periodical does.

To many thoughtful people, the price of The Forum has hitherto been prohibitory; indeed all the great Reviews have been too high in price for the masses of intelligent readers. But now the number of readers of thoughtful literature -men and women who wish really to know what is going on in the world outside the narrow limits of particular sects and parties—is great enough in the United States to warrant so revolutionary a reduction in price. The Forum discusses important subjects, but it is not dull. The literature of contemporaneous activity is, in fact, the most interesting of all literature. American citizenship implies that a man shall know the opinions of the foremost men and the latest great achievements in every direction of activity.

Hawaiians Issue an Address to the American People.

MONARCHY SHALL NOT PREVAIL

Revolution of January Was Absolutely Necessary.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 15 .- A. Feek, a Seattle contractor, arrived home last night from Honolulu, where he served a contract for constructing a railroad. He was made the bearer of an address to the people of the United States from the American league of Honolulu. It says:

"We, like you, believe in good government, and having in co-operation with others freed ourselves from the reign of corrupt rule and established a govern-ment of the best classes of society, we protest most emphatically against the report of the assumption of President Cleveland that the provisional government of the Hawaiian Islands should cease to exist because the proposition for union with the United States of America had failed to meet his approval. We insist that the present government of Hawaii has the same right to exist that the United States had after the successful revolution of 1776

"In fact the corruption and misgov ernment that brought about the revolution of January last were so flagrant as to be unbearable, and the late queen had Winkfield Bros., planned to not only continue her corrupt practices but set aside the constitution of the kingdom, and attempted to illegally promulgate a new one, disfranchising sister-in-law and resided in Chicago. ## A PERILOUS VOYAGE

Schooner Nickerson Badly Buffeted by Wind and Wave.

THE MARY LYMBURNER WRECKED.

Captain and Crew Believed to Have Perished.

Boston, Dec. 15 .- Seldom has a vessel been subject to so many rebuffs and hardships in a single voyage as occurred to the two-masted schooner J. Nickerson of Portland, Me., Captain Winslow, bound from Perth Amboy, N. J., to Portland which arrived in this city yesterday after noon in tow of tug Kate Jones. In her present condition the Nickerson presents a sorrowful sight. Her maingaff is hoisted half-way with portions of the mainsail hanging in ribbons. She is badly iced forward, being encased in ice to the depth of several inches. The Nickerson left New York on Dec. 1 and on the third put into New Londo luring a snowstorm for shelter. While inchored in that harbor she was fouled by the U.S.S. Dispatch, carrying away her jibboom. Securing a new jibboom she started for Portland, and all went well as possible. until last Monday, when, off Nauset, a violent northwesterly gale came up, dur-ing which she was driven back to an anchorage off Chatham.

On Monday night while riding out the gale with two anchors down she lost the gale with 15 fathoms of chain. port anchor with 15 fathoms of chain. Notwithstanding this she managed to hold on until the next morning, when the gale moderated. The Nickerson then got under sail with fair wind, but after getting into Boston bay the wind shifted to northwest and commenced to blow heavy, with intense cold. All that night heavy seas swept over the forward part of the vessel, freezing as fast as it fell and forming a heavy coating.

Several attempts were then made to reach Gloucester, but they were unsuccessful, owing to the heavy gale. After being buffeted by the gale in Boston bay struck the vessel with terrific force, leaving the mainsail in ribbons and carrying away the jib, besides doing other minor everything forward was frozen stiff, even the windlass could not be manipulated. #### Editorial Comment.

THE MOVEMENT to supplant President Bass of the Council has not gained much headway, and was doubtless premature. Mr. Bass will be the oldest member in point of service in the Council of 1894, as he will enter his fifth year. His service as presiding officer the past year has equipped him so that he will be better qualified than a new man for the position. It may have been noticed also that he was reelected by a larger vote than was received by any of the ward Councilmen, running 77 ahead of the Republican candidate for Mayor in Ward shows a larger volume to have been transacted in a much shorter time, for which the presiding officer is of course entitled to much credit. The Council of 1892 was in session 97 hours and 22 minutes, and passed upon 143 orders and gave 6 hearings. The time of the present Council up to date, is 51 hours and 40 minutes and the total will not reach 60 hours. It has considered over 200 orders and held 18 hearings. President Bass may well be proud of this record, and no one will question his impartiality and independence as a presiding officer, so there seems no very good reason for a

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and ventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The solition change in the administration of political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing de-ficiences, does not permit the affairs of gov-ernment to deter him from quickly conceiv ing the remedy to overcome existing dis-crepancies. Too great care cannot be exercrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general pariodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofor ployed in this line of business. The Company is prepared to take charge a patent business entrusted to it for reason fees, and prepares and prosecutes apptions generally, including mechanical in tions, design patents, trade marks, lab copyrights, interferences, infringements, lidity reports, and gives especial attention rejected cases. It is also prepared to entinto competition with any firm in securiforeign patents.

A NEW SILVER BILL.

Coinage of the Seigniorage Proposed by Mr. Voorhees.

MONTHLY PURCHASE OF BULLION

To the Extent of $2,000,000 Will Then Follow.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.-Senator Voorhees introduced in the senate his longcurrency of less denominations than $10; for the retirement of all gold coins of less denomination than $10, and for the appointment of an international commis

The bill provides in detail that the seigniorage or profit fund which has resulted from the coinage of silver bullion, under the Bland and Sherman acts, or which should result from such coinage shall be coined into silver dollars o standard weight and fineness with ful legal tender quality, at the rate of not less than $2,000,000 per month, and that such dollars shall be covered into the treasury. The silver purchase section is as follows:

"That when all the seigniorage bullion has been coined it shall be the duty of the secretary of the treasury to purchase each month silver bullion at the market value in quantities sufficient to coin not less than $2,000,000 each month." The secretary is directed to coin the bullion promptly each month as fast as purchased into standard silver dollars.

It is also provided that when any paper circulating notes or certificates of less denominations than $10, except national bank notes or certificates redeemable only treasury, they shall not be reissued, but shall be replaced by an equal amount of sealers. like notes or certificates of denominations of not less than $10. Hereafter no national bank notes of less denominations than $10 are to be issued. conference to be held at a place to be hereafter designated, with a view to secure in ternationally a fixity of relative value between gold and silver as money by mean of a common ratio between these metals with free mintage at such ratio. The sum of $80,000 is appropriated to carry this clause of the bill into effect. The Tariff.

The tariff had a comparative rest yes terday. There were no meetings of sub-committees or of the full committee. Chairman Wilson is engaged in preparing the majority report, which is to be sub

"We are devoting our time to reading the protests against the bill," said Representative Montgomery, as he emerged with a handful of letters. "It is not expected that any further action will be taken on the internal revenue features of the bill until all the members of the mayer's office, "the greatest invention of jority may be in the city to consider it. The individual or corporate income tax It was cases that the lawyer wanted, must be settled before the committee can not inventions, and he said something proceed. A question has arisen as to rather rude, but the energetic man whether the income tax can be levied in proved to be a philosopher and merely time to derive revenue for the next fiscal year, as it has been stated that the tax would have to be levied on incomes of the year following the time when the law goes into effect.'

Mr. Bryan, who is pressing the straightout income tax plan, says that the tax would be levied on incomes of the calendar and not the fiscal year, and that if an income tax is adopted, it will be on incomes from Jan. 1, 1894, to Dec. 31 of that year, and the taxes will fall due in January, 1895, and be available for the expenses of the fiscal year ending June 30,

While there is a great deal of talk about opposition to the bill it is thus far individual, and there is no cohesive or crystallized opposition such as might de feat the bill. The Republicans will probably have their report ready to submit next Tuesday, although they may hold it one day in order to make criticisms upon the report of the majority.

Protest From Southrons. General Wheeler of Alabama, who drew up the caucus call, when asked what schedules would be revised, said: "The whole bill will be carefully gone over. The members from my section will urge the manifest unfairness of putting coal and iron ore on the free list when the men who own the mines are paying a duty of 40 per cent on the machinery with which they are operated. The sugar men will ask that the bounty be abolished and that a duty of 3-4 of a cent be placed on chemicals that will increase the revenues, benefit the consumers and not injure the trade. Other members will also suggest changes in other schedules, but these I speak of are the ones that occur to me now as being desirable to have modified. Many of the changes will probably be slight. In other cases, I have no doubt,

> Louisville, Dec. 16.—At a few minutes past 10 yesterday the false work and that part of the middle span of the Louisville | lision occurred on the New England road and Jeffersonville bridge company gave way and, with all the workmen, was precip- being the Pascoag express on the Springitated 110 feet into the water below. There was but a moment's warning, and those who escaped going down with the mass of iron and timber started for the piers after the express is a total wreck and the three the first trembling that indicated the giving away of the false work.

The accident was a horrible one and is the last of a long list of castastrophes that have marked the construction of this bridge. The foreman, in beginning work, noticed that during the night the "traveler" which had been put in place had been worked loose by the winds. An order to draw it back into place was given and the men and engines started.

The wind was high and the gentle sway gradually forced the traveler off the piles on which it was resting. When the end slipped the whole work trembled, and the men, realizing their danger, started for the piers. As luck would have it the central bent was the first to give way, and the men on this bent went down to be covered by the mass of iron and timber of the bents which fell almost immediately after, carrying with them the other workmen who failed to reach the piers.

Fifty Men Went Down. The north bent, or the one attached to the Indiana pier, did not fall for 15 minutes after the other parts went down. As near as can be ascertained there were 51 Saturday, Dec. 16, 1893 men on the bridge when the charge of the given by the engineer in charge of the work. Of this number several succeeded work. Of this pumper of those that went in reaching the piers. Of those that went down some were covered by a mass of timbers, and it will be several days before their bodies are recovered The first crash when the center bent gave way was at 10:05 o'clock, and it was then that the great number of fatalities To every customer, one occurred. A few minutes later a bent on which there was but little of the bridge man was killed. He was caught by a rope and dragged beneath the water.

When the huge mass of material struck the water all was concealed for an instant by the spray that was thrown high in the air. As the water subsided, here and there could be seen men struggling desperately to climb up on the timbers that thrust their ends above the water. A few acceeded in clinging to the place of safety, and were quickly rescued by boats that put out from the shores. Others struggled desperately, and were carried off by the current to sink almost as rescue was at hand. Near the bridge the families of many workmen live. Those were soon at the 50c river bank. Many were wild with grief, 75c., $1.00, $1.50 and rushed frantically about wringing their hands and tearing their hair. The office of the bridge company on Campbell street was besieged with anxious mothers others. A westbound passenger train ran and wives inquiring for their loved ones. Half an hour after the accident there were at least 2000 people on the river bank, and as the news spread they still poured in in a steady stream towards the place of the accident. To whose doors must be laid the responsibility for the terrible disaster will probably never be known. It is one of those unforeseen accidents that occur in spite of all precautionary measures. The workmen whose labors are utilized in the work practically take their lives in their own hands. General opinion ascribes the cause of the disaster to the stiff wind that had been sweeping the river all day. It bore with great force on the ponderous frame-work which necessarily became loosened from the constant strain and swaying of the heavy timbers.

No Allowance For Wind. That the structure was otherwise than safe never occurred to either the engineers in charge or the workmen. Every precaution had been employed to insure the stability of the framework, and the only thing lacking, as the accident proved, was the failure to take into consideration the action of the wind, the force of which was persistent and powerful. To the great "traveler" alluded to $ directly attributed the falling of the span. The constant wind bore it from its resting place on the last pier but one of the Jeffersonville side. The displacement was discovered and the work of putting it back in place was begun, but it was too

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing de-ficiences, does not permit the affairs of gov-ernment to deter him from quickly conceiv-ing the remedy to overcome existing dis-crepancies. Too great care cannot be exer-cised in choosing a competent and -kilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appli-cation for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable in-stances by the employment of incompetent stances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice appli-cable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said Company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applications generally including mechanical inventors. tions generally, including mechanical inventions, design patents, trade marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, va-lidity reports, and gives especial attention to rejected cases. "The Greatest of all our Periodicals."

The foremost men of the world write the literature of contemporaneous activity for THE FORUM. Every great subject is taken up by The Forum when it naturally comes into public attention and is treated by the best authorities, without regard to parties or creeds. It will keep any thoughtful reader informed on the tasks and problems of the time, as no other periodical does.

To many thoughtful people, the price of The Forum has hitherto been prohibitory; Indeed all the great Reviews have been too high in price for the masses of intelligent readers. But now the number of readers of thoughtful literature -men and women who wish really to know what is going on in the world outside the narrow limits of particular sects and parties-is great enough in the United States to warrant so revolutionary a reduction in price. The Forum discusses important subjects, but it is not dull. The literature of contemporaneous activity is, in fact, the most interesting of all literature. American citizenship implies that a man shall know the opinions of the foremost men and the latest great achievements in every direction of activity. SIZE AND QUALITY UNCHANGED.

ADAMS BUILDING,

Filibustering Started on the McGarraha Bill and Was Kept Up.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 .- Mr. Breckinridge reported to the house the urgent deficiency bill. The measure is intended to provide for further urgent deficiencies in the appropriations for the fiscal year 1894, and carries an appropriation of $1,651,896.

Mr. Pendleton called up the McGarrahan bill and moved that the house go into committee of the whole for its consideration. Filibustering was renewed, a division was demanded, the point of no quorum raised by Mr. Sayers and tellers were appointed. The vote resulted: Yeas, 169; nays, 11.

A quorum having voted, Mr. McRae took the chair and the bill was read in full. Mr. Pendleton made a defense of the bill and Mr. Sayers opposed it. The committee rose without action. Mr. Wheeler moved that the house go into committee of the whole on the bill to admit Arizona territory as a state. Mr. Hooker demanded a division; the point of no quorum was raised, and the yeas and nays were ordered. The action of the house in following up the passage of the bill admitting Utah as a state with the passage of the bill admitting Arizona as a state, and the prospect that the New Mexico bill will have similar treatment, pleases the silverites

PRANK OF STUDENTS

Creates Q-ite a Sensation at Phillips Exeter Academy.

EXETER, N. H., Dec. 16.—There was a sensation at Phillips Exeter academy yesterday. When the students entered the main hall for the commencement of the day's exercises, the faculty and many of the students expressed great indignation, for the hall was decorated as it had never been before and probably never will again. On all of the walls and on the floors of the study room and halls were pasted pictures of ballet girls and bewitching females in

Some of the students had entered the building during the night and took this method of expressing their disgust with the action of President Fish in forbidding the students to attend a burlesque performance at the theater Wednesday night, and standing guard at the Opera House door to see if any of the young men disobeyed his orders. There is some criticism of the management of the school and the policy of the faculty in dealing with the students, and the outcome of these outbreaks cannot be predicted.

INTERESTING TESTS

EXPERT FENCERS AS SUBJECTS.

Dr. Hammond Wins In the Duel List Class.

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 16 .- A series of experiments were made at Yale last night with a machine designed by Dr. E. W. Scripture of the physiological department, for the purpose of testing the relative action of mind and muscle.

Dr. P. F. O'Connor of Columbia college, champion swordsman of America in the saber class, Dr. Grame Hammond, champion of the duel list class; Dr. Jacobs of the New York Athletic club, and Dr. Postel, the newly appointed instructor of fencing at Yale, were taken individually and put through a number of movements which called into play all the alertness claimed for experienced fencers.

The object of the experiments was, as Dr. Scripture expressed it, to ascertain the relative swiftness of action by swords men in response to a given signal. Mind, muscle and nerves were alike tested in the experiments which followed. In all of them the eye was used as the agency by means of which the signals were perceived.

The first series of experiments were for the purpose of discovering how many accurate lunges could be made by a fencer with a foil at a given disk. Dr. Hammond bore off the palm for accuracy of action. Nine of his 10 lunges were perfect, and the best his nearest competitor could do was to score eight out of a possible 10.

The second series of experiments wer made with foils to complete an electrical circuit, and thus the exact time of the movement from one place to another could thereby be noted. In this series the time was taken to the 1-100th part of a

The third series was to effect an accurate record of the quickness of the action of the mind in following a given signal. In response to the signal the foil was moved to the right, left and up and down as quickly as the mind could react, and the exact time required was noted.

In only the first series was the result announced. Dr. Scripture is footing up formation from Central America points his records and will announce his result to a growing sentiment there in favor of later. He said that the experiments would assuredly decide some of the vexing and mooted questions of his science when accurately compiled.

ARSENIC CAPSULES

Expert Chemists Give Testimony In the Meyer Trial.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 .- George Ramsey, a druggist, was called to the witness stand yesterday as an expert to testify about the capsules which had been identified as the size used by Dr. Meyer in administering pure arsenic to Brandt. He set up a prescription department on a table in front of the jury box, and carefully filled a capsule with the arsenic. Then he place the capsule in his scales, and after a whil said: "The capsule weighs 1 1-2 grains

I have put 26 grains of arsenic in it." Sometimes two grains will kill. Pr fessor Wood had testified that "six to 10 grains of arsenic developed into six dos would prove surely fatal."

The surprise of the day was sprung by the defense when Dr. O'Sullivan called h old enemy, Professor Rudolph A. Witthaus, the chemist, to the witness stand in behalf of Dr. Meyer. Dr. O'Sullivan's first questions were calculated to impress the jury that Professor Witthaus had invariably appeared as an expert against the accused in every post-mortem. It was 4:10 o'clock when the defense closed, having occupied only five hours.

DOESN'T LIKE IT.

Carlisle Displeased With Voorhees' New Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 .- Secretary Carlisle was asked what he thought of Senator Voorhees' financial scheme, which requires the secretary to coin $2,000,000 a month of the seigniorage until exhausted, and thereafter to purchase $2,000,000 of bullion monthly.

The secretary said he knew nothing about it and never heard of it until he read it in the papers. He said that he was decidedly opposed to it, and that it was nothing more or less than the restoration of the old Bland act. In fact he did not want any legislation of that kind. He would not object to a measure giving him authority to coin the seigniorage if he required it, but to compel him to coin $2,000,000 per month until the seigniorage was used up, and then to chase and coin thereafter $2,000,000 bullion monthly he regards as absurd.

The secretary has his report all completed, except that referring to the inter-national revenue branch. He says that the Democratic members of the ways and means committee have promised to give him the information required today. If he gets it he will have his report ready to submit to congress on Monday. The secretary does not believe there will be any change in the sugar schedule The revenue required will be derived from other sources. If the committee shall agree to an individual income tax, it is safe to say that it would stand very little chance of passing the house.

PATENTS

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

SCHAEFER'S ANCHOR.

A World-Breaking Record Run of Nearly

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.-The billiardists were surprised at the great run of 566 made by Schaefer in his contest with Ives Saturday night. They might well be, for it was a surprise to the whole world. The record for a run in 14-inch balk line was made by Ives in Chicago last November, when Schaefer was beaten in a similar way as Ives was. Ives got 450 then, 110 less, and it was all owing to the "anchor" position. The perfect "anchor" is considered to be when the two balls are dead against the cushion No one but a billiardist can imagine the delicacy of touch which can keep them there for any length of time. Some say both balls should not be dead against the cushion, but one may or neither. They must be very close to it and very near each other.
With Schaefer the balls were just free of the cushion, so as to give them play, and he maneuvred with a keen and careful stroke which never waned, and could not waver. Achievement in this specialty is chiefly of keen eyesight. The peril is in hitting the first ball too at very low prices. full, which tends to missing the other. Often what seems to be a true "anchor" is only a "straddle." ## PATENTS

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

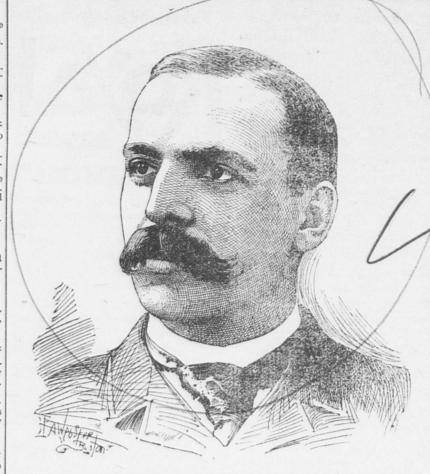

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and ventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable inbeen lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" *ystem. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said Company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applica-tions generally, including mechanical inven tions, design patents, trade marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives especial attention to rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter into competition with any firm in securin oreign patents.

REFUSED TO PLAY.

Walter Damrosch's Musicians Cause Him

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 .- A remarkable scene was enacted last night at Carnegie Music hall. A large audience was assembled in the hall to listen to one of the popular concerts of the Symphony or-chestra, of which Walter Damrosch is the conductor. At 8 o'clock Mr. Damrosch raised his baton, but there was no response from the orchestra. In astonishment he looked at his musicians and again waved his baton. Not the slightest sound came from the musicians.

Raising his baton again Mr. Damrosch beat a few bars of the overture, but the same silence prevailed among the musicians. A sharp hiss was the heard in the front of the house. It was taken up by row after row of seats, and quickly spread row of seats row of to the galleries. The audience was in a decidedly angry mood. Mr. Damrosch and as a member of Congress at one and of America, the largest agricultural nation was plainly embarrassed. Turning to the the same time. assembly, he said:

EXETER, N. The correspondent denies that he had any connection with the outrage, but states that he has ascertained the name of the young men concerned and will pub-lish them. It is learned that there were six students implicated in the affair. The young men have learned that the corre spondent has the correct names, and it is said that he has been offered $500 to sup press them. This failing, they have made all kinds of threats, as the announcement of the names will mean the expulsion of all concerned and probably prosecution by all concerned and probably prosecution by BEANS, representatives of the law. There will be a special meeting of the trustees of the cademy, when further steps will be taken to thoroughly investigate the affair.

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct In-

HAWAII'S MESSAGE

President Cleveland Gives Congress His Views.

These conclusions do not rest for their acceptance entirely upon Mr. Blount's honesty and ability as a man, nor npon his acumen and impartiality as an investigator. They are accompanied by the evidence upon which they are based, which evidence is also herewith transmitted, and from which it seems to me no other deductions could possibly be reached than these arrived at by the commissioner.

Reasons For His Action Presented-Review of the Action of Minister Stevens. Both President Harrison and the Senate_Were Misled-Right and Justice the

The ACORNS, however, are The message of the president was as fol-

> Message to the Senate and House of Represen-In my recent annual message to the congress I briefly referred to our relations with Hawaii and expressed the intention of transmitting further information on the subject when additional advices permitted. Though I am not able now to report a definite change in the actual situation, I am convinced that the difficulties lately created both here and in Hawaii, and now standing in the way of a solution through executive action of the problem presented, render it proper and expedient that the matter should be referred expedient that the matter should be referred to the broader authority and discretion of congress, with a full explanation of the endeavor thus far made to deal with the emergations waitan territory to the United States, he adward a long letter to the secretary of state in Congressian statement of the considerations.

When the present administration entered apon its duties the senate had under consider-ligitimately stands. The feudal bases on ation a treaty providing for the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands to the territory of the United States. Surely under our constiguous government, an obstruction to the prosperity with the Market of the prosperity with the prosperity of the prosperity with the prosperity of the prosperity of the prosperity with the prosperity of the United States. Surely under our constitution and laws the enlargement of our limits is a manifestation of the highest attribute of sovereignty, and if entered upon as an executive act, all things relating to the transaction should be clear and free from suspicion.

Additional importance attaches to this particular treaty of annexation, because it contemplated a departure from unbroken American tradition in providing for the addition to our territory of islands of the sea more is lands. Under a territorial government of the formal providing for the additional importance attaches to this particular treaty of annexation, because it contemplated a departure from unbroken American tradition in providing for the addition to our territory of islands of the sea more in the islands.

Mr. Hamlin alluded to the statesman-like leadership of the president and to the ability of the secretary of the secretary of the treasury and gave credit to the Republicans for their assistance in repealing the silver law of the law secured. Destiny and the vast future interests of the United States in the Pacific clearly indicated who at no distant day must be responsible for the government of the solution. It

These considerations might not of them-selves call for interference with the committed to the senate that the ownership of Hawaii was tendered to us by a provisional government set up to succeed the constitu-tional ruler of the island, who had been dethroned, and it did not appear that such provisional government had the sanction of either pular revolution or suffrage

Two other remarkable features of the transaction naturally attracted attention. One as to the extraordinary haste—not to say precipitancy—characterizing all the transactions connected with the treaty. It appeared that a so-called committee of safety, ostensibly the government of Hawaii, was organized on Saturday, Jan. 14; that on Monday, the 16th United States Forces Were Landed at Honolulu from a naval vessel lying in its harbor; that on the 17th the scheme of a proisional government was perfected, and a pro-lamation, naming its officers, was on the same day prepared and read at the govern-ment building; that immediately thereupon the United States minister recognized the provisional government thus created; that two days afterward, on the 19th day of January, commissioners representing such government sailed for this country in a steamer especially chartered for the occasion, arriving in San Francisco on the 28th day of January, and in Washington on the 3d day of February; that on the next day they had their first interview on the next day they had their first interview with the secretary of state, and another on the 11th, when the treaty of annexation was practically agreed upon, and that on the 14th it was formally concluded, and on the 15th transmitted to the senate.

Thus between the initiation of the scheme for a provisional government in Hawaii on the 14th day of January, and the submission to the senate of the treaty of annexation con-

the senate of the treaty of annexation con-cluded with such government, the entire in-terval was 32 days, 15 of which was spent by the Hawaiian commissioners in their journey

In the next place, upon the face of the papers submitted with the treaty, it clearly and property cf. American citizens. But, as appeared that there was open and undetermined an issue of fact of the most vivid im-

The mes sage of the president accompanying the treaty declared that the "overthrow of the monarchy was not in any way promoted by this government," and in a letter to the president dent from the secretary of state, also submit-ted to the senate with the treaty, the follow-

At the time the provisional government took possession of the government buildings no troops or officers of the United States were present or took any year whatever in the following watchfully waiting—an opportunity which by timely waiting—an opportunity which by no troops or officers of the United States were present or took any part whatever in the proceedings. No public recognition was accorded to the provisional government by the United States minister until after the queen's abdication, and when they were in effective possession of the government buildings, the archives, the treasury, the barracks, the police station and all the potential machinery of the government.

But a Protest Also Accompanied said treaty, signed by the queen and her ministers at the time and made way for the provisional government, which explicitly stated that she yielded to the superior force of the United States, whose minister has caused United States, whose and at Honolulu and declared that he would support such pro-wisional government.

The truth or falsity of this protest was surely of the first importance. If true, nothing but the concealment of its truth could induce the government to negotiate with the semblance of a government thus created, nor could a treaty resulting from the acts stated in the protest have been knowingly deemed worthy of the consideration by the senate. Yet the truth or falsity of the protest had not

He refers to the loss to the Hawaiian grounds the operation of the McKinley bill and the tendency to the still further depreciation of sugar property unless some positive measure of relief is granted.

He strongly inveighs against the existing Hawaiian government and emphatically declares for annexation. He says: "In truth the monarchy here is an absurd anachronism the monarchy here is an absurd anachronism the monarchy here is an absurd anachronism. truth. The Democrats of the whole country are deeply grateful to our gallant leader. We know that his defeat was not personal; it was the temporary setback of

The council has appropriated money in a reckless way to relieve the workingmen of our city. There is no use in robbing one element to assist another when there are means at hand to afford the relief necessary to the satisfaction of all. The high taxes in Quincy are enough without throwing money away. The workingmen will have to pay this money back to the city, either in rents or by taxes, and they judiciously. If it was charity that our which was argued last week, is given below, city was offering, their method would be practically in full, the authorities only, mean, but those in distress want some-thing to do that will benefit the city and which were many, being omitted. show for itself, should another occasion

How was it a mean charity? It was work that the unemployed wanted. The Advertiser is inconsistent when it criticises an appropriation of $10,000, because it would burden the taxpayers, and then advocates $50,000 to be spent to give employment in another way. BY A RECOUNT of votes for mayor in Nashua, N. H., a Democrat declared elected by 31 votes, is ousted and a Republican elected by seven votes. The first count was strictly to the letter of the law while the committee of the city council attempted to interpret the voters' intentions. Just so long as counters are allowed to interpret the intentions of voters, there are liable to be just such changes. Voters should be educated in marking the ballots, and until they can do it correctly their votes should not count. The recount shows 38 more Republicans than Democrats to have marked their ballots irregularly, and shows the need of more care or instructions. A mayor elected in such a way is handicapped at the start.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government of the content of the co ernment to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and -kilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appli-cation for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who intrust their asiness to this class of attorneys do so at aminent risk, as the breadth and strength

The Hawaiian Message Occupies Attention of Both Branches.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The fight over the Hawaiian matter, in the house, followed fast and furious on the heels of the reading of the message. The first skirmish occurred over the question of reading the instructions to Minister Willis, which was insisted upon by Mr. Boutelle The house finally agreed to this, and immediately after the conclusion of the reading Mr. Boutelle renewed the assault by bringing forward a resolution declaring the administration's policy inconsistent with the spirit of the constitution and the tradition of the government. Great excitement reigned, and in the confusion

Editorial Comment.

WALTHAM HAS a good idea on the assessment of sewer rates. The sewer commissioners recommended to the aldermen a grade assessment in three classes. The schedule is based on the water rate and is as follows: First class $1.67, second class $2.42, third class $3.42.

THE MAYOR and city clerk of Fall River it. The aldermen proposed to increase the salary of the former from $3,000 to $3,500, and the latter from 2,800 to $3,000 but both declined, and the aldermen who proposed to double their own salary, $300 to $600, finally thought it best for all to continue at the present salary. City Clerk Ballard has nearly completed 36 years of service.

"MAYOR HODGES' opportunity" is the caption of an editorial in the Monitor, he visited at different times. which will be endorsed by many. It reads:

of the principles of civil service reform. If merit, capability and efficiency are the reasons for appointment to office in local partment (as well as the police) have been threatened by irresponsible partisans, with wholesale discharge of competent subordinates. True politics and shrewdness would endeavor to make friends rather than enemies. Republican mayors have certainly been generous toward men who are known to be sterling Democrats, and Mayors Porter and Fairbanks recognized merit in their political opponents by appointing Democrats to many of their most mportant offices. It would make Mayor Hodges very close and enduring friends i he follows the same generous method in filling the positions at his disposal.

Yet Mr. Ewell can hardly expect any favors from the incoming government. Chief Engineer Ripley is doubtless another marked man, Democrats of the present Council having recommended it, yet it may be difficult to find a better all-round man. City Solicitor McAnarney, although a Democrat, has probably defended the Republican administration so successfully, as to bring displeasure of the Democrats. The police department has not yet come up to the expectations of the citizens. The patrol is a permanent force under the civil service rules and changes could not be easily made if desired. Chief Langley may not be responsible for all the shortcomings of the department, but it is doubtful if he would have been retained in the position under a Republican administration. Yet a difficulty arises, where to find just the man wanted. It is a position that can be filled by a non-resident at the time of his appointment, yet it would seem as if some Quincy man might be secured. A clean sweep of the Board of Assessors s probable, yet people would like to see Mr. Perkins retained either as Principal Assessor or assistant. It is unfortunate for the taxpayers that there are so many changes in this board, and an equitable assessment cannot be expected so long as it continues. None of the present board were on the board of 1892, and there have been three different Principal Assessors during the five years, two Democrats serving two years each. The Assessors should be a continuous board—the Principal to be appointed annually and three of the six assistant assessors for two years each. This would give a new administration the way to change a majority of the board yet retain three old members each year.

It was granted to me to look into the place of torment, and the things I saw there were awful. Picture it to yourself as you will! When I recovered from the horror that fell upon me, I recognized many men and women whom I had known on earth. Among the latter I noticed a woman whom I had known well on earth, and who deserved to be among the lost, I thought. I had never anticipated any other sentence Officer Allen of South Weymouth, for her. Although she had possessed more

She glanced at me, and before I knew it she had put her hand in the bag which she carried on her arm and thrown the nuts into my lap.

"The cask had been rolled into the shop by this time, and the throng of people carried her along. She tried to stop. It was not easy, and she only did it to toss me a second, third and fourth handful of the most beautiful walnuts. I can still see it all, as if it were today! Then she felt in her pocket, probably to get some money for me, but the press of people was too strong for her to stand against it longer. I doubt if she heard that I thanked her."

Here the angel broke off and threw a kiss to the condemned woman, and St. Peter asked her how it happened that she, who had been so deaf to all appeals from the —Trainmen must hereafter remove their poor, had been so generous to the child.

some money, though only a little.' But Peter interrupted her. He had heard enough, and as he knew that it was impossible for any one in heaven or hell to tell an untruth, he nodded to her, saying: "That was, beyond dispute, a good deed, but it is too small to counterbalance the great weight of your bad deeds. Perhaps it may lighten your punishment. Still, great riches were meted out to you on earth, and what were a few nuts to you! The motive that urged you to bestow them is pleasing in the sight of the Lord, I acknowledge, but, as I said before, your charity was too paltry for you to be released from your pains because of it."

He turned to go, but a clear voice of wonderful sweetness held him back. It was that of the Saviour, who advanced with majestic dignity toward the apostle and spoke: "Let us first hear if the almsgiving of which we have just learned was really too small to plead for leniency toward this sinning soul. Let us hear"—turning to the ange!—"what became of the nuts."

the angel. "Do we not owe it to the nuts of that woman that a zire child's soul was led to us? That in itself is no small thing. "Widow, and I supported my children entirely by the work of my hands. By dint of great effort I brought them up well, and Tell what further happened to you." "I ate most of them," the little girl answered, "but I had still more to eat by Christmas eve, for the people who had looked at me when the woman threw some-thing into my lap were interested in my suffering, and soon I had sold all six sheen and besides many pennies and groschen one big thaler had flown into my lap. With these I was able to buy mother many things that she stood in sore need of, and though she died on New Year's morning she had

meaning at Peter, when a large and beautiful angel, the spirit of the mother of the cherub began: "If you will permit me, O holy Jesus, I, too, would like to say a word in favor of the condemned. Before Hannele came home with the nuts I lay in bed, without hope or help in my great suffering. I had lost all faith, for my prayers had not been heard, and in the bitterness of my heart it seemed that you, who were said to be the friend of the poor on earth, and God

Now, my little angel, what became of the last of them? Speak on. Gladly will I listen to you."

Hannele began anew: "After they had buried mother, they sent me into the country among the mountains, for they said it was not the duty of the city to care for me, but that of the village parish where my parents were born. So I was taken there. The six nuts that I had saved I took with me to play with. This I most enjoyed doing in the spring, alone on the little strip of grass behind the poorhouse, in which I was the only child. Besides me there were but three old women, 'being fed to death,' as the peasants used to say.

"Not one of them noticed anything that happened around them, but my heart used to grow light when everything about me stocking hanging outside the berth where the little girl lay with her mother. I tell you the effect was electrical. It brought budded and sprouted and burst into bloom. My body was always aching, but my pains could not lessen my enjoyment of the spring. Wherever I looked men were sowing and planting. It was the first time stuffed and jammed that stocking full of that I had ever seen it, and the wish came fruit, candy, money, trinkets and the like, over me to confide something to the good and then filled handkerchiefs until they earth that would take root and sprout and were great round balls and tied them on, grow green and high for me.

"So I stuck four of my nuts into the ground. I put them as far apart in the world to take care of. Next morning I ensmall space as I could, so that if big trees came from my seeds they might not stand one. They were the especial pets of the ocian one another's way, but might all enjoy casion, and every one came round and said the air and the sunshine that I was so thankful for. I saw my seed sprout, but what became of them afterward I did not all. It brought them together, and every live to see. Two years after I sowed them a famine fell upon us. The poor weavers, who lived in the mountain village, had all few coals. My own pangs hurt me, but they could do to nourish wife and child. sociable. I tell you it takes little children to bind human hearts together and make

"Only one of the blind women and the dull witted one followed the sack in which I was buried-for who would have paid for s coffin? The last two nuts I divided with the old women. Each one of us had a half, and how gladly we ate the little morsel, for even a taste of any dainty seemed good to ns after we had lived on nothing but bread and potatoes. From here I watched the other nuts grow to be trees. All four had straight stems and thick crowns. Under an enormous eater and was particularly one of them that stood near a spring, which is now called the Fresh spring, an old carpenter who came to the poorhouse built a royal presence a loin so noble in its propor-

The story is Master, I am that old carpenter, and dur far from bad and illustrates the cheerful ing my last summers I had no greater pleasure than to sit by the Fresh spring and humor; but, unfortunately for its under the nut tree, and while I smoked my pipe to think of my old wife, whom I was oon to find again with you. In the autumn, too, many a dry brown leaf found its way among the more expensive tobacco ones. But the nut trees were cut down many years ago.' "I saw it," cried the spirit of little Hannele, and one felt from her tone how she deplored it. "They were felled when the poorhouse was given up. But the great Son of God has now heard what he wished to know." "No, no," the Saviour answered, "I should still like to know what became of the wood of these trees.'

The voices of several angels were heard at the same moment, for many of the poor weavers of Dorbstadt were to be found in the heavenly kingdom. St. Peter, however, bade them to be quiet and permitted only the one who had last entered the abode of the blessed to speak. "I was the village doctor," this one began, "and I quitted the earth because I, too, fell a victim to the pestilence of which many of the poor people were dying and against which I fought with all my small powers, but with small success. I can tell you all that you wish to know, My master, for during 45 years I devoted my humbl services to the sick poor there. When Hannele died in our poorhouse—it happened be-fore my time—the misery was even greater than at present. The weavers were ground down by the large manufacturers until an energetic man built a factory in our village and paid them better wages.

"As the population then increased, and consequently the number of patients, space was wanting in which to house them, for the dilapidated poorhouse-whither they were carried-was no longer large enoug to accommodate them all. Therefore the parish, aided by the owner of the factory, built a hospital for the whole district, and the site of the old poorhouse was chosen for it. The beautiful nut trees which Hannele had planted had to be destroyed. I was sorry to be obliged to give the order, but we needed the ground where they stood. As we had to be economical in everything. big and little, we had planks sawed out of the trees for our use.' "I owe it a debt of gratitude too, but for an entirely different service," said a beauti-

But all three, my Master, were lost to me, taken away by the unfathom able wisdom of the Father. Two fell in wat the third was killed by the machinery while at his work. That broke my strength, and when they brought me to the hospital I was on the verge of dispair, and life seemed a greater burden than I could bear. "Your image, my Saviour, had just been finished by a sculptor who had carved it from the wood of the nut tree by the Fresh spring. They put it opposite to my bed. It represented you, my Lord, on the cross, and your head bowed in agony, with its crown of thorns, was a sorrowful sight. Yet I paid but small heed to it. One morning, however-it was the anniversary of the death of my two dear sons, who had lost their lives fighting bravely side by side for their fatherland—on that morning the sun fell upon your sad face and bleeding hands pierced by the nails, and then I reflected how bitterly you had suffered, though inthe Father, had forgotten us in our misery | nocent, that you might redeem us, and how in order to overwhelm the rich with greater | your mother must have felt to lose such a

The most bitter opposition existed to each of these propositions, the first of which was denominated on the floor as a proceeding whose scandalous character had not been approached since the days of the famous salary grab. Fighting Power of the Vessel May Be Weakened.

PERNAMBUCO, Dec. 19.—The Brazilian cruiser Nictheroy arrived here on Thursday with all well in health, but all wrong from other points of view.

During the passage the rough and ready crew shipped in New York were put through a regular course of instruction in the duties of a man-of-war. Until the coast of Brazil was sighted the sailors were in a very fair state of preparation for an engagement with the enemies of Brazil.

But the discordant elements noticed among the crew shortly after we left New York increased considerably as days wore on, and much dissatisfaction was mani-

Full-Fledged Sailors. There was an unwritten understanding that the crew was to be reshipped upon arrival in Brazil as full-fledged sailors in the Brazilian navy, and at the same rate of wages as agreed upon in New York. At St. Thomas rumors were circulated that the crew would expect higher wages upon being formally enlisted, and this intention to strike for more money increased FALL RIVER, Mass., Dec. 20.-Martin | to such a point that we had not reached strikers had managed to prevail upon considerable of the Nictheroy's crew to demand increased wages before signing the articles of enlistment, and the representatives of President Peixoto were so

The Demands Refused.

President Peixoto's agents, after patiently listening to the Nictheroy's crew, consulted with headquarters, and then quietly but firmly refused to grant the excessive demands, and made preparations to ship Brazilian sailors. This may cause a considerable weakening of the Nictheroy as a fighting vessel, though it is expected that nearly all the officers and petty officers, as well as the better element among the able seamen, will stand by the dynamite thrower, and proceed south with her.

This, however, is by no means certain. The crew are of the opinion that the Brazilian government will have to grant to obtain any kind of a crew capable of working the Nictheroy in any successful manner at this port, or at any other port

GROSS INJUSTICE AND TYRANNY

Shown In Connection With the Hawaiian Trouble.

Augusta, Me., Dec. 21.-Ex-Minister Stevens makes the following reply to President Cleveland's message and his eriticisms of his - Mr. Stevens - official

Human government in its best form archy forever. sometimes fails to secure all the just objects for which it has been created. No one who has studied the doings of the remarkable body of men who formulated the constitution of the United States has failed to observe what care and effort were exercised to create an executive power which would not be abused for purposes of usurpation and tyranny.

There is nothing in American history more shameful in its scope of injustice and tyranny than the attempt of President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham to crush out liberty and American interests in Hawaii by the threat to restore the extinct Hawaiian monarchy by force of arms or by diplomatic caicanery and pressure, more infamous, if possible, than the use of ball and bayonet.

"A Feeble Repetition." Even the atrocious attempt years ago to force the pro-slavery LeCompton constitu-tion on the people of Kansas by federal payonets, which so signally failed of accomplishment, seems diminutive in contrast with the astounding proposition and avowed purpose to overturn the pro-visional government of Hawaii, back of which stands that noble American colony, and around which is crystallized the interests of American Christian civilization in that advanced and invaluable American outpost in the North Pacific. President Cleveland's recent special message, in which he so severely criticises the course of the American minister at Hono-lulu, is but a feeble repetition of the superficial report of Commissioner Blount and the statement of Secretary Gresham, previously published.

Blount's Allegations Untrue. In my answer to Blount's report I showed sible witnesses have shown, that the allegations in that report against the official

When Captain Wiltse and myself in the Boston arrived in the harbor of Honolulu in the forenoon of Jan. 14 I was completely taken by surprise at what the queen, the palace associates, and the lot-tery gang had accomplished in 10 days. The remonstrances of the chamber of com-merce, of the numerous petitions of some of the best people of the island, both whites and natives, and the earnest pleadings of those who had previously adhered to the monarchy had been defiantly disre-

Without sleep for two days and nights on the Boston, without stopping to change dress, with the English minister I hastened to get access to the queen and to try by friendly advice to arrest the revolution. It was too late; the mobs of royal retainers were already gathering to the palace to aid the queen to carry out her plan of overturning the constitution. What took place at the palace that afternoon of Jan. 14 ended the Hawaiian mon-

Refused Aid to Monarchy. Though I was nearly without sleep for 96 hours during those exciting events, and on the afternoon of the 17th was very ill, I held my brain sufficiently at command to refuse the solicited use of force to restore the queen to the throne, which she had recklessly lost three days before, and to recognize the provisional government when it had become master of the situa-tion, the self-possession of the citizens, who had chosen the committee of safety, being the only governing force in Hono-lulu that had lasted from the afternoon of Jan. 14 to the afternoon of Jan 17.

Why did the queen's representatives call at the United States legation on the 17th and ask the aid of the United States force to support her? There never was a more preposterous assumption than this assertion of the president, that the queen, Jan. 17, had ample force to sustain her, and to enable her to carry on the government. This studiously maintained assumption of the president is based on the testimony of the notoriously corrupt representatives of the rings that surrounded Liliuokalani that the Hawaiian monarchy was overturned by United for the sole purpose of bringing discredit on the preceding administration at Washington, and on the action of the foreign relations committee of the United States senate in favor of annexation. A Summing Up.

LABOR AND CAPITAL'S RELATIONS.

Trusts and Lynching Outrages Considered.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21. — Ex-President Benjamin Harrison, accompanied by his piece, Mrs. Dimmock, arrived in this city jesterday afternoon. Later in the day Mr. Harrison was the chief guest at a dinner given in his honor by Thomas M. Pierce at the Bellevue. In the evening he delivered an address at the commence ment exercises of the Pierce Business college in the Academy of Music. The address was in the main confined to advice to young men, but there were portions of it which dealt with public questions. Of strikes and labor agitation generally, the speaker said:

"It is a sad and dangerous fact that capital and labor are organized to fight each other; that the laboring man is thought to regard his employer as an antagonist-too often an enemy, and that the greedy or vexed or impatient employer, resentful of what he regards as unwarranted interference with the business is sometimes too ready to treat a work man with a grievance as he would treat a jolting, unbalanced machine, and throw it into the scrap pile. Good Will Prevails.

"It is a wholesome fact that the working people of the United States so generally reject the teachings of anarchy. workman is a producer: the anarchist is a destroyer, and fellowship is impossible. There is one good thing about these evil times and that is good will. They give men an opportunity to show their concern for each other. The roll of the largest brotherhood is being called, and men see with great wonder how great the family is. "How many idle workmen now see that it is not safe to assume that the employers interest and theirs is wholly antagonistic both. Is not the conclusion too clear to escape the most sluggish understanding that hard times for the employer cannot be good times for the employe? A brisk and regular demand for the products of States forces, and was and is put forth labor at fair prices is the only safe support of the wage scale, as it is of dividends.' Trusts. Concerning trusts Mr. Harrison has this to say: "They have been, perhaps, the greatest factor in the rapid development of the national wealth, they are indispensable; but the magnitude and multitude It remains to be seen if the American congress and the American people will of these corporate enterprises, the enorganisms of these corporate enterprises, the enorganisms of these corporate enterprises. mous powers they possess and the often elusive character of their ownership and the provisional government at Hawaii, and use the military forces of the United management suggest restraint, control and limitation. the following terms: 'These frightful lynchings that the daily papers record, with their shocking incidents of cruelty, shame our civilization. The victims are the poor and weak, and the adequacy of the courts to punish such has never been impeached. It is not enough to silently or even openly to condemn such crimes. We must make the sentiment of disapproval dominant, and boldly re-enforce the offi cers of the law.'

This evening the ex-president's reception at the Union league will take place.

ALL BUT ONE

Of the Charges Against Rev. Mr. Thompson Were Proven

All day Wednesday the Norfolk Association of Congregational ministers heard the charges against the Rev. N. B. Thompson of Brockton.

Strong evidence was introduced that he was on the Portland boat as charged, but Mr. Thompson contradicted these when he estified and introduced affidavits, one of the hackmen who took another man than Mr. Thompson from the boat; that of Mrs. Atwood of Boston, to show that Mr. Thompson spent the evening in question in that city; that of Miss Lucy Greenough of the Congregational House to show that he was at that building at 9 o'clock the following morning, and that of John Reagan of Wakefield, to show that Mr. Thomp-

on was at that place at noon that day. The other charges of untruthfulness vere then considered at length. About three o'clock the testimony was concluded, and half an hour later, Mr. Thompson began his argument in his defence. He talked an hour and a quarter, being frequently interrupted, and was afterward questioned at some length upon various matters. He was asked to explain the H. C. Newton affair, but it was finally thought est not to go into the matter at length. Shortly after five o'clock he was requested to leave the room, and the association then took up their deliberation upon the charges. A decision was reached today, which sustained all the charges except that relating to the room in Brockton.

It was a trial where there was much conflicting testimony, and the ministers realized the situation of a jury, which has to if possible. If they can get the party to weigh the character as well as the testimony of witnesses.

Christmas on a Monday. In the Harleian manuscripts a prophecy is mentioned showing that if Christmas day falls on a Monday many disasters are

If Christmas day on Monday be, A great winter that year you'll se And full of winds both loud and shrill. But in summer, truth to tell, High winds shall there be and strong, Full of tempests lasting long, While battles they shall multiply, And great plenty of beasts shall die.

With regard to this last prophecy, the Pall Mall Gazette pointed out in 1866 how curiously correct were the events of that year, following the falling of Chrismas day on Monday in 1865. It was remarked of three of the prophecies that the wind lasted in 1866 from January to May; that a war was ended by the battle of Sadowa, when the Prussians and Austrians were in conflict, and that the cattle plague was in full swing, being a legacy of the outburst of the rinderpest of 1865.-Manchester Times.

Christmas Aphorisms. Christmas is a day to form good resolutions. It is easier to form them on that or any other day than to keep them for a sin gle month.

Christmas has gradually evolved out of its theology and has come to stand for a festival of love. Therefore all men love it, for throughout the universe love is born of love and is worshiped for its own sake. No conscientious person can enjoy his Christmas dinner if he knows anybody else

Government Forces Get the Worst of It In Brazil.

LONDON, Dec. 21.-The Times publishes today the following dispatch from Rio de Janeiro, dated Dec. 16, via Montevideo, Dec. 20:

Since my last dispatch the insurgents have directed a heavy rifle and machine gun fire on the shore front, driving the government troops from the custom house, Largo da Paco and other points. Consequently all business in the city is practically stopped, the banks are closed, and there is no communication between the

The heavy artillery fire continues. When the garrison of Villegaignon was dining, a shell from a 10-inch Armstrong gun on Fort Sao Joao penetrated the case ments, killing five men and seriously wounding nine others.

It is not unlike Voltaire's statement regarding the keeping of Christmas in some French cities: First a young man appears with wings on his shoulders and recites the "Hail Mary!" to which a girl responds and medals. "Fiat," after which the make believe angel kisses her on the mouth. Then a boy inside a pasteboard cock shrieks, "Puer natus est," a fat ox growls "Ubi?" a lamb bleats an heirloom in the shape of a small cupe of "Bethlehem," an ass brays "Hihamus" instead of "Eamus"-and then the affair is

Cannot Be Continued Without an Absolute Loss.

A Claim That Wool Manufactories Wil. comes a Law-Heavy Revenues Thrown List-Alleged Discrimination In Favor ence with it will not affect. of the South-Placing of Coal on the Propositions."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.-The following are the important features of the subjects | Become Victims of an Accident on treated specially by the minority members of the ways and means committee:

In discussing the woolen schedule the in the committee bill is in some respects | Nashua prvision of the Boston and Maine the most reprehensible. It proposes to destroy at a blow the great industry of wool growing, which now ranks as seventh in the value of its products among the several branches of American among the several branches of American among the several branches of howestofore.

Nashua arvasion of the Descardance in a landing, he wrote a letter to the state department pertaining to his history and intentions as given. He received a letter from Secretary Gresham which seems to settle the matter against him and in favor of the manifestly unjust ruling of the manifestly unjust ru among the several orancies of American another one of the party, and she was in Turkish government. been recognized as an agricultural product deserving and requiring protection under every administration and by every tariff act since that of May 22, 1824. Nothing short of the total destruction of this important industry can be counted upon as the consequence of placing both wool and mutton on the free list.

It is a fact, established by experience, that at the prices for wool now prevailing in the foreign markets, our farmers cannot continue the business of wool growing without absolute yearly loss. The depreciation in the value of this species of agritoday. cultural property may be conservatively

The bill deals with the wool manufacture in terms less radical than those accorded the wool growing industry, upon which it so largely depends. It proposes to revolutionize the manufacture of a change more radical than textile indusdark, divested of the safeguard of specific duties, and subjected to lower ad valorems than will offset the difference in cost of production. We have secured in the United States a magnificent wool manufacturing industry, in which over $300,000,000 is invested, making every variety of woolen gools, and employing more than 250,000 operatives. This industry the majority offers up as a sacrifice on the altar of "tariff reform."

The time allowed by this bill is of no more service than no interval at all. The terms of the bill are equivalent to an edict from the committee commanding every woolen manufacturer to shut down and keep shut down until the bill becomes a Metals.

Coming to the metal schedule the report says: Some idea seems to have prevailed in the minds of the majority to the effect that duties should be adjusted in proportion to the advance of the article in manufacture. The idea does not seem, however, to have been very successfully worked out. The change proposed is referred to, and the report continues That which lies at the base of our iron and steel industry is iron ore. The existing duty thereon is 75 cents a ton. The revenues from its importation aggregated in the last fiscal year $507,976.19.

It is proposed to throw away absolutely every cent of this large revenue by put-ting iron ore on the free list. The bill proposes to put into competition with American ores foreign ores, some of which are produced at a labor cost of one-tenth, and none of them at a labor cost greater than one-fourth of ours.

There are two provisions in the bill which, when brought side by side, dis-close in a significant way its sectional character. Hoop or band iron or steel bars an ad valorem duty of 30 per cent "except as otherwise provided for." The certificate stated that the cause of death was "Homicidal by a poisonous dose of was "Homicidal by a poisonous dose of meet the Jacquary interest, but so far as I ties of iron or steel for baling cotton, paris green." which are placed on the free list.

lorem is characterized as indefensible. The sugar bounty is next dealt with, and the law of 1890 is held up for approval as a contrast between congress and producers, under which large amounts of money have been invested.

Cotton. The cotton schedule is declared as show-tion of the other schedules. It is an important industry, not only in New England, but has become such in the southern, middle and western states as well. In the New England states 402 of these industries are found which give employment to 143,718 people and distribute annually among them the sum of to Enter Turkey.

benefits of protection in this industry at least is manifested from the fact that 37,168 people find employment in 239 cotton mills, and there is paid to them annually the sum, in round numbers, of $8,000,000. The import duty imposed under existing law is scarcely sufficient to protect American labor and capital from heavy importations from England.

Coal. One of the most amazing propositions of the bill, the minority say, is that bituminous coal shall be put on the free Entertainment in Aid of Its Interior Decoratison.

The benefit entertainment of the High school brought together Thursday night a goodly number of the friends of the school. They were entertained by a programme that from the opening solo by Mr. Quick proved a source of great pleasure to all, if we may judge by the applause and by the responses urgently requested by their hands. at his home on Granite street. The programme had considerable variety, but it was soon evident that even among pleasing performers, the audience had quickly chosen their favorites. Miss Sterns "owned" the house from the "Rescue of Lucknow" to the "Lullaby," her last encore. She showed to those who followed her closely that the "Ballad of East and West" was her favorite selection, and in this she lost herself to such a degree that all were taken to India and became Christmas began in the public schools spectators of what she delineated. ## FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct In-

I have my own ambition. It is not To mount on eagle wings and soar away Beyond the palings of the common lot, Scorning the griefs and joys of every day: I would be human-toiling, like the rest, With tender human heartbeats in my breast.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS.

How to Arrange Flowers and Greens or the Dinner Table.

Much careful thought and attention hould be given to the home table on Christmas day, as a happy arrangement of greens or plateau of flowers will be found to give the needful touch that makes the Christ-mas dinner the bright and cheery meal it should be. When greens also are desired for decoration, a large branch of mistletoe is effectively placed over its chandelier, and a basket of holly, with its berries, in the center of the table. English mistletoe is preferable to the American, both on account of its richer coloring and the larger size of the berries.

Place several sprays of either holly or mistletoe about the table, tying the larger ones with scarlet ribbon. If other greens are used, try to carry out the same sugges tion, adding to them above the chandelier branches of the brilliant hued sumac, placng a mass of bittersweet in the center of the table and sprays carelessly here and there on the cloth. The result will prove to you that even without the holly and the tletoe your table may be daintily and effectively decorated. Sometimes ferns done are used; sometimes ferns with lilies

When both greens and flowers are desired the former is more effective on or above the chandelier, the flowers placed in the center of the table. A pretty addition would be if pushed up would be absolutely rejected the placing of a small spray of holly, with its herries, tied with a tiny scarlet ribbon, at each person's place. One could add little

The flowers used may be either orchids, few detached roses, if such are used as a ance. centerpiece, may be carelessly thrown here and there about the table, having an eye sail at 5 p. m. Inquiries at the office were are seemingly caught together with a few roses, violets or lilies of the valley in small bunches. The napery, glass and china will of necessity be on Christmas day of the finest the house can boast. In completing the table decorations do not forget to place a sprig of holly in the Christmas pudding. Minister Willis.

HAWAIIAN CRISIS NEAR AT HAND.

McGovern Bros.' Periodical Store, Han- Decision of United States Awaited With Anxiety.

> Honolulu, Dec. 14, via San Francisco, Dec. 22.—The last news received here from the United States was by a sailing vessel which arrived Dec. 11. The barkentine George Perkins brought the text of ex-Queen Liliuokalani's statement as given to Commissioner Blount. Prominent Wilson, admitted at once that the statement by the ex-queen was virtually correct, and set forth in a succinct manner the claims relied upon by the ex-queen's party. Interviews held with leading annexationists showed the effect of the admissions. They hold that the ex-queen in admitting she had prepared a new constitution which she was ready to force upon the foreigners had admitted the groundwork upon which the revolution of last January was based.

At the present writing the political situation at Honolulu is in a state of abeyance awaiting the news expected to arrive by the steamer Alameda due on the 21st inst. In the meantime the provisional government is carrying out the plans of defense already reported. Royalists' Hopes.

Conversations with the leading royalists develop the belief that President Cleveland will endeavor to carry out his policy of restoration. They admit that the entire dependence of their cause rests now upon the firmness displayed by Mr. Cleveland. They admit that without the armed support of the United States they have no hopes of re-establishing the monarchy, and that without foreign aid they have no hope of overthrowing the provisional

Minister Willis has absolutely nothing to say on the situation beyond a reiteration that he is awaiting further instructions from Washington, which have been made necessary by certain contingencies which have arisen since his arrival. What these contingencies are no man knows

The royalists claim that if congress refuses to settle the matter in favor of the ex-queen, as proposed by Mr. Cleveland, the Hawaiian affair is liable at any moment to assume international proportions, sel wrecked at White island is still a and hint that both England and Japan

President Dole expressed the hope that the congress of the United States would aid Hawaii in reaching -her ultimate destiny, from which he believed neither diplomatic intrigue nor force could long deter her, and affirmed that he firmly believed such steps would be taken on the opening of that body as would do away with the necessity of the provisional government meeting the proposed policy of the restoration with force, which must certainly result if the Cleveland administration attempts to again saddle a native monarchy upon the white popula-

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. This opinion is expressed without consultation with the Mayor elect, and without the slightest knowledge of what he intends to do. But it would be safe to say that the very first office to which any Mayor would turn his attention, would be that of city clerk. It is equally safe to say that no one appreciates the situation more than Mr. Spear. He knows how intimate a connection the clerk has with the Mayor, and it is highly probable that he will be the first official to tender his resignation.

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. A LOSS OF $200,000.

At Least One Life Lost In a Big Fire at Boston, Dec. 23 .- One human life and cacrificed in the spectacular blaze which made the Wakefield building on Friend street a ruin. It is by no means sure that careful search may not reveal other vic-tims, for the fire spread with great rapidity, many of the men and women employed in the building being glad to escape without hats and outer garments. Everything in the block was of the most inflammable character, and from the first the destruction of the structure was a foregone conclusion.

Thanks to the direction of the wind, the time of day, the temperature and the ready access which could be gained to the burning building from three streets, there was no time at which the surrounding property was really threatened other than by the innumerable sparks that fell within a half-mile radius.

The upper four stories of the building were gutted. They were occupied by John M. Woods & Co., lumber dealers; Wire Mattress company.

HAS RIO FALLEN?

Rumors to That Effect Are Thus Far Un-

Washington, Dec. 23.—An investigation of every possible avenue of information in Washington as to the rumors in Pernambuco that Rio had fallen and that President Peixoto had resigned and was a prisoner shows that neither in official nor diplomatic circles has any word been received which confirms the rumors. This failure of all departments and interested legations to receive information, much less verification of such an important report, is so uniform as to lead officials and diplomats to the conclusion that the rumors current in Pernambuco are premature at any rate. At the navy department no word of any such startling movement has been received from Captain Picking, in command of the United States naval forces in Brazil.

A Setback For Sports.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 23.-The Duval Athletic club received a setback yesterday in its efforts to pull off the Corbett-Mitchell fight. For several months past he has been writing similar letters to a number of pulled the trigger of a self-acting reprominent public men. among whom prominent public men, among whom were Vice President Stevenson, Senator Gorman, Senator Mills, Senator Sherman and, as the man himself claims, President Cleveland and Secretary Lamont. As long ago as during the fight over the silver question in the senate Vice President Stevenson received letters almost daily from Donjon, who was then in Newark, N. J. No attention was paid to them. The vice president yesterday received a letter which was dated from 304 Leigh stress on the assertion that he is a Catholic and professes a degree of piety. His story is that he came to this country to be made by team. when 15 years old. He had been a tele graph operator, but gave up this work because there was some slight difference in the instruments and the alphabet. "Under those circumstances," he continued, "if I had secured a job they would have sent me to some remote office in the far west prisoner showed a fantastic apprehension that was characteristic of the tone of his

Visited the Northwest. a time in Ohio. Later with his father and nother and brother he went to Newark, N. J. Last May, being out of employment, he went west to Washington and Idaho, and he tells a rather fearful tale of the dangers he encountered from rough miners in that country while prospecting for gold. Then he went back to Newark and lived with his parents and brothers at 128 Burnett street. This agrees with the address of the earlier letters received from him here. He contends that he was prevented from securing employment because he was not a member of the Knights of Labor or any other labor union. As to the letters he has been writing, he claims that he was incited to write them by other people, receiving $100 for loing it. Asked as to the character of the persons who did this, he disclaimed that they were anarchist, or were merely private persons. He also denies that there were any threats in the letters or any reference to dynamite. "I never saw dynamite, and wouldn't know it if I saw it," said he.

When asked what right he had to comose such letters at the bidding of other people, he simply inquired: "What right have you to w.it : down what I am telling you. It was simply a business I went into to make a living, just as you write news for the newspapers. His "Propositions."

He claimed that all that was contained in any of the letters were a proposition to each of the men addressed to forward him the cost of transportation to Wash ington and an offer to come on there and make a business proposition to them.

The man came to Washington three days ago from Baltimore. Sunday he fell in with a German on a bench in one of the public parks. The man was drunk, but spoke some words of encouragement, and told him that he was out of work, too, but gave him a quarter and hoped he the best thing he could do with the quarter was to get some postal cards and make another effort to secure answers from them to whom he had been sending. He took lodgings and waited all yester day for some one to appear in reply to his postal cards, but no one came. He then determined, he says, to start out to look for Chief Drummond and brought up in is no clue to his identity.

THE LUMBER SCHEDULE.

Canadians Want to See No Change In the WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.-Information received here indicates that the Canadian government is taking no chances, and is at work to secure the retention of lumber on the free list in the Wilson bill. The opposition of certain interests to placing lumber on the free list has aroused the Canadian government, and Mr. Courtney, the deputy minister of finance, has been Joseph Donjon Has Been Worrying sent here. The argument that is being used to overcome the operation to free lumber is that, in case this provision is eliminated from the Wilson bill, an export duty will be levied by the Canadian overnment on logs and lumber.

Logs are now on the free list by the law of 1890, as well as the law of 1883. In other words, the Dominion government has now taken the position that if the United States refuses to admit sawed lumber free, it will deprive the United States mills of the benefit of free Canadian logs. The Wilson bill has a provision in it supplementing the lumber schedule to the effect that free lumber will not be operative as against countries imposing an export duty on lumber.

Expects to Get a Thousand Able-Bodied Men.

PERNAMBUCO, Dec. 26.—The situation of affairs has very materially changed in this city within the last few hours. Until Christmas morning Pernambuco believed that its harbor was to be the scene of the first big naval battle between the Republica, Admiral Mello's best warship, and the Aquidaban, her companion, on the one side, and the Nictheroy, President Peixoto's dynamite gun cruiser, on the

This belief was amply justified by the report received a few days ago that the Republica and the Aquidaban had been seen off the Brazilian coast, headed northward, and apparently bound for Pernambuco, as if to take the Nictheroy by surprise and compel her to fight without a chance of putting to sea.

The news received here yesterday changed the whole aspect of affairs. The rebel warships, it is learned, were not on toward the mountainous and rugged island of Fernando de Joronha, where there is a large convict settlement. This island, despite its ruggedness, possesses considerable fertility, and its several harors, defended by forts, would enable Mello to make a vigorous resistance of the attacking party.

Mello Wants Fighters. The revolutionary admiral's object in going to Fernando de Noronha, which is C. S. HUBBARD'S, over 100 miles from the main coast of Brazil, is to compel as many able-bodied convicts as he can find in the settlement to go aboard his vessels and join their crews. It is said that he expects to secure not less than 1000 men in this way. Upon receipt of this news aboard the Nictheroy there was great activity noticeable. Members of the crew were sent ashore in small boats to search through

men as had been allowed leave to land to hurry them back to the vessel. The Nictheroy's commander had apparently received instructions as to how he should act in such an emergency, and these instructions, it is believed, were to the effect that if he became convinced that the coming to Pernambuco of the Republica and the Aquidaban proved to be untrue, and that these vessels, instead of starting, were evading fight, he should lose no further time, but put to sea at once and force them into a naval contest for supe-

This view of the case proved to be correct, for yesterday afternoon, when all of the men belonging to the Nictheroy's crew had been gotten aboard, she steamed out to sea and pointed her nose for the northwest. The Nictheroy's destination is the island of Fernando de Noronha. If this information is correct, the long

Try, then, to be healthy and fat. It's not difficult. If you know how, the trying is both easy and pleasant. In a few words, getting fat consists in

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Scott, North Abington ordinary people, had a great many fundy notions about the stomach; about how food was digested, and about what became of it after it was digested.

No one knows any better; no one had studied right. Not till some very eminent men gave the subject their special attention, did we get any real knowledge.

Most people (and many doctors) still think that everything you take into your mouth is digested in your stomach. This is wrong. The only foods that are directly digested in the stomach are the albumens, and these, while important, are if anything, the least important of the foods we digest.

To understand how to get fat, you must try to remember the following explanations: All the foods we eat belong to one of the

1. The Starches. 2. The Fats.
3. The Albumens.
4. The Salts.

The salts undergo no digestion at all, so we will not speak of them further.

The starches and the fat of the body are sometimes called fuel foods, because they supply our energy, our motive power. We burn them up in our daily life as the engine burns coal. Our fat is our reserve fuel. The starches, well digested, make us fat. The albumens are used in our body for the repair of worn-out tissue, of which a small ortion goes to waste every day. The starches, then, form the fuel for our engine, the albumens repair the wear of the machinery. With a good engine we need more fuel than repair material. Camp 27 is making active preparation for its public installation on Jan. 2. All

Indigestion can be cured without drugs by eating proper foods properly. Curing indi-gestion means getting normal fat.

You probably know what foods contain arch. If you want to get fat, these are the If you want to know which of these to eat, consult your palate. Do you like it? Does it agree with you? If not, don't eat it.

The old idea was, that to get fat, you must eat fat. Fat meat, fat oils, cod liver oil. Starchy foods will make you fatter than oily foods. You could live without oily foods altogether if you wished. Starchy foods are generally more easily digested than oily foods, hence are better for people who wish to get fat. If people are too fat they should not eat starchy foods. All doctors admit this.

Paskola is a starchy food. It's use will enable you to get fat, when all the starch and fat foods you eat do not help you. The reason for this is that it is already digested before you take it.

Modern science has discovered that starchy food is the food for thin people. Paskola is the outcome of the most modern discoveries of modern science. It is the best starch food. It is composed of the finest and most nourshing flours, artificially digested.

Paskola is pleasant to the taste. No cook ng or other preparation is necessary. contains no drugs or medicine. It has simply been digested by being treated with the sub-stances, which, in the healthy man, are used y nature to digest starch foods.

Paskola is nothing but natural food. Consumption is wasting away and losing of flesh. It is but one of the many diseases we suffer from caused by bad digestion. Bad digestion can be cured, the consum

NOTICE TO INVENTORS. THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to he appurtances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiences, does not permit the affairs of government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. CHRISTMAS IN THE ARCTIC. Hungry Explorers Celebrate With a Feast of Seal Meat and Blubber. "I think Christmas, 1883, was my most memorable one," said General Greely, the famous arctic explorer. "With my command I was proceeding southward in the hope of obtaining help, and about the 26th of October we ensconced ourselves in a lit-tle hut at Cape Sabine. Our supply of food was running very low, and we were on very short rations, every one being allowed just enough food in each 24 hours to sustain life. Under these depressing circumstances and amid the awful silence of the polar night the cheerfulness that we contrived to maintain was remarkable. As the Christmas season approached we all looked forward to it with eager anticipation, not only as a festal day whose associations and memories would to some extent vary the wearisome monotony of our lives, but because we knew that the winter solstice would fall about Dec. 22 and that then the sun would return and the long dreary night be at an end.

"Christmas day came at last. Christma in the arctic regions! At 6 o'clock we had our breakfast-thin soup made of peas, carrots, blubber and potatoes. Our Christ-mas dinner was served at 1 o'clock. Harken to our menu. First course, a stew of seal meat, onions, blubber, potatoes and bread crumbs. Second course, served one hour after the first, a stew of raisins, blubber and milk. Dessert a cup of hot chocolate. The best and most Christmaslike feature of this meal was that we were allowed a sufficient quantity of it to satisfy the pangs of hunger.

"Our enjoyment of the dessert—one cup of chocolate—we tried to prolong as much as possible. Over it we told each other Christmas stories; we exchanged reminiscences of bygone Christmases at home with the loved ones so far away. We discussed the probability of our ever reaching our own firesides again, and we entered into an agreement that if we got back to civilization before another Christmas we would pass the day together in memory of that party in this city, which will be composed awful Christmas we were then spending in of the members of the various union the realm of the relentless ice king. Alas, many of those brave fellows never lived to see another Christmas. "Then we had some singing. There were ent nationalities, too, so we had songs in then we received the only Christmas present that was vouchsafed to us that year. One of our party-Kislingbury by namehad some tobacco still left, and knowing that most of the men were destitute of it he very kindly made a cigarette for each of Turner, Seelay, St. John, N. FAMILY ROWS WERE FREQUENT.

Home Was Happy Before Liquor Took a Part.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Dec. 26. - Captain John Wilton, a spinner in Stevens' mill, murdered his wife, Emily A., Sunday afternoon. The tragedy took place at the family residence in Stevens village, threequarters of a mile from the center of the town and was the outcome of a family quarrel. No weapons figured in the affair, the victim being brutally beaten to death. For 15 years past the couple had conducted the factory boarding house of Stevens village, and Mrs. Wilton was engaged about the house in preparing the dinner when the deed was committed.

Mrs. Wilton was in the sink room when she called to her husband to aid her in cutting some meat. Wilton went into the sink room from the sitting room, but refused to comply with her request.

Knocked Her Down. Words were exchanged, and Wilton was seen to strike his wife, felling her to the floor. She arose and made tantalizing remarks to her husband. Finally she went into the dining room, and as she passed Wilton, he kicked her. Following her into the latter room the quarrel was continued.

Some five or six minutes elapsed, and then Wilton left the house, saying as he passed through the room where the boarders were that he "wasn't coming back." and bidding them goodby.

Hugh Soraghan then visited the dining oom and found Mrs. Wilton lying upon the floor with her head resting against a cupboard door.

About the room were scattered teacups and other articles which Mrs. Wilton pre-sumably had hurled at her infuriated husband.

Murderer Was Cool. After Wilton had left the house he proceeded to the corner of Osgood and Pleasant streets, a short distance away, where the electric street railway track leads to this city.

There he was seen by Samuel Stevens. Salutations were exchanged, and Mr. Stevens drove by. Upon reaching the foot of the court where the Wilton residence less, although 150,000 more acres were planted. The yield of wheat has fallen han, who informed him that Wilton and his wife had a quarrel, and that he, Soraghan, thought the latter had been killed. Mr. Stevens deemed it advisable to detain Wilton, and driving back, overtook him walking rapidly toward North Andover village. Upon being questioned Wilton denied having assaulted his wife, but finally admitted that she had thrown eacups at him and that he had struck Liquor at the Bottom of It. Captain John Wilton, the murderer, is well known in the town of North Anlover, and derived his title from having once been at the head of old Cochickewick hand tub company of North Andover. He was born in Prestbury, Eng., May 1, 1842, and came to this country in

Fifteen years ago Wilton and his wife, whom he had married in England previous to his leaving that country, and who had joined him after taking up his residence in North Andover, opened the boarding house in Stevens village For a time the couple lived happily together, until the craving for liquor secured its hold upon both, and then the trouble began. Wilton was a powerful man, good hearted and kind except when his temper was aroused. Mrs. Wilton was born in Yorkshire, Eng., and was 46 years of age. She was quite small in stature, and no match for her husband. Wilton and his wife had had no children, but an adopted daughter, Florence E., aged 18 years, was a member of the household, and at the time of the tragedy was confined to her bed by illness in an Del Hodgdon Was Then Cremated to Hide Evidence of Guilt.

EAST KINGSTON, N. H., Dec. 27 .- New Hampshire again figures in a tragedy which is one of the most appalling since the days of the Christie Warden murder at Hanover.

Joel Hodgdon, an eccentric character of the town, living alone in a rude dwelling about a mile from the center of the town, was foully murdered, robbed and his remains burned to a crisp yesterday.

The news of the affair spread like wildfire, and in a short time hundreds of people were on the scene. The body of Mr. Hodgdon was removed to the town hall, where it still remains awaiting the inquest of the coroner. That Hod lon was murdered no one questions. He was noticed late last evening at the village postoffice in company with a stranger, and that was the las seen of him alive. Both left the place together, and today nothing can be learned of the stranger who is badly wanted by the officials. He is described as being a well dressed man with a black moustache and wearing a long ulster, be-

Hodgdon was a man of means, and durkept in the house. About two weeks ago he received a registered letter in which was a considerable amount of money, and this letter was found upon his person. It was postmarked Denver. No one knows the amount of money which was in the envelope, but some of the citizens, who were personally acquainted with the old man, say that it was a large amount, as his investments in the west were large.

BARCELONA, Dec. 27 .- The anarchist Cerezuelo, who was recently arrested at Huesca, has made a confession in which he acknowledges that he himself threw the bomb in the Liceo theater. The bombs found beneath the seats in the theater were placed there by an Italian anarchist named Saldini, who is also under arrest and has likewise made a confession.

Anarchist Condina manufactured the bombs from moulds prepared by Sivepol, the printer who was arrested the other day for implication in the dynamite outrages, and who confessed that he had made these moulds The 8-year-old child whose statement

Stokes was taken to the lockup and the captured boat was made fast to the Germantown shore.

Stokes was arraigned in court this morning for assault on the officer and the case was continued until Saturday.

This morning the boat left at Germantown had disappeared and Charles L. Prescott who claimed the boat made formal demand, through his counsel, upon Officer Hunt for the boat, threatening a civil suit if it was not returned immedi ately.

The outcome is awaited with interest.

IN FAROFF RUSSIA.

The New Year Season Drings Joy to the Young-Twelve Days' Festival. In the smaller cities of Russia, New Year's day is in the "Twelve Days' Festival." The Russians in many parts have held to the old ways from time immemorial. The preparations for the season begin early in November. The host of some great home begins to lay in stores of salted beef and sausages, liquors, etc. The hostess calls on all her friends and invites young and old. Next day she is succeeded by the nurse, who makes the same rounds of visits. Her duty is to invite especially the young ladies. She is hailed with joy, and the lady of the house hastens to mix for her the cup of wine. She delivers her message and is plied with questions as to the invited and rejected. But the most important question is, "Who are the elected?" These are the young men invited by the hostess for the girls or "fair maidens," as they are called. The duty of the young man thus designated is to look after the amuse ment and pleasure of his "fair maiden" during the "twelve days." The responsibility of the choice lying with the host ess, she has to be careful in her selection.

But the invitation has again to be repeated, this time by the master of the house in the person of his servant or 'swat," who, with mace in hand, performs his mission. On entering each house he offers a prayer before the shrine cording to etiquette, the invitation is re- Allen of Braintree were among the speakers less than in November. ## PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, to gether with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the

ON A WEEK'S SPREE.

It Was Ended by the Tragic Death of Mrs. Murray.

HUSBAND IS HELD BY POLICE.

Believed to Have Struck the Blow That Caused Death.

Boston, Dec. 27.-Ellen Murray died yesterday at the city hospital from the result of injuries incurred at her home on Tremont street, Brighton.

The police say that she and her husband, Edward Murray, had been on a spree for a week, and that the husband in his drunken frenzy, Monday night, struck her on the head so severely that she was rendered insensible, and it was necessary to take her to the hospital.

She was taken there in a critical condi-tion, and her husband was arraigned yesterday in the Brighton court and held in $2000 to await the result. The result has come, and now Murray will have to answer to the charge of manslaughter, at Neighbors Expected It. Mrs. Blakely, who lives near by and who knew Mrs. Murray, told a reporter last evening that she expected something of this sort to occur shortly. "I thought he would kill her before this," she said. "They have had some lively times. For the past week the pair have been on a spree, and I always expected that they would wind up in some such way.

"He used to abuse her terribly. I have seen her come out of the house in the morning with a black eye on several oc-casions." That is the opinion all around Tremont street, Brighton, and there are many stories afloat about the whisky drank in their tenement.

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

THERE Was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and work-shop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurt-nces and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who, being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing de fici-nces, does not permit the affairs of gov-ernment to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing dis crepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skilful attorney to prepare and prosecute an appli-cation for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" ystem. Inventors who intrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. Captain Andrews tells a story of having been molested by the government troops at Brazil, and, despite his protestations and displaying of the American flag, he and a number of his men were cast into a dungeon and kept prisoners for 36 hours without food. American Consul W. T. Towne, he says, treated his complaint in a most contemptuous manner.

"I was halted by Peixoto's soldiers and held captive that night, but managed early the next morning to get to a hotel Two days later I started back for my ves sel, and on reaching there I was informed by my consignee that owing to the revo lution it would be impossible to load my vessel, and it would be necessary for m to return to Rio and cancel the charter.

The majority of them seem to utterly forget that a person who desires to do so can, if he will only apply himself to it, and take advantage of the opportunities on every hand, secure a good practical education in a few years. Such a person will be obliged to give up many social duties and amusements, but he will gain that which will repay him a hundred fold. Scarcely an evening passes when a person cannot attend some instructive lecture or talk in Boston. The Quincy public library contains enough books for any young man to secure practical information which is the basis of a good education after all.

The Young Men's Christian association is an institution which has for its definite object the betterment of young men. Its reading room is filled with interesting papers and magazines. The library is mall but well selected. A new feature of the association, however, which comes nearer the regular class-room instruction, is the practical talks on various subjects by prominent business and professional men, given on Thursday evenings.

Two very interesting talks have already een given-"Books and reading" by Mr. M. C. Ayers, editor of the Boston Advertiser, and "Banking" by Mr. R. F. Clafin. This evening Supt. One of the Candidates Practically Out of the Contest.

It is about time to hear of the appointment for the postmastership for the ensuing four years. The term of Postmaster Adams will expire in February, and he has the endorsement of a large number of the business men for reappointment, but is not ents. Single copies, 2 cents. Advertising very sanguine of success. Congressman Everett will probably take his petition to Washington.

Three prominent Democrats have been brought forward for the position, Messrs. H. A. Keith, a former principal of the bad. High school and a member of the School Committee; ex-Representative James F. Burke, the chairman of the Democratic City committee, and Mr. Fred F. Green, an active party worker.

The latest is that Mr. Keith has practically withdrawn from the field, and that he physician. will be appointed City Clerk. Mr. Burke is reported as sure of the appointment, but Mr. Green is hopeful, with good chances who are working for a living complain that Keith's friends will now rally to the support of Mr. Green. Newspaper men are taking a course of shorthand and typegetting many of the plums in these days, writing graduated last week with honors. and perhaps there will be no exception in they had enough book knowledge and want this case. Mr. Green's father held the appointment from 1854 to 1858, the office being located directly opposite its present site in the building now occupied by John O. Holden.

The custom of giving presents and particularly that of exchanging New Year's calls is essentially Chinese. The coincidence of these two rather peculiar acts of brotherly love coexisting in Holland and Scotland should furnish cause for thought. It is a little singular certainly Worth that the Chinese, who are not an overcharitable or forgiving race, should en-join the forgiveness of all debts at the beginning of the new year.

It is an amusing spectacle in China to see the creditor mercilessly hunting down Winkfield Bros. the debtor during the few days that remain. No one is exempt from the neces sity, for in order to pay his own debts he must in turn collect what is due to him. The debtor who cannot fulfill his obliga tions by New Year's goes into bankrupt cy by the operations of a custom stronger than law. It is quite customary also to bring these red paper slips to the josshouse, where for a trifling fee they are stamped with the seal of the joss. Certainly it is worth taking some trouble with a little piece of paper which is to do duty for an entire year, for as soon as the slips have been prepared and stamped they are glued to the doorposts against the time when the evil spirits shall return and make the last state of the man worse than the first. ## A PRAIRIE NEW YEAR

HOW THE COWBOYS CELEBRATE ON THE WESTERN PLAINS.

Midnight Feast-Dancing the Fandango.

A few days before New Year's preparations are begun for the big dance which inaugurates the season's festivities on the western plains. The ranch where the ball or "fandango" is to be held is literally given over to the boys for the occasion, and they never fail to make the most of it. Invitations are sent BREWER'S CORNER-Miss Bartlett's, out over the neighborhood within a radius of 20 miles, and nearly every one is accepted, for a ride of 20 miles to one accustomed to spending 10 or 12 hours a day in the saddle is a mere nothing.

Besides, this is the one opportunity of the year to spend money lavishly for the sake of a good time. An extra cook or two are hired, and supplies enough laid in to feed a small army. It is the privilege of every cowboy on the place to make out a list of eatables that he feels his constitution demands. And several days beforehand the great wagon is hitched up and a trip taken to the nearest town

In addition to the store bought delicacies for the feast, the ranch cook distinguishes himself in the way of barbecued shote, game, "possum an taters," pies and cakes and the like. For a week or two before the feast all hands lend their aid to the capturing of game and the finding and saving of eggs.

As for the fandango, the preparations are few and simple. Beds and other space consuming pieces of furniture are removed from the rooms intended for The following are the officers elected for the dance. The bare floors are sand the ensuing year for St. Francis Court No. scoured and flecked with fine shavings of sperm candles, which soon, under the many gliding feet of the dancers, form a thin, sleek coating, delightful and seductive to the feet. On two sides of the room, close up against the wall, a row of chairs is set for the accommodation of those not dancing.

By 6 o'clock in the evening the guests begin to arrive, the boys having gone after the girls, on horseback generally, some of the "tony" couples coming in buggies, the high seated "piano boxed" vehicles of the west, with their double teams and general air of smartness.

The girls have their party dresse tucked up under their black calico riding skirts, some of them bringing waists, gloves and white kid slippers, done up in And a merry hearted, merry faced set they are—cheeks glowing and eyes sparkling from the exhilaration of the ride in the wind and the expectation of the nuwented frais.

They revel in dancing. They are grace ful, natural, muscular and active. Dancing to them is horseback riding in good company, under shelter and to the tune of a fiddle. It gives free play to their untiring, restless bodies and at the same time satisfies and delights their love of women's society and good fellowship. These holiday dances last all night, their only breakfast being at 10 o'clock, when eggnog is served, and at 12, when the big supper is eater. Then, with renewed vigor and spirits, they return to the floor. The fires burn low in the great chimneys, the kerosene lamps flicker and smoke, the fiddlers doze and play on mechanically, the girls languish, and even the cowboy himself feels the force and strain of protracted, time measured motion. But the dance goes on.

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, toher with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once rised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If ers are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by ers, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the

SON-IN-LAW IS HELD FOR TRIAL.

Brief Review of the Circumstances of Her Death.

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 28.-The coroner's nquest on the death of Mrs. Walburg Meyer, at Yarmouth, was finished yesterday afternoon, and the verdict rendered was in substance as follows:

That Augustus Martis Prawda of Cumberland did feloniously, willfully, and with malice aforethought make an assault with a certain gun, loaded with gun-powder and leaden ball, which said gun Prawda, with both hands, held and aimed at Mrs. Walburg Meyer, and discharged said gun, strik-ing, penetrating and wounding her with said leaden ball on the neck and face, giving her a mortal wound, from which she languished from Nov. 28 to Dec. 17, 1893, and then died. The jury find that Prawda, by the manner and means aforesaid, killed and murdered

Mrs. Meyer. Prawda Arrested. Immediately after the jury had rendered its verdict, Deputy Sheriff Bucknam proceeded to the Grand Trunk railway, on which Prawda was employed as a section hand and arrested him. Prawda was not surprised, as he has known for some time that he was suspected of the crime. He was brought to Portland jail, and will be arraigned before Judge Gould. His counsel is George H. Allan of Portland.

Review of the Crime. The crime for which Prawda is under arrest occurred on the evening of Nov. 28 last. Mrs. Meyer lived in a lonely house, near the Comberland line, with her daughter, Mrs. Prawda, and her son-inlaw, Augustus Martis Prawda. She was sitting near her chamber window, when a gun was discharged outside, and a bullet struck her in the cheek and jaw, inflicting a wound from which the old lady died

At the time of the shooting Prawda was outside of the house, claiming that he went for a pail of water. He came in a moment after the shooting and asked his wife what the explosion was. Just then the old lady was heard moaning up stairs, and both rushed up stairs. Prawda immediately went for a doctor.

A Will In the Case.

The motive which Prawda is supposed to have had is this: Mrs. Meyer's will leaves her property, amounting to about $2000, to her three daughters, one of whom is Prawda's wife, to be divided equally. Prawda was in need of money, and is believed to have shot his mother-in-law so that he might get his wife's share of the property at once Prawda talks freely since his arrest. He says he is not guilty, and had nothing to do with the murder. He came from Germany to this country in 1886 and is about 40 years of age.

Looks Gloomy In England.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a review of the trade of the year, saying: Trade during 1893 was worse even than in 1892. A general gloom now hangs over the country's industries. The imports for 11 months declined 17,500,000 pounds sterling as compared with 1892, and exports declined 6,500,000 pounds sterling. On the other hand, American trade is steadily advancing.

FACTIONS AT

To the Great Embarrassment of the Hart Faction.

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 29.-In the United States circuit court yesterday afternoon the two factions of the New England road came in close contact, and in the deal which followed the Hart faction were cleverly side-tracked.

It was the desire of the William T. Hart faction that the hearing for the appointment of a receiver in Rhade Island should be heard before Judge Carpenter. To their surprise they found Judge Colt awaiting them, and in accordance with his right he could assume jurisdiction in Rhode Island. Application was therefore made to Judge Colt for the appointment wrapped and addressed to "The President

J. M. Ripley, local counsel for the New York and New England, said that he did chine, or what was his object, is a mysnot propose to mix in the affair, but that tery. he wished to see both sides have fair play. He had not been informed officially of anything that he should do.

The court, therefore, waited for Mr Strout, representing T. C. Platt. Mr Strout failed to put in an appearance after the arrival of the Boston train, and a telegram was received that he would reach the city at 4 o'clock. The court, therefore, took a recess until that hour.

In Hart's Behalf.

When the court resumed Judge Colt or dered Mr. Loring to proceed. The latter stated he represented Hart, Kingsbury and Fitch, the chief trustees of the seco mortgage bonds of the New England road. They had expected that a full hearing of the case would be held in Connecti cut, as with the exceptions of 13 miles that are operated in New York, a few miles in Rhode Island, and not exceeding 50 mile in Massachusetts, the property of the company was located in Connecticut whose entire length it traversed. It was proper then, he claimed, that a receiver should therefore be selected from that portion of country where the bulk of prop-

Judge Townsend of Albany, he said, had been asked to appoint Hart as re ceiver, who was trustee of the Burnell mortgage, the foreclosure of which made the New England, and who had been the president of the road. It was then found that Judge Wallace had appointed Platt, and that the matter had been continued to Jan. 10, when the question of appoint ing a final receiver should be settled. The trustees of the second mortgages, he said. did not know Mr. Platt. They are informed he is not a railroad man. He said that writs of attachment amounting to $300,000 were issued against the company in Connecticut; that writs were out in Boston, and that attempts had been made to see the bank account of the company

It was necessary that the attachments should be prevented; to further postpone the appointment of a receiver would be langerous to interests of bondholders. The Other Side of It.

Attorney Strout in answering said he had been taken wholly by surprise and felt that he could not go on at this mofelt that he could not go on at this moment. There has been a period of general to his wife and three children. depression of business and the New England had been unable to meet demands. It had been crippled by legal proceedings, one of which was the petition now pend-ing in this city, enjoining the guarantee-ing of the Providence and Springfield bonds, amounting to nearly $1,000,000. In answer to a question of Judge Colt, Mr. Strout said the bill presented to and acted upon by Judge Wallace was drawn up in good faith for and by Theodore F. Ward, a creditor for a very large amount. The bill was based upon the insolvency of the road and the peril which would fall upon the road if the contemplated attachments were made. Continuing, Mr. Strout spoke of the rivalry that had existed between the New England and the Consolidated roads for five years. The controllers of the Consolidated were very large holders of the second mortgage bonds of the New England. The New England must be guarded from the danger which was menacing it through the holding of those bonds. That the road will not suffer further embarrassment, it is necessary to secure efficient operation of the property and harmony in connection of directors. With the road properly managed and protected the interests of all mortgage and stockholders would be

How It Was Planned.

Tuesday night the officials decided upon Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C. a final effort. They gathered in consultation, and then Attorney Acosta was presother and obtaining action by the judge.

W. K. Loring, representing the Hart faction, addressed the court. Judge Colt stated that he had received notice that position of the contents of the box is not known, but that it was an explosive to participate in a fight which was to parti ent with them. WILSON BILL.

How It Affects the People of Quincy.

Great Uprising Among the People Feared.

Residents in a certain portion of the city have been agitated lately over a eport that a man known as "Wilson Bill" was lurking in that neighborhood for the purpose of robbery, and many hid their money in cellars and other out-of-the-way places. It now turns out that Quincy, Illinois, is the scene of action, and we advise all who have hidden away their money through fear of getting robbed to unearth it and

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because it requires lots of figuring, and sometimes of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to

THE FATNESS OF HEALTH.

HOW TO ATTAIN IT.

If you are getting thin you are sick, though you may not know it. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong about you which needs ooking to.

If you have always been thin, it doesn't collow that you are sick, but that you might

You might be fat and plump, and strong

You can't be strong if you're thin. Thinness isn't necessarly a sign of sickthe time he was in the Council he had done all he could for Ward Six and the whole city in the way of improvements in the fire department.

Neither were present but a committee waited upon Mr. Field and requested his presence.

Mr. Field at first declined but was in the Council he had done all he could for Ward Six and the whole city in the way of improvements in the fire department.

Councilman Sherman considered Ward Six the second best ward in the city. He had always voted yes for things asked, as he believed the Ward Councilman knew vented by healthy fatness.

vented by healthy fatness. Try, then, to be healthy and fat. It's not lifficult. If you know how, the trying is both easy and pleasant. Till a few years ago, doctors, as well as ordinary people, had a great many funny notions about the stomach; about how food was digested, and about what became of it after it was digested. No one knows any better; no one had studied right. Not till some very eminent men gave the subject their special attention, did we get any real knowledge.

Most people (and many doctors) still think that everything you take into your mouth is digested in your stomach. This is wrong. The only foods that are directly digested in the stomach are the albumens, and these, while important, are if anything, the least important of the foods we digest.

To understand how to get fat, you must All the foods we eat belong to one of the four following divisions.

1. The Starches.

The salts undergo no digestion at all, so we will not speak of them further.

The starches and the fat of the body are sometimes called fuel foods, because they supply our energy, our motive power. We burn them up in our daily life as the engine burns coal. Our fat is our reserve fuel. The burns coal. Our fat is our reserve fuel. The starches, well digested, make us fat.

The albumens are used in our body for the portion goes to waste every day.

So unless you do hard labor, you need little albumen, but always plenty of starch Thin people often have better appetites the dasher are the words, "Quincy No. 2."

The reason is generally bad digestion. Indigestion has of late years been proved to be the cause of a great proportion of all our

Indigestion can be cured without drugs by eating proper foods properly. Curing indigestion means getting normal fat.

You probably know what foods contain starch. If you want to get fat, these are the foods to eat. If you want to know which of these to eat consult your palate. Do you like it? Does it agree with you? If not, don't eat it.

The old idea was, that to get fat, you must eat fat. Fat meat, fat oils, cod liver oil.

Starchy foods will make you fatter than oily foods. You could live without oily foods altogether if you wished.

Starchy foods are generally more easily di-gested than oily foods, hence are better for people who wish to get fat. If people are too fat they should not eat starchy foods. All doctors admit this.

Paskola is a starchy food. It's use will enable you to get fat, when all the starch and fat foods you eat do not help you. The reason for this is that it is already digested before you take it.

Paskola saves your digestive organs from having to work. When it reaches the intestines it is absorbed at once. We said that getting fat consisted in eating proper food, food that would digest easily. Paskola is that food.

For a thin person the certainty of getting fat depends almost entirely upon Paskola. The train from Boston dropped is the 8.45 A. M., and these changes are made: 7.35 A. M. at 7.45, and 8 A. M. at 8.30. The Quincy trains will run as follows: The old doctors told their patients, if they suffered from dyspepsia, that drugs would cure them; that drugs would help them to get fat. Even now many of them recommend per sin and cod liver oil. Pepsin won't digest starches or fats. It only digests albumen (lean meat, white of eggs, cheese, etc.). Albumens are not fattening. If they don't agree with you, don't eat too much of them. Then you won't need pepsin.

Modern science has discovered that starchy

Paskola is pleasant to the taste. No cooking or other preparation is necessary. on the preparation is necessary. It contains no drugs or medicine. It has simply been digested by being treated with the substances, which, in the healthy man, are used by nature to digest starch foods.

At a regularly called caucus held last week, at which all but two of the thirteen would feel so different.

On the other hand the unhappy thin people—the dyspeptic, the consumptive, the nervous invalid. Why can they not all be fat? They would look so different. They would feel so different. They could be fat if they tried. They ould even be well if they tried. The way to get well would be to get fat; the way to get fat would be to take Paskola.

Paskola is for sale by all reputable druggists. Price 50 cents per packet.

MRS. LEASE OUSTED.

Removed From the Kansas State Board of Charities.

Prospect of a Lively Fight In Kansas Politics.

TOPEKA, Dec. 29.—The Populist camp was yesterday afternoon thrown into the wildest excitement by the act of Governor Lewelling in removing Mrs. Mary E. Lease from the state board of charities. of the war which Mrs. Lease was preparing to declare against the state adminisinterest of harmony and good government. There seems to be some lack of harmony in the charitable institutions of

She Wants No Democrats. Mrs. Lease, who was up to 2 o'clock head of the state board of charities, was in the city to confer with the Populist leaders about the recent election of George F. Tauber to be steward of the deaf and dumb asylum at Olathe by the votes of W. A. Householder and W. S. Waite, the Republican members of the board.

"Either he goes, or I go," said Mrs. Lease, and she stamped her foot to emphasize the assertion. This was before her removal was announced.

"It is a question of principle with me. First, I am a Populist of the middle-ofthe-road sort, and don't believe in appointing Democrats to office. Next, good Populists have been ignored, and, lastly, lam opposed to Tauber, because he was appointed to secure the beer-drinking element of the state for the People's party structed to co-operate with the reprenext year. A Surprise. The removal of Mrs. Lease was a thorough surprise. It is not believed the removal was wholly caused by the row in the board, for that has been of long standing and was open and notorious.

Mr. Waite on the other could never harmoniously work, but it was not intended to let it be Mrs. Lease until yesterday, when intelligence was brought to the governor that Mrs. Lease had not buried the hatchet. The removal means the administration has accepted Mrs. Lease's challenge to battle. The contest will be full of fire and interest.

Mrs. Lease takes her removal like a trained politician. She said to a reporter: "Yes, I have been officially informed of my decapitation. I had had a hint that it was coming.

Her Explanation. "But Governor Lewelling ought to have went to him yesterday and made a demand upon him (not a request, mind you)—a demand that at the expiration of the term that with Mr. Kennedy on the board we could run the institution in a business-like way and get rid of the political like way and get rid of the po The governor seems to like that way of Government Is Awaiting Arrival of New Ships.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The Times today publishes the following dispatch from Rio de Janeiro:

During the past week the custom house has been closed on account of the firing from Cobras island. The government forts continue pounding Fort Villegaignon. The rumor of a naval fight near Desterro is not true. The Tiradentes and Bahia are now at Montevideo. The Aquidaban and the Republica are at Desterro. General Salgado with 1000 men arrived at Desterro on Wednesday from the south.

Admiral Da Gama has withdrawn his force sfrom Governor's island; he states that the number of men he can dispose of is not sufficient to occupy such a large island, and he prefers to concentrate his forces on board the ships. From forts Cobras and Villegaignon the insurgents continue firing upon the shore front, rendering communication between the merchant shipping and the shore dangerous.

How It Looks at Rio.

The present situation is as follows: Admiral Da Gama's forces number 1200 men, and he proposes keeping the government in check by harrassing the troops on the Litteral until the arrival of the insurgents from the south, and then attack northward. If Da Gama is able to hold out until the arrival of the insurgent reenforcements he will pro bly meet with success. The present position of the insurgents at Rio de Janeiro is extremely critical. Without aid Admiral Da Gama cannot hold out. #### SUDDEN DEATH.

George Cahill, a Prominent and Well Known Citizen Passes Away.

Mr. George Cahill, our well known citizen, was stricken with heart trouble last night and now lies at the point of death, at his home on Water street.

Mr. Cahill has been sick with the grippe changed from $2000 to $1000 each. for the past two weeks, but for the past few days he has been on the mend.

Last night he attended the meeting of the City Council, and after the meeting he complained of not feeling well. A carriage was ordered and Mr. Cahill was taken nome and a physician summoned. The attending physician reports Mr. Cahill's illness of a serious character, and, we regret to state, his chances for recovery are very

Mr. Cabill was formerly in the grocery business, but in recent years has been sexton of St. Johns church, and a prominent member. He was generally respected by a large circle of acquaintances.

An Appropriate Monument.

A very unique and appropriate monument has recently been erected by Georgie Dean Spaulding in Cedar Grove cemetery, Dorchester, in memory of the deceased members of the famous family of Spaulding bell ringers. The design is a polished Quincy granite cracked beil, fashioned after the large brass bell used by the late Wm. P. Spaulding, and is about three feet high and two and one-half feet in diameter, resting on a hammered base three feet ply the family name "Spaulding" inscribed diagonally across the polished surface of the bell. It was designed and executed by McGrath Bros. of this city.

The last meeting of the Council of 1893 was held last evening, the only absent the Lincoln school, has been spending the members being Councilmen Drake and holidays at New York city.

There was but little business to be transacted and this was soon disposed of. A communication was received from the Mayor recommending that the denomination of the bonds of the appropriation of $60,000 for extension of water mains, be

The communication was laid on the table until later in the evenng.

Unfinished Business

The order appropriating $6500 for new hose house in Ward Four was taken from the table, and upon motion of Councilman Rooney was referred to the next Council. The ordinance establishing a clerk of committees at a salary of $300 came up on its final passage.

Councilman Federhen said now was the proper time to kill this bill. The main argument has been that it would relieve the members from clerical duties, yet none Cahill was a prominent citizen, a staunch of the present clerks have said they Democrat, and always active in public desired it. Business Record For '93 the Worst For Half a Century.

BIG COLLAPSE OF INDUSTRIES.

Hopes That the New Year Will Bring Some Relief.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of trade says: Starting with the largest trade ever known, mills crowded with work, and all business stimulated by high hopes, the year 1893 has proved, in sudden shrinkage of trade, in commercial disasters and depression of industries, the worst for 50 years.

That the final results of the panie of 1827 were relatively more severe, the records of that time do not clearly show. The year closes with prices of many products the lowest ever known, with millions of workers seeking in vain for work, and with charity laboring to keep back suffering and starvation in all our cities. All hope the new year may bring brighter days, but the dying year leaves only a dismal record.

Iron, Wool and Cotton. The review of different departments of trade exhibits a collapse of industry and business which is without precedent. The iron industry sustained a weekly producof 181,551 tons pig May 1, but by Oct. 1 the output had fallen to 73,895 tons, and the recovery to about 100,000 Dec. 1 still leaves

Over half the woolen manufacture is idle, and, excepting a brief recovery in November, has been ever since new wool came in May, for all sales at the three chief markets in the eight months have been but 106,795,460 pounds, partly for speculation, the price having fallen 20 per cent for fleece to the lowest point ever known, against 212,339,003 pounds in the

No Necessity For Prolonged Discussion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The indications now are that the debate on the Wilson bill in the house will be much shorter than was originally anticipated. The fact that the debate did not begin in the house before the holidays and the opinion held by Democratic leaders that there is an urgent nece sity for prompt action has led them to seriously discuss in the last day or two the advisability of limiting all debate to about two weeks.

Speaker Crisp, Representative Catchings and Mr. Montgomery yesterday talked over the question of the ext nt and character of the debate, and the consensus of opinion seemed to be that there was no necessity for prolonged discussion. They thought, considering the extensive discussion of the tariff question for the last six years, that four days ought to be sufficient for general debate and about 10 days for debate under the five-minute rule, when the bill would be open for amend-
